STATE PLEDGES PROTECTION TO END AUTO TIEUP

New Deadlock in Chrysler Dispute.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 20 [Special].—Gov. Luren D. Dickinson tonight offered state protection to the Chrysler corporation if it desires to reopen its plants, which have been closed for 46 days by a labor dispute with the C. I. O. United Automobile Workers. He also offered protection to any Chrysler employés who desire to return to work.

"We have no power," said the governor, "to compel a plant to take the men back, nor the power to compel the men to go back to work. Our labor law merely allows us to help these people mediate their troubles. It is too bad that the state does not have a labor law with enough teeth in it.

To Follow Same Policy.

"We will follow the same policy we did in Flint and Pontiac. It is this: Any industry that wants to operate will have our protection, and workmen who really want to work will be protected in trying to do so to the full extent of all the power and authority of the state.

"We first depend upon local authorities to protect workmen from intimidation, threats, and violence in preventing them from going to work. When the local authorities cannot do that we will step in with all the power at our command."

R. J. Thomas, president of the C. I. O. faction of the United Automobile Workers of America, replied to what was considered an offer to send troops into Detroit to permit reopening of Chrysler plants with a threat of "use more pressure than we have used so far."

Frankensteen Amplifies Reply.

Richard T. Frankensteen, regional director of the U. A. W., amplified Thomas' threat to use more pressure should an extensive back-to-work movement develop by adding: "No automobile plant can make cars without parts."

Frankensteen's threat was interpreted to mean that if troops were sent to Detroit to protect plants and workers the C. I. O. would tie up parts plants outside of Michigan on which the Chrysler corporation depends.

Gov. Dickinson's statement on policies adopted in Flint and Pontiac referred to automobile strikes in those cities. State police were sent to Pontiac last July when C. I. O. pickets blocked the gates of General Motors' Pontiac automobile plant and refused to let 1,100 production workers enter. The C. I. O. attempted to show its power in Pontiac at the time when the Pontiac plant was getting into production of its 1940 line.

Strikers Keep 38,000 Idle.

Twelve hundred C. I. O. strikers kept 38,000 automobile workers idle in Flint in 1937. They succeeded in doing so for so long that city officials deputized nearly 1,000 civilians to aid police in protecting employés who desired to return to work after Frank Murphy, then governor and now federal attorney general, refused to send troops. Murphy even ordered the reserve police disbanded.

The back to work movement in the Chrysler dispute was strengthened last week when Homer Martin, president of the A. F. of L. branch of the auto workers, told his members to go to the Chrysler plants where they were employed and demand their jobs.

Martin said his members did not have any dispute with the Chrysler corporation, and were ready to return to work. He also advised this move because his members, along with the C. I. O. faction, are denied unemployment compensation because their idleness is the result of a labor dispute.

Begins in Dodge Division.

The Chrysler dispute arose first in the Dodge division where C. I. O. workers started to slow down on the assembly lines. Finding it impossible to make cars under the slowdown conditions, the corporation closed first the Dodge and then all other plants, putting 38,000 men and women out of work. Parts makers, principally the Briggs Manufacturing company, were forced to follow, and an additional 8,000 men and women were thrown out of work.

At the outset of the dispute C. I. O. spokesmen adopted a belligerent attitude and made their demands in the form of an ultimatum. They de-

RUSSELL TAKES STAND IN FIGHT TO AVOID CHAIR

Builds Love Motive in Kidnap Killing.

Jack Russell.

Jack Russell took the witness stand in Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward's court yesterday as his trial for the kidnaping and murder of William Scott Hamilton neared its end. He is charged with shooting the Arkansas City, Kas., salesman to death near Ringwood, Ill., in McHenry county, on July 14.

The outlaw's defense as brought out under questioning by his attorney, Don D. Rogers, is this:

Russell has a single track mind. A prisoner, he became afraid he was losing the love of his wife, Mary. With a terrible, pounding precision he traveled back to her. Prison walls could not stop him. A man got in his way, and as an incident of his obsession, he killed the man.

Expect Jury to Get Case.

The defendant was on the witness stand for an hour, relatin, that his madness for Mary led to his escape from the Oklahoma state penitentiary on July 11 and drove him on and on. Today—the fifth day of the trial—he will testify about the kidnaping and killing of Hamilton, the case will be argued and probably will go to the jury by night.

Russell is a well built man, 39 years old, with hair that had once been red or sandy, and dark pools of eyes. He has a fair education, is normal in outward appearance, with a sense of roughness and suppressed power about him. He had been in the business world for many years, as an auto salesman, owner of a truck company, and part owner of a 30 apartment building at 6527 Kimbark avenue. He and Mary went to live there after they were married in 1936. And there he spent, he said, the happiest years of his life with Mary until after a quarrel she told police he was wanted in Oklahoma for robbery. He was taken back and sentenced to prison for 10 years in 1938.

Wife a Coy Witness.

They met again yesterday in court, when both testified. By order of the judge, Russell was handcuffed to his chair. Mary, whose words had sent him to prison and whose piquant little face had danced ever before him in his cell, waved to him and sent him a $5 bill during recess. When she left the witness stand she reached across the table, clasped her husband's hand and said: "Hello, Jack."

She was a coy and rather unwilling witness in his defense, never admitting that she had given him cause to think she would desert him. She had merely stopped writing, she said, but couldn't remember just when. She had promised to come to the prison to see him but did not, she said, because she could not afford railroad fare.

Both Mrs. Russell and two women tenants in the apartment house where she lives testified yesterday about Russell's telephone calls to her. He was night operator on the telephone switchboard in the penitentiary and enjoyed special privileges there. Mrs. Russell said her husband reversed charges on the calls, and that finally she told him to stop calling because of the expense.

Tenants Recall Calls.

Mrs. Martha Rozada, one of the tenants, said she took a call from Russell late in June. She said Russell hung up when told his wife had gone to the country. He called another time, she said, and she again told him that Mrs. Russell was out.

"'Will you tell me the truth?' she recalled he asked her. "'Has she got another lover? Is she going to divorce me?'"

"I told him, Jack, don't be foolish. Get those silly ideas out of your head.'"

After Mrs. Rozada was excused, Mrs. Hattie Tripp, another tenant, testified she took a call one June night. She recalled that after she told him Mrs. Russell was not in, he said:

"I am not going to be responsible

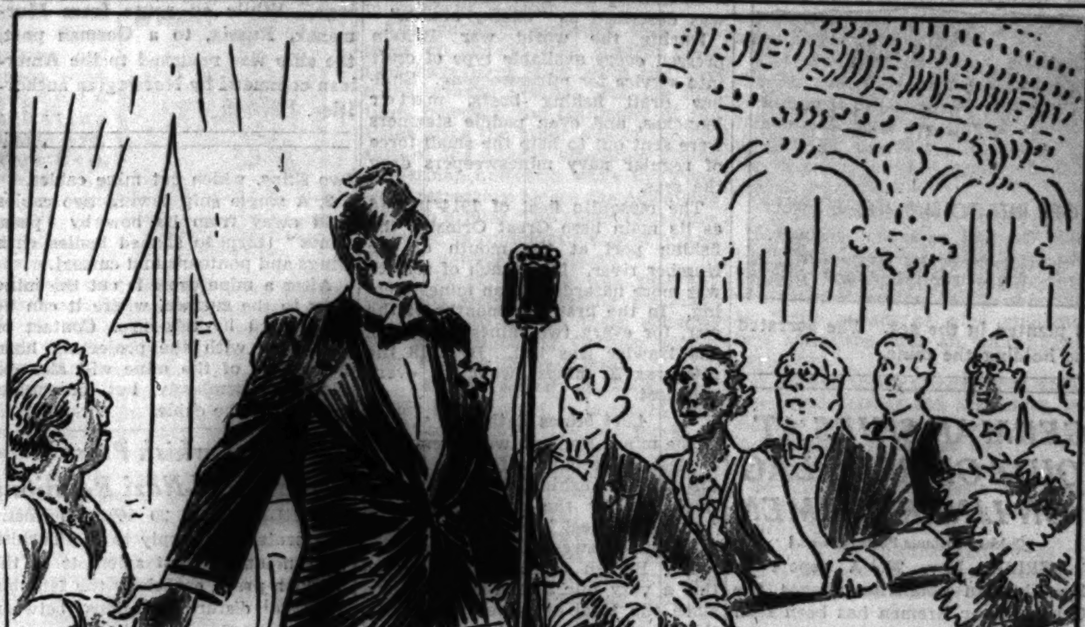
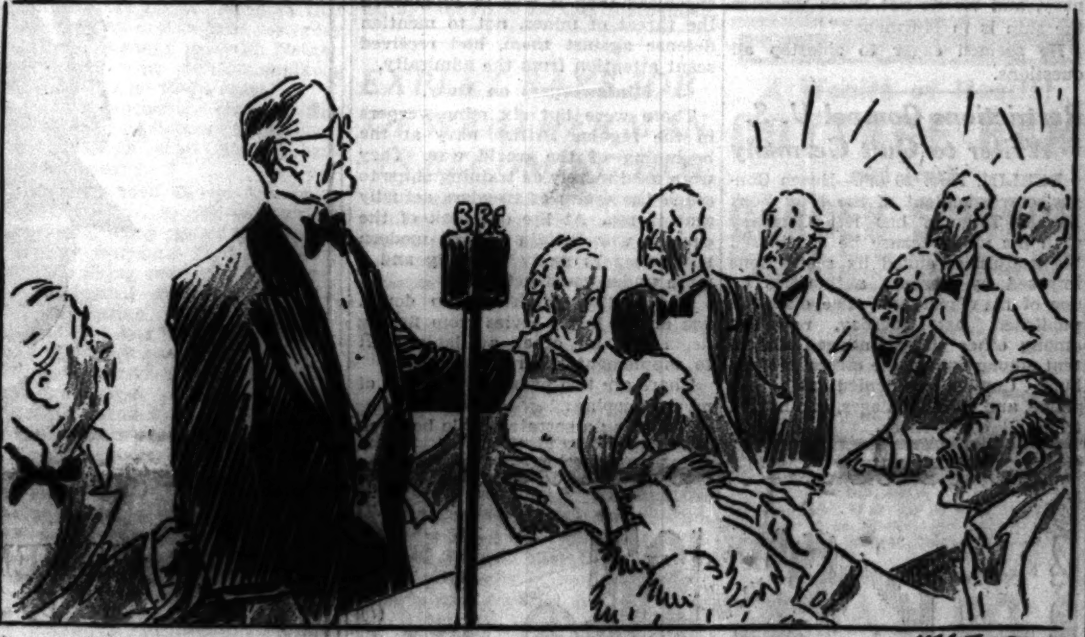
WE'VE HAD EXCHANGE PROFESSORS—WHY NOT EXCHANGE PROPAGANDISTS?



British speakers are allowed to come over here and fill us with their brand of 100 per cent British propaganda——

"Ladies and gentlemen—or may I say, fellow Anglo-Saxons! Civilization is facing its greatest test! Democracy stands at the barricades, breasts bared to defend all those nations which, like us, love peace and justice. We know your sympathies are with us and that you will cheer us on as we fight for the safety of your homes!"



Supposing American speakers from west of Long Island went over and tried to give the British some of our American brand of propaganda——

"Gentlemen—I note with interest that you always say civilization is in danger whenever you get into a war. That is not strictly accurate. As long as America keeps its senses and stays out of your European wars there will be a fair amount of civilization left—but not the kind we fought to save in the last big European war. We Americans remember that rescue very well. We remember the shocking ingratitude, the sickening disillusionments, not to mention other things, that the saving of civilization brought. We are keeping out of this war as the best way of saving our kind of civilization."

So Minnie the Poocher Flees the Doghouse

BY WILLIAM MOORE.

Three months ago a stranger called at George Mellon's country home near Mazon, in Grundy county. She was young. She was pretty. She was affable. If she had any magazines to sell, she didn't mention it.

She was indeed, something of a clam, this gorgeous little Plymouth Rock pullet, but she clucked her approval of the Mellon home. The Mellons really were forced into inviting her to remain, but they were as gracious as they could be. Having no chickens of their own, they were somewhat embarrassed at having no spare bedroom for a feathered guest. And so they all breathed sighs of relief when she vanished after dinner, as mysteriously as she had popped in.

Makes Friends with Sourpuss.

She wasn't gone, however. She had merely accepted an invitation from the Mellons' lady collie dog, Buddie, to share Buddie's kennel for the night. The Mellons were astonished when they saw Buddie and her guest appear together at breakfast time, because Buddie is an old sourpuss who fights all the time with their cat. But Buddie and the chicken were inseparable all day. They cooked up some plots against the cat and that night Buddie took the chicken into her kennel again.

Since then the dog and the chicken have played together by day and slept together by night. The Mellons have named the chicken Minnie and watched with pride as she grew into a fine hen. Minnie and Buddie have been too happy to be ill-tempered to the cat.

Hubert T. Yelton learned about the friendship last week-end. Mr. Yelton, Chicago area manager for the Inland Supply company, lives at 794 West Chicago street, Elgin. He took Mrs. Yelton and their two children down to visit their friends, the Mellons. Mrs. Yelton remained with the children when he returned.

She's Always Popping Up!

Minnie was perched on the rear bumper when he stepped from his car at home. She was half frozen and almost blown to pieces after the 65 mile ride, which Mr. Yelton said he made in little more than an hour.

He hopes Minnie just crawled up on the bumper for a nap and found herself helpless when she awakened. But down at Mazon, the Mellons reported that Buddie was disconsolate, and they're afraid Minnie ran away deliberately, after a quarrel.

BERLINERS FIND THEIR NATION IS TOO SMALL TO FEED A LION, TOO

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—Lion cubs are being offered for sale in ads in German newspapers.

A lion fad was started when Field Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering acquired two for his household. Now the owners want to sell because their pets eat too much and there are no food ration cards for them.

Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung comments: "We cannot refrain from censuring food rationing authorities who overlooked the pet item on food cards and thereby caused Germany to appear foolish in the eyes of the enemy, who will announce that Germany is at a loss so far as the lion problem is concerned."

BRITISH BOMBERS FLY TO GERMANY; DROP ONE RABBIT

LONDON, Nov. 11.—British bombers are reported to have dropped in Germany the rabbit which German bombs killed in the raid on the Shetland Islands a week ago.

The rabbit was addressed to Air Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering as chief of the German air force and master of the hunt, according to this report. The rabbit was dropped by a small parachute.

When the Germans raided the Shetlands they claimed they hit a cruiser and destroyed two seaplanes. The British said they dropped 20 bombs and killed—one rabbit.

War's Oddity: French May Get German Coke

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 20.—A French-Belgian commercial treaty is expected to be signed before the end of the week. This is a normal procedure, but the latest news of the context of the treaty is sufficiently startling to be placed beside other queer events of this unreal war.

One clause of the treaty calls for 4 million tons of Belgian coal to be exchanged for 6 million tons of French iron ore. This is given special significance by the next clause which specifies that 2,500,000 tons of coal must be "fine coke."

Germany Source of Supply.

This requirement puzzles trade experts because it is known that Belgium produces insufficient fine coke for its own use and gets the rest from Germany. Germany, profiting from the by-products obtained in processing coal, is able to produce fine coke cheaper and better than any other country.

The clauses of the French-Belgian treaty thus imply that France, despite its own laws forbidding trading with the enemy and despite the British blockade to suppress German exports, is indirectly arranging to trade with Germany.

Serves as Middleman.

Iron works of France undoubtedly need German coke, particularly because other supplies have been cut off. When Belgians begin commercial negotiations with a German mission in Brussels next week, fine coke probably will figure as one of Germany's principal exchange commodities.

Another item figuring in the trade agreement between Belgium and France is an effort to maintain the normal volume of Belgian imports from France, which amounted to 6 million tons of goods before the war. Seventy per cent of this, after being processed into manufactured goods, was exported, part of it going to Germany.

Foils Holdup of Couple; Shot Without Word

Park Policeman Harry Francois of the west park division was shot thru the heart and killed late last night when he interrupted three bandits as they were holding up a union official and his woman companion in Humboldt park at a point near North avenue and Whipple street.

The killers escaped. Two of them, including the actual slayer, fled under a hail of bullets fired by Sergt. Frederick Blank, the slain policeman's partner. He evidently did not hit them. Early today city and park police were working together to track down the desperadoes.

Shot Without Warning.

Policeman Francois, who was 37 years old and the father of two small children, was shot without warning. His death, however, saved the holdup victims from possible harm at the hands of the robbers. The trio, police said, had revealed themselves as vicious before the murder.

The holdup victims were Theodore Nelson, 50 years old, 3331 Fulton street, employment manager of the Metal Trades council, a union of technical engineers, electricians, machinists and the like, and Mrs. Ruth Tessmer, 35, who gave her address as 4255 Monticello avenue.

They had been out for a drive in an expensive sedan and had parked on what is known as the North drive, an east-west arm of Humboldt boulevard. The exact spot was about 300 feet south of North avenue and 40 or 50 feet east of a theoretical continuation of Whipple street.

Bandits Spring from Bushes.

Shortly after they stopped, three men sprang from nearby bushes in which they had been hiding. All had guns drawn. They seemed to be young. Two ran to Mrs. Tessmer's side of the car. The third went over to the opposite side, apparently to cover Nelson.

"Open the door," one of the two men shouted to Mrs. Tessmer. She opened the window instead. "I can't open the door," she protested. "It's locked." At this the other man snarled, "Kill her!" Mrs. Tessmer recoiled.

Just then Sergt. Blank and Policeman Francois pulled up in their squad car. They had been making a late night inspection of the park to rout loiterers. Driving slowly, they had noticed the parked sedan. Then they saw the three men standing about it.

Suspects It Is Holdup.

"That looks funny," commented the sergeant. "Maybe it's a holdup."

The officers drove up to a point a little to the left and to the rear of the sedan. They approached so swiftly the bandits were taken by surprise. Policeman Francois leaped out the right hand side of the squad car and seized the bandit who was standing at the rear left of the sedan.

"What are you men doing here?" he demanded. At the same time he tried to search the man. The latter's reply was a single shot. The bullet tore thru Policeman Francois' left arm and into his heart. He dropped dead where he had stood.

Two Escape Under Fire.

Sergt. Blank, meanwhile, was alighting from the driver's seat. Hearing the shot he dashed around the rear of the holdup victims' sedan, but the killer and one other man already were fleeing north thru the park. The third man dashed west.

The sergeant pursued the two who were running away together. He fired three or four shots at them. They darted across North avenue. Sergt. Blank tried to follow, but was almost run over by a passing automobile. In that split second of delay the killers disappeared thru a gasoline station and over a fence into an alley at Whipple street.

Sergt. Blank ran back to his fallen partner expecting also to find the parked sedan. To his surprise the car was gone. He called for help over the two way radio in his squad car. Other

GARMENT WORKERS' UNION ANNOUNCES AIM OF REJOINING A. F. OF L.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 [Special].—The International Ladies' Garment Workers' union, with 250,000 members, may rejoin the American Federation of Labor next Spring, if peace has not been made in the meantime between the A. F. of L. and the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

The union, headed by David Dubinsky, was a major force in the A. F. of L. for many years. It left that group to affiliate with the C. I. O. It declared its independence of the C. I. O. prior to the convention of the C. I. O. last year.

Notice of the contemplated action was served today by the executive board of the union, meeting here.

HITLER EXTENDS SEA WAR; MORE SHIPS BLOWN UP

British Vessel Sunk by Submarine.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Nov. 21, Tuesday (AP).—Officials announced that the British mine sweeping trawler Mastiff sank today after striking a German mine off the east coast. Trawlers of the Mastiff's class normally carry crews of 30. The 490 ton Mastiff was one of the newer additions to the British force of light vessels.

LONDON, Nov. 20 (AP).—The war on the seas grew increasingly destructive today with ten vessels reported sunk by mines or submarines since Saturday, leaving 133 persons dead or missing.

Enemy air activity over London became a reality when for the first time in the war a German fighting plane reached the edge of the city. It was driven off by pursuit planes and antiaircraft fire.

Another German plane, over the Orkney Islands, where the great Scapa Flow naval base is located, was repelled by antiaircraft guns, and the admiralty announced German aircraft had made an "unsuccessful bombing attack" on a British destroyer in the southern part of the North sea.

Lifeboat With 11 Missing.

The latest reported ship casualty was the British steamer Arlington Court, 4,915 tons, reported sunk by a submarine 200 miles off the Irish coast.

A lifeboat with 11 members of the crew was missing. The Netherlands vessel Algenib rescued 22 survivors who were expected to reach Cork tomorrow. The fact that the chief engineer of the Arlington Court was reported to have died in the lifeboat picked up by the Algenib indicated the sinking occurred several days ago.

[Lloyd's registry says the Arlington Court is 396 feet long and 53 feet wide and is owned by the Court line, Ltd., London. The Algenib is from Rotterdam.]

Other British vessels whose losses were disclosed today were the trawler Wigmore, the collier Torchbearer, and the freighter Penhilva.

List of Destroyed Ships.

Here is a list of the ships sunk since Saturday:

Name, nationality—	Tonnage.	Cause.	Dead or missing.	Rescued.
Simon Bolivar, Dutch	8,309	mine	85	315
Grazia, Italian	5,857	mine	5	29

B. O. Borjesson, Swedish	1,586	mine	6	13

Penhilva, British	4,258	‡	..	..
Arlington Court, Brit.	4,915	U-boat	11	23

‡—"Enemy action."

The ten sinkings meant a total loss of 36,921 tons of shipping. They sent the known loss of all nations to 136 vessels, having a gross tonnage of more than 543,228. Loss in life during the week-end, uncalculated as yet, was expected to exceed 150. At least 2,000 persons have died on the seas since the war began Sept. 3.

British Toll Is 72 Ships.

The new sinkings raised the known British toll to 72 ships, more than five times the German loss of 14.

The number of persons lost in the sinking Saturday of the liner Simon Bolivar was reduced sharply by a casualty list of 85 missing and dead issued by the agents of the steamer. Previous authoritative estimates had placed the dead and missing at 140.

The agents' casualty list comprised 40 men, 27 women, and 18 children killed and missing.

Tho the British declared that most of the sinkings were caused by German mines, Berlin authorities insisted that German mines were not responsible.

Mines Ahead of U-Boats.

The increased rate of sinkings put the mine ahead of the submarine, for the moment at least, as the leading North sea menace to merchant shipping. It still was far under the peak of merchant craft destruction in the world war, which in 1917 reached some 800,000 tons for the month of April alone.

The current menace to shipping was so grave, however, that about 1,000 passengers of three Netherlands liners were ordered to disembark at Lisbon, Portugal, rather than to travel to their northern European destinations through the mine-laden North sea.

Although Britain and Germany are striking at each other's food and supply lines, the food problem in Britain is in no way acute. Rationing of butter and bacon has been announced but the date for it will not be fixed until after a registration of consumers, to be completed Thursday.

Food ministry officials, disclosing plans for purchase of food from abroad, said little would be bought from the United States of America because the dollar-pound sterling exchange rate was disadvantageous.

The German plane which reached London's outskirts drew a steady fire from antiaircraft guns. Altho the craft dodged shellbursts from batteries along the Thames estuary as it flew over the eastern outskirts of the capital, no air raid warnings were sounded here.

Subsequently the air ministry announced that British fighters had chased the raider out to sea.

Hesitate to Fix Blame.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Nov. 20.—Altho officials of the Netherlands referred to Saturday's sinking of the liner Simon Bolivar as cowardly, they said they hesitated to accept without investigation the British charge that a German mine destroyed the vessel.

The officials declared they attached no real importance to German denials of the British charge. Pending the outcome of an official investigation, the Netherlands government has taken no step to protest either to London or to Berlin.

The British maintain that their mines automatically become harmless when their moorings are broken. However, experts here argue that the mines become harmless only when the moorings break in a certain manner, which is not always the case.

CHARGES BRITISH TRICKERY

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—While the British officially admit losses to neutral and English shipping near the English coasts and blame them on German mines, Capt. Wladeyer-Hartz, writing in tomorrow's Essener National Zeitung, asserts that "England is using neutral ships to try to break thru the blockade."

He also declares that British losses are not admitted by the English who "report loss of ships only when they occur in sight of neutral observers."

"England is not even able to provide security for ships sailing under the Union Jack or neutral flags in waters close to the British Isles," the captain added.

"Losses to neutrals close to the English coast are big. No wonder Germany seeks to hit her opponents in the trade war in this region where the lines of over sea shipping are especially close together.

Regrets Neutral Losses.

"Neutral shipping companies are suffering heaviest losses while British companies are sparing their tonnage. Germany regrets this development but is unable to change it. England is not in a position to master the war the way she expected to. Britain's naval power is on the defensive. Painfully the British admiralty tried to break thru the blockade ring of German sea forces. Since it is unable to do so alone, it uses neutral ships to break thru."

Germans are trying to compel neutrals to side with Germany openly. The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung chides neutrals who seek the protection of British convoys.

"It must be understood that the world and the naval situation changed in 25 years," it says. "In convoys neutrals occasionally expose themselves to the dangers which beset every one who seeks armed help."

Among Nazis the common phrase is: "Those who are not openly for us are against us."

HEAVY LADEN FRENCH VESSEL LEAVES N. Y.; ARMED LINER ARRIVES

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—The French liner De Grasse, armed fore and aft, arrived from Europe today just as a low riding French freighter, the Indochinois, loaded to the gunwales with cargo of undisclosed nature, was setting out for the return crossing.

The gray colored De Grasse was described by naval experts as a "raider ship" because of the presence of a forward gun—a 75 millimeter weapon. A similar gun was at her stern. Passengers said a "pompom" antiaircraft weapon of six barrels was mounted on her hurricane deck. The De Grasse, a day late because of storms, carried 161 passengers, of whom 16 were Americans.

The Indochinois, the departure of which delayed the De Grasse's docking by five hours, carried huge crates above deck in addition to whatever might have been in the holds.

Decries Use of New German War March for Dancing

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—Playing of the new march tune, "We Are Sailing Toward England," in a Braunschweig dance hall was severely criticized by Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung today as "debasement" of the music. Germany had adopted the march as the national theme song in the war against England.

GERMAN SHIES AT QUIZ ON RED FLAG ON LINER BREMEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—A report in Scandinavian countries alleges the German liner Bremen has been seen at Murmansk, Russian arctic port, painted a field gray like German warships and flying the soviet flag.

A naval officer, asked by The Tribune correspondent if the Bremen really was flying the Russian flag, replied: "The Bremen is under control of the navigation office, not of the navy, and we do not know whether the ship is in Murmansk."

He seemed eager to sidestep all questions.

Restrictions Compel U. S. Writer to Quit Germany

BERLIN, Nov. 20 (AP).—Beach Conger, correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune, has left Germany with his wife because he considered his usefulness ended by restrictions imposed by German authorities on one of his dispatches. The dispatch, published last Tuesday, reported, among other things, alleged discontent among submarine crews in Hamburg. Conger was denied cable, telephone, and mail privileges, and barred from all conferences.

MOSQUITO FLEET SAILS TO SWEEP MINES OFF SEAS

British Boats Again Begin Dangerous Task.

Great Britain's mosquito fleet has taken to sea again to combat the deadly menace of German mines laid in British waters and the Atlantic and North Sea shipping lanes. That the seas have been planted thickly with mines is attested by a toll of 8 ships sent to the bottom in this manner since Saturday. Two other vessels, both British, were sunk, one by a submarine and the other by what was described as "enemy action."

During the world war Britain pressed every available type of craft into service for minesweeping. Shallow draft fishing boats, motor launches, and even paddle steamers were sent out to help the small force of regular navy minesweepers drag the seas.

The mosquito fleet of 1914-'18 had as its main base Great Ormsby, the fishing port at the mouth of the Humber river. No branch of service was more hazardous than minesweeping. In the first two months of the war, for every two mines swept up, one trawler was lost. By 1918 the rate was 80 mines swept for every ship lost.

4,574 Mines Gathered.

The mines England was attempting to destroy accounted for the loss of 675 British fishing boats, and 434 lives, but by the end of 1918 the "mosquito fleet" had a record of 4,574 mines swept from the sea.

The British admiralty considered this a very fair record of efficiency, since the total of mines planted by the Germans in British home waters during the course of the war was around 11,000. The mines that escaped, however, sank 300 British merchant ships and 71 battleships, altho not all in the waters immediately surrounding the British Isles.

In the present war Britain's mosquito fleet evidently is much better organized than it was in 1914, when the threat of mines, not to mention defense against them, had received scant attention from the admiralty.

Minesweepers on Duty.

There were but six minesweepers in the regular British navy at the beginning of the world war. They were used merely as training ships to coach the crews of trawlers actually sent to sea. At the outbreak of the current war Britain had 40 modern minesweepers ready for duty and 4 more under construction.

The British admiralty, no doubt, has drawn heavy levies from fishing fleets and all other available craft to supplement the regular navy.

There are two principal methods of mine sweeping:

1. Towing a serrated cable between two ships, which cut mine cables.

2. A single ship towing two cables held away from its bow by "paravanes" [torpedo shaped bodies with wings and pontoons and cutter].

After a mine cable is cut the mine bobs to the surface, where it can be despatched by rifle fire. Contact of the cable with the projecting horn detonators of the mine will also explode it harmlessly, but, of course, will break the cable.

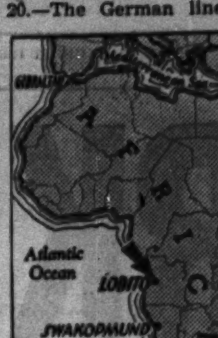
Capt. Joseph A. Gainard, master of the City of Flint, American boat seized as prize by German navy, as he appeared in Bergen, Norway, where he told of the ship's wanderings. While en route from Murmansk, Russia, to a German port, the ship was returned to the American command by Norwegian authorities.

Protests Turkish Press Mars Red-Nazi Relations

BERLIN, Nov. 20 (AP).—Germany has protested sharply to the Turkish government against attempts of the Turkish press, especially the Istanbul Tan, to disturb relations between Russia and Germany, the information service Dienst aus Deutschland said today. Ambassador Franz von Papen made the protest at Ankara, the service aid.

NAZI LINER SLIPS OUT OF PORT TO ACT AS RAIDER

SWAKOPMUND, South West Africa, Nov. 20.—The German liner Windhuk, 16,662 tons, which on Friday slipped out of Lobito, Portuguese West Africa, where it was moored since the outbreak of the European war, has begun a wartime career for which she was especially built in 1936, according to members of the German community there.



Arrow Shows Where Ship Escaped to Sea.

Recently refitted, they said the liner carried full raider armament. She is said to have a speed far in excess of that used in peacetime. It was also stated the Windhuk was altered and disguised to resemble a British ship. Moreover, it was reported an additional complement of men was picked from crews of five other German vessels which took refuge in Lobito bay at the beginning of the war.

The Adolph Woermann, 8,677 tons, which sailed with the Windhuk, was said to have been used as a decoy to assist the Windhuk escape.

RUSSIANS URGE AMERICAN YOUTH TO OPPOSE WAR

MOSCOW, Nov. 20 (AP).—The newspaper Red Star, organ of the Russian army, urged the youth of the world today to oppose continuation of the present "capitalistic war" under leadership of the communist international.

It asserted students of the United States, Britain, France, and India are strongly against war and added that while "the soviet is in a strong position, capitalism is falling into ruins."

The tenor of the article was echoed in a New York dispatch to the communist party newspaper Pravda, which said antiwar sentiment is growing in the United States. "The song, 'The Yanks Are Not Coming,' is sweeping the country," Pravda said.

The original proclamation of Thanksgiving issued by George Washington on October 3, 1789, stating, "I do recommend and assign Thursday, the 26th day of November next as a national day of thanksgiving," was lost for over a hundred years. Evidently it was misplaced when the national capital was moved. But it appeared at an auction in New York in 1921, and was bought for $300 for the Library of Congress in whose archives it is now treasured as one of the most valuable documents in the world.

Thanksgiving

As the final note of enjoyment for this greatest home day of all the year, be sure there's a generous box of Martha Washington's home-made Candies. Their tempting variety and delicious quality will be sure to please everyone. GERMANY OPENS OFFICERS' RANKS TO ALL SOLDIERS

Ex-Kaiser's Son Affirms Loyalty to Hitler.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—Every German soldier now has a chance to become an officer in Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's army.

Instructions issued today provide that "every soldier who has shown his aptitude in the front lines and proved his remarkable qualities as a leader may become an officer." He needs no special scientific preliminary training.

This is contrary to rulings laid down by Gen. Hans von Seeckt, who prepared the resurrection of the army when the German republic was in existence. But it is in keeping with Napoleon's principle that "every soldier carries a marshal's baton in his knapsack." Gen. von Seeckt worked on the principle that in modern warfare men, and especially officers, must be highly trained in order to build an army of experts.

Units to Choose Candidates.

Under the new regulations each unit at the front will choose soldiers most likely to qualify as officers. The candidates are to be sent to officers' training schools.

If they finish the course satisfactorily they will become "aspirants to commissions" and return to the front. Upon proving their ability at the front their commander will recommend them for a commission.

The new regulations also represent a great incentive for youths now in high schools to volunteer. They are to be eligible for commissions.

Royalty Backs Hitler.

For the first time since the Nazis assumed power, a member of the house of Hohenzollern, Prince August Wilhelm, fourth son of the former kaiser, today told foreign correspondents that Germans who fail to "stand behind Fuehrer Adolf Hitler are against Germany."

Prince Auwi, as he is known, was the first member of the former royal family to join the Nazi party. His presence at the propaganda ministry was to assure foreign writers that his brother, former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm, had not been executed or was confined to his home by order of the Nazis. He said his brother was in Berlin engaged in the administration of Hohenzollern properties.

A London newspaper charged that the ex-crown prince and later his son of the same name had been rounded up and executed with other monarchistic plotters as a result of the Munich beer cellar blast. The next day the London papers discovered that the son of the crown prince was in England under surveillance. He had been forced to remain in England after the war broke out because of illness.

Tells of Loyalty.

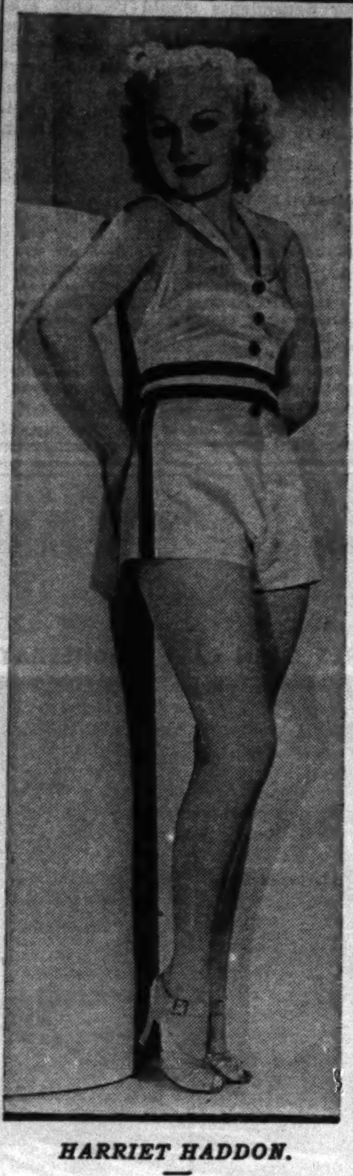
Prince Auwi, now 52 years old, tall, slim and resembling the crown prince, was introduced by a government spokesman as "Herr S. A. Obergruppen-fuehrer," which is equivalent to general in the Storm Trooper corps. The prince told how the Hohenzollerns and all the former royal houses of Germany had placed themselves at the disposal of the government when the war began. He denounced those who asserted that the princes were not in sympathy with the Nazi government.

"Of our house, 70 members are at the front," he said. "This includes my brother, Oskar, and nine grandsons of the kaiser, one of whom fell on the battlefield in Poland."

Prince Auwi revealed that immediately after the Munich explosion his father, thru the German minister at The Hague, expressed his gratitude that Hitler had escaped and that Hitler had thanked the former kaiser.

"It is incomprehensible for us how anybody should assume that we are not all united," he said. "We were as shocked by Munich as every one else." The revelation that the former kaiser and Hitler had exchanged messages was taken by some as a sign that the kaiser again is considering the possibility of leaving his exile in Doorn, Holland, to return to one of his estates in Germany. However, this could not be confirmed in Nazi or monarchistic circles.

Coogan's Next



HARRIET HADDON.

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—Blonde Harriet Haddon, who skates to swing time in a hotel night club's floor show here, was surprised but pleased by Jackie Coogan's announcement that she is his bride-to-be. "It certainly was a surprise that it came out the way it did," she said, referring to Coogan's declaration at Fort Wayne, Ind., last night. It won't be for at least 10 months, tho, because Jackie's divorce from Betty Grable doesn't become final until then. Coogan and Miss Haddon met when they were working on the same movie lot in Hollywood. He is now touring the road as the male lead in the stage production, "What a Life."

AMERICANS HAUL COAL TO FOREIGN AREA IN TIENTSIN

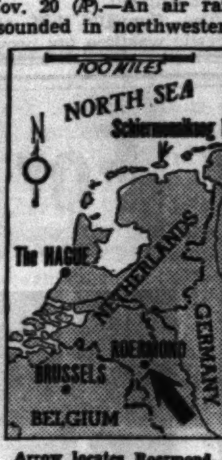
TIENTSIN, Nov. 20 (AP).—As wintry weather set in Americans presented a singular sight today as they tried to bring baskets of coal by jinrikisha and automobile into the British and French concessions, where the Japanese blockade has caused a coal shortage.

American marines, unable to obtain coal for the last 10 days, attempted to arrange for supplies to be brought by boat down the Hai river from coal yards which are piled high. The British concession will be without light, power and water within 10 days, authorities said, unless the Japanese permit supplies to enter.

GERMAN FLYERS STIR RAID ALARM DEEP IN FRANCE

Whole Northwest Section Placed on Alert.

PARIS, Nov. 20 (AP).—An air raid alarm was sounded in northwestern France at 7:05 p.m. [1:05 p.m., Chicago time]. It ended 37 minutes later. The alarm was given after the Germans had made widespread scouting flights over France, causing alert signals in widely separated areas.



Arrow locates Roermond, where Dutch shot down German flyer.

On the western front there was reduced activity, except for some artillery fire. Tonight's communique said: "Reduced activity on the front. Few patrols and some artillery fire."

Germans were reported erecting dikes along the flooded Rhine. The flood curtailed local operations on both sides of the front and small outlying defense posts were abandoned.

Dutch Down German Plane.

ROERMOND, the Netherlands, Nov. 20 (AP).—A German military plane, apparently disabled by Netherlands antiaircraft guns, crashed in a meadow near here today, killing the pilot, the only occupant.

A communique from The Hague said the aircraft flew low over Roermond, which lies close to the German frontier, with the motors shut off before attempting to land.

This was the third incident in as many days in which German aircraft flying over Netherlands territory had been fired on.

Reports from Berlin indicated that a German flyer was injured yesterday when he exchanged fire with Netherlands craft over Schiermonnikoog Island, off the northern coast.

A similar encounter occurred Saturday, when two German flying boats appeared. Both craft headed back toward Germany.

Flyer Wounded, Berlin Admits.

BERLIN, Nov. 20 (AP).—Authorized sources said today one of the crew of a German warplane fired on yesterday while flying over the Netherlands had "returned seriously wounded after the plane took a circuitous route to its home base." The Netherlands and German governments are seeking to clarify the incident, these sources declared.

Violent storms kept German troops on the western front busy yesterday removing uprooted trees, DNB, the official news agency, reported. Otherwise there were "no special events," the German high command reported.

Enemy planes penetrated German territory only in the immediate neighborhood of the border, DNB said.

12 More Killed in India in Hindu-Moslem Rioting

Nazis Sentence Polish Youth to Die for Lynching 2 Germans

POSEN, German Poland, Nov. 20.—A special court here today passed a death sentence on Henryk Pawlowski, 21 years old, a Polish youth charged with complicity in the lynching of two German nationals on Sept. 3, before German troops captured the city.

Sylvester Kuberski, 18 years old, was sentenced on the same charge to four years in prison. Six others received prison sentences ranging from six months to two years. Six others were acquitted because of lack of evidence.

The chief perpetrators, Stephan Nowicki, 40 years old, and Kasimierz Kapczynski, 19 years old, fled Posen before the Germans arrived.

First Trial in Real Court.

The case is the first of its kind to be tried before a regular court of special sessions. Many other persons have been tried by court martials and, according to the German press, "in almost every case have met their just punishment"—death.

The publicity accorded this case gives an insight into similar cases that have been tried since the Germans invaded Poland. For the first time, however, the testimony of the Poles gives the other side of the picture of the alleged wholesale killing of German nationals while the Poles were retreating before the advancing German armies. The Poles' testimony, however, is contemptuously shrugged off by newspaper reports.

The Poles' defense was that the Germans were sabotaging blackouts by failing to darken their windows and were signaling German planes from roofs with flashlights.

Orders Search on Roof.

This led Nowicki, it was said, who was "commander" in his block, to believe them to be spies. On the night of the lynching he is claimed to have seen two Germans on a roof and to have ordered the building superintendent to search for them.

The Germans claim the superintendent failed to find any one and that Nowicki was "suffering from hallucinations."

Meanwhile, it was asserted, a mob gathered in front of the house and was augmented by Polish troops. The news that German spies were signaling to the German flyers quickly spread, it is asserted, and the superintendent, on descending from the roof after failing to find any one, found himself confronted by a mob led by Nowicki. He was surrounded, beaten, and shot. Nowicki then entered the house, it was said, and shot a resident whom the Germans claimed was in bed. The chief witnesses were two German friends of the lynching victims. They said Nowicki constantly was finding fault with the air raid precautions of German nationals and that this was made the excuse for Polish officials thruout the town to mistreat Germans.

Pawlowski was said to have made a full confession.

1,200 STUDENTS DETAINED

PRAGUE, Nov. 20 (AP).—Approximately 1,200 students have been sent to concentration camps in connection with recent demonstrations which led to the execution of 12 Czechs, it was announced officially tonight.

Parents and relatives and others making inquiries or attempting intervention were advised that such steps were "purposeless."

The conflict between dissident Czechs and the German-established government of the protectorate of Bohemia-Moravia began with clashes on Oct. 28, the 21st anniversary of the founding of the former Czecho-Slovak republic.

Universities Stay Closed.

A student injured on that day died last Wednesday, precipitating anti-German demonstrations which were said to have resulted in the shooting by firing squads of nine students, two policemen and an unidentified Czech.

A survey today showed that eight Czech universities and academies, including the university and theological faculties of Prague and Bruenn, will be kept closed for three years.

Several thousand Czechs had been arrested by the Schutzstaffel [Elite guard] troops.

Student dormitories and offices of Czech schools in Prague remained occupied by the black-shirted detachments.

Prague workers, ignoring agitation for a strike to protest conditions under the rule of Nazi Germany, went to their jobs as usual today with the assurance that their complaints would receive early consideration.

Anxious to avoid further disturbances the protectorate government appealed to the workers to refrain from striking.

EXPERT SAYS JOB OF WEATHER MAN IS BECOMING HOT

Chicago's practicing and neophyte weather forecasters listened to an expert expound the basic theory of forecasting last night in Rosenwald museum at the University of Chicago. They were told that forecasting probably will be a harder job in the future than it is now.

The speaker, Dr. Jacob Bjerknes of the Geophysical institute, Bergen, Norway, is credited with discovering and formulating the theory of air mass movements which forecasters thruout the world use. His system, known as "frontology," explains the weather changes that occur when masses of cold and warm air meet.

"The United States," said Dr. Bjerknes, "leads in research in the upper air. More data are now available from the upper regions than ever before, but the acquisition of these data presents new problems in forecasting which make the prognosis more complicated than ever."

Dr. Bjerknes will deliver two more lectures tonight and tomorrow.

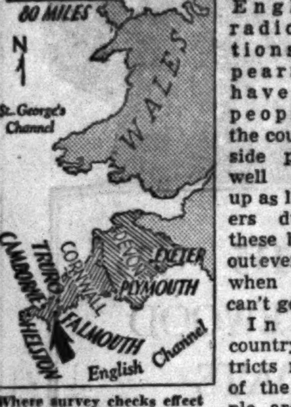
NAZI RADIO HELPS BRITONS TO WHILE AWAY BLACKOUTS

Government Keeps Hands Off; Checks Results.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

FALMOUTH, England, Nov. 20.—The war of words fought between German and English radio stations appears to have the people of the countryside pretty well lined up as listeners during these blackout evenings when they can't go out.



Where survey checks effect of Nazi radio propaganda.

In the country districts many of the people are listening to German stations broadcasting in English and authorities are showing great interest in how this affects popular opinion on the war.

It may or may not be significant that a checkup is being conducted in this part of England—Cornwall and Devon—by local newspapers. Other newspapers are asking readers to comment on what they think about the German broadcasts and those from neutral countries. The London Times and some other newspapers even print the hours and wavelengths of the Berlin broadcasts.

Britain Lets All Listen.

In Germany the people are forbidden to listen to foreign broadcasts, but no attempt has been made in England to prevent listeners from hearing what the Germans have to say in English.

Authorities declare the German news announcements have not been successful in influencing British opinion. The checkup in this region seems to show that while the Briton does not take altogether seriously what he hears from German stations, he listens to try to amplify the meager information he gets from his British station. He listens also to neutral stations, indicating he wants to know more about the war than the admirals and censors permit him to read.

Several newspapers carry blank forms and ask readers to fill these with comments on each neutral and German station and to send them in. The authorities hope thus to learn how foreign announcers are influencing opinion.

People Tell Their Views.

The survey has brought forth the following comment:

John Whiteside, clerk to Exeter magistrate—These broadcasts seem to manifest the thoroness of German organization and the low opinion the Germans have of the intelligence of the masses of this country.

The mayor of Exeter, R. Glave Saunders, said the news from German stations was so exaggerated that he didn't think it would appeal to the English people, and added, "It might not have quite that effect on neutrals."

R. H. Baker of Plymouth—No one treats the broadcasts seriously, but we all listen to them. They are pleasant diversion to our own meager home news service with constant repetitions.

C. Pengelly, Plymouth labor union official—The German broadcasts are bitter. There is a feeling that the country is bitter against England. Charges of war mongering made by Germany against this country do not lead to hope of peace.

A Mayor Finds Danger.

J. Delbridge, mayor of Truro, Cornwall—To level headed people the German broadcasts are amusing, but there are some whose morale might be undermined and who might believe some of the things broadcast from the German stations.

R. E. Gill, mayor of Falmouth—Some will believe what they hear, but the great majority will not. The German broadcasts might influence some mothers with boys at the front, but the public takes the broadcasts as amusement.

A. J. Robert, deputy mayor of Truro—I do not see any reason the people should not listen in. I do so occasionally.

The Rev. E. J. Chappell, mayor of Helston—For officials or persons who can test the accuracy of the statements, there is no harm done in listening to German transmissions in English. For the others, no.

C. L. Rosewarne, chairman of the Camborne conservative association—In my opinion it depends on who the people are that are listening in.

LOCKHEED NEARS COMPLETION OF BRITISH ORDER

The last of 250 reconnaissance bombers for the British air ministry will go off the assembly line of the Lockheed Aircraft corporation this week, the corporation announced yesterday.

Ordered June 20, 1938, the $27,000,000 fleet of bombers was built in 42 weeks, an average of six a week. The planes are of the twin motored type.

Robert E. Gross, president, announced that contracts with the United States government have been signed for an unannounced number of high speed interceptor pursuit planes. The corporation also is constructing 100 reconnaissance bombers for Australia on a $10,000,000 contract.

Construction of commercial planes has been maintained, altho there is still a substantial backlog of unfilled orders, Gross said.

NEW RED CROSS EMERGENCY AID REVISION MAPPED

Reorganization of the American Red Cross setup designed to function in Chicago in the event of a calamity proceeded last evening with the second session of the Chicago chapter disaster relief institute in Red Cross headquarters.

Maurice R. Reddy of Washington, D. C., assistant national director of disaster relief, supervised a discussion of present preparedness measures and means of diversifying them. The Red Cross is endeavoring to have each of its 3,716 chapters in the United States equipped and ready to deal with any disaster which might be visited upon a community by tornado, flood, or fire.

At the first institute session yesterday afternoon relationships between the Red Cross and local, state, and national governments were discussed.

DICTATORIAL BILL GIVES PRESIDENT RULE OF WEALTH

Confers Absolute Control Over Resources.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—The industrial mobilization plan of the war and navy departments, outlined in a previous article in this series, is set forth in legislative form by S 2160, the so-called war emergency bill introduced last April by Senator Tom Connally [D., Tex.].

The Connally bill is a revision of the old McSwain bill, which passed the house by a vote of 368 to 15 in 1935 and subsequently was reported favorably by the military affairs committee, the finance committee, and the special munitions committee of the senate. Of all the war dictatorship measures with which the next session of congress will be confronted, the Connally bill is believed to have the best chance of enactment.

Registration Required.

The bill empowers the President to require the registration of all or any class of persons engaged in the management or control of any technical, industrial, or manufacturing plant or establishment of any kind whatsoever and to designate plants and establishments deemed to be essential for the prosecution of the war.

Thereupon, the bill states, any person so registered shall be brought into the service of the government for the duration of the war and shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the war department. The secretary of war is authorized and directed to provide rules and regulations "for the government of such persons so brought into the service of the government."

Persons so registered could receive no salary, compensation, or other emolument from any source other than such compensation and allowances "as shall be fixed and paid by the President."

Powers Are Outlined.

The bill vests absolute control of the nation's resources in the President, who is given the following powers:

1. With respect to any product, foodstuff, material, real property, or right, to fix and establish just and reasonable maximum, minimum, or absolute prices, rates, or rentals at which they might be sold, rented, or otherwise contracted for, whether the transactions were with the government or between civilians "or between any other parties whatsoever."

2. To close any commodity exchange.

3. To publish rules and regulations with the force and effect of law for the government of commodity exchanges not closed.

4. To prohibit the publication or communication in any manner of prices quoted on commodities sold or formerly sold on commodity exchanges.

Plants Can Be Taken Over.

5. To requisition the physical plant and all facilities of any commodity exchange and to requisition all stores or supplies of any commodities held by any person.

6. To limit the sale of any commodity to the government, and to establish allocations, quotas, and priorities for sales to the government and others.

7. To resell any commodity purchased by the government and to establish allocations, quotas, and priorities among purchasers and users.

8. To fix and establish the order or preference to be observed by any manufacturer, producer, dealer, distributor, carrier, public utility, or other person in manufacturing, producing, filling existing or future contracts for, complying with orders or requisitions for, transporting, distributing, or delivering of any product, foodstuff, material, commodity, real estate or right.

Wide Regulatory Powers.

9. To regulate, limit, or prohibit the purchase, sale, use, transportation, manufacture, or illustration of any product, foodstuff, material, commodity, real estate or right.

10. To license the production, manufacture, sale, storage, distribution, or transportation of any product, foodstuff, material, commodity, real property, or right.

11. To requisition and take possession of any product, foodstuff, materials, commodity, real property or right, and on such terms as he may deem advisable to sell or otherwise dispose of them.

12. To requisition the physical establishment or resources of any technical, industrial, or manufacturing plant and operate it under such rules and regulations as he may deem proper.

Provides Revolving Fund.

The bill authorizes an appropriation of 500 million dollars for the creation of a revolving fund to enable the President to purchase and sell commodities.

It empowers the President to close any or all exchanges where securities are sold. It would create a finance control commission, which would supersede the Securities and Exchange commission in the regulation of securities transactions. The commission would have a 500 million dollar revolving fund from which to make loans and advances to increase the plant, usefulness, or efficiency of any establishment.

The Connally bill also contains drastic wartime tax provisions. Personal exemptions would be decreased to $1,600 for a married man and $800 for a single person, while the credit for dependents would be only $250 each. The normal individual income tax would be increased to 10 per cent and graduated surtaxes would start at $1,000. From $1,000 to $2,000 the surtax would be 6 per cent, in addition to the normal tax of 10 per cent.

Graduation of Surtax.

The surtax would be graduated upward as follows:

$ 2,000 to $ 3,000	9 per cent
3,000 to 4,000	12 per cent
4,000 to 6,000	15 per cent
6,000 to 8,000	18 per cent
8,000 to 10,000	21 per cent
10,000 to 14,000	25 per cent
14,000 to 18,000	30 per cent
18,000 to 24,000	40 per cent
24,000 to 30,000	50 per cent
30,000 to 40,000	60 per cent
40,000 to 50,000	70 per cent
50,000 up	80 per cent

The surtax on a net income of $50,000 would be $21,950, which, with the normal tax of $5,000, would leave $23,050.

In order to force corporations to distribute their earnings in dividends and subject their stockholders to the individual income and surtax rates, the Connally bill levies a graduated tax on undistributed corporation profits.

This tax ranges from a minimum of 6 per cent of the adjusted net income if as much as 1 per cent is not distributed to a maximum of 77 per cent if 23 per cent is retained from the stockholders.

EX-KAISER NARROWLY ESCAPES INJURY IN A WINDSTORM AT DOORN

DOORN, the Netherlands, Nov. 20 (AP).—Former Kaiser Wilhelm II. of Germany had a narrow escape today when a sudden windstorm uprooted three large trees in the garden of Doorn castle.

The 80 year old former kaiser, walking with an official of his court, was only 50 yards from where the trees fell, having just passed the spot. He returned to the castle in a highly nervous state.

The storm caused damage to small Netherlands shipping yesterday. Seven seamen lost their lives.

The former kaiser sent a message of condolence to Queen Wilhelmina over the sinking of the Netherlands liner Simon Bolivar Saturday off the British coast.

STEWARD DIES ABOARD BOAT.

William Server, 47 years old, of Cleveland, O., a steward of the Thomas Lamont, an ore boat, died yesterday of a heart attack aboard the boat docked at 89th street.

EXPRESS, PARCEL POST LIMP BADLY IN CHICAGO REGION

Nation-Wide Survey Bares Figures on 2 Services.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

Within a given hour on a recent business day 38 identical packages left the office of THE TRIBUNE, bound for staff men and correspondents in 19 cities from coast to coast. To each man went two packages, one by United States parcel post and one by Railway Express.

The purpose was a national survey, covering the speed, effectiveness, and convenience of the two services. It grew out of a number of complaints against the parcel post which were received after THE TRIBUNE'S study of the United States mail service was completed and published several months ago.

Express Faster in 18 Tests.

When it is considered that the express company cannot compare in size with the ponderous postal service, the present findings, which are announced today, are striking. Express was faster in 18 of the 35 tests completed.

One of the high points of the survey was its reflection of amazingly slow movement by both parcel post and express in areas close to Chicago. In many cases transmission by both services to farther points was excellent. However, express required 43 hours 15 minutes—nearly two days —to reach Bloomington, Ill., and at that it beat parcel post by 2 hours 43 minutes.

Express got to Waukegan in 15 hours 45 minutes and beat the mail by more than 2 hours 32 minutes. Parcel post to Grand Rapids arrived in 18 hours 28 minutes and was ahead of express by more than 21 hours!

Hour Totals Favor Mail.

The total hours shown as saved favored parcel post, but the express company had picked up its consignment at the door of Tribune Tower while the other parcels were, of necessity, sent to the postoffice.

And tho in this survey the amount paid to transmit the express was somewhat higher, it automatically insured the packages for $50 each. To have insured five pound parcel post boxes for the same amount would have boosted the postage to more than the express rate.

Dummy parcels, measuring 9¼ x 8⅝ x 3½ inches, were used in the survey. They were prepared from heavy corrugated board boxes which were filled with compressed paper. THE TRIBUNE'S address was placed on the first wrapper of tough, brown paper. The packages then were rewrapped and addressed to the correspondents. When they reached their destinations in the 19 cities the arrival times were recorded. The outer wrappings then were removed and the parcels redispatched to this office, their arrival times being noted. All this data eventually was compiled and analyzed.

Tables Show Full Record.

The tables that follow list each city involved, the service making the best showing, the elapsed transmission time, and the margin by which the losing service was bested. By adding the elapsed time of the winning service to its margin of victory, the elapsed time of the losing service may be computed. The first table is concerned with the outgoing parcels:

San Francisco, express	90h 40m	4h 27m
Seattle, parcel post	80h 43m	12h 7m

Abbreviations: h—hour; m—minute.

In computing the elapsed times, it was taken into consideration that the cities are scattered thru the nation's four time zones, and the proper adjustments were made.

The first table gives express 10 victories to the postoffice's 9, but the margins shown by the latter are larger in many cases.

Return Trips Charted.

The next table records the time of parcels on the return trips. Some, which won the outbound race, lost on the second and last leg of their journeys. A few of the cities mentioned in the first table are not listed in the second because some of the tests were uncompleted or were indecisive.

TO CHICAGO.
[Postal zones 1 and 2.]

From— Best Showing.	Elapsed Time.	Arrived First By.

[Postal zone 7.]
Spokane, express	90h 30m	30m
[Postal zone 8.]
Seattle, parcel post	83h 25m	2h 50m

It will be seen that the two services scored an even number of firsts. The margins of victory were small, with three notable exceptions: the express from Memphis and Albuquerque and the parcel post from Bloomington. In the last instance the margin is amazing, considering Bloomington's proximity to Chicago.

Different Rate Basis Used.

Having compared the speed of the two services over a comprehensive area, it would seem well to compare their costs and other features. They establish their rates by different systems.

The postoffice divides the nation loosely into eight circular zones from Chicago. The first circle includes zones 1 and 2. The farther away the zone, the higher the cost. In zones 1 and 2 the charge is 8 cents for the first pound, 2 cents for the second, and a cent a pound thereafter until the weight limit of 70 pounds is reached. In the eighth zone the rate for the first pound is 15 cents.

The express company's rate basis is much more accurate and specific, having been fixed by the Interstate Commerce commission in 1914. The nation is divided into more than 2,000 blocks, 50 miles square. Each of these is subdivided into 16 squares, and each block and sub-block is a factor in determining the rate. The sender pays only for the distance his parcel travels.

How the Rates Compare.

Four comparisons of the parcel post and express rates follow.

The postoffice charges 13 cents to send a 5 pound uninsured package to Waukegan and deliver it. The express company picks up the package, insures it automatically for $50 and delivers it in Waukegan for 25 cents. The cost of insuring the parcel post is 15 cents, bringing the total to 28 cents—3 cents more than express charges.

Express to St. Louis is 30 cents; parcel post uninsured 17 cents; insured, 32 cents.

Express to New York is 45 cents; parcel post uninsured, 33 cents; insured, 48 cents.

Express to San Francisco is 65 cents; parcel post uninsured, 59 cents; insured, 74 cents.

Postal Restrictions Set Up.

Besides setting a limit of 70 pounds on packages, the postoffice puts many restrictions upon what may be sent. Try, for example, to send a Royal Bengal tiger by parcel post. The express company will accept it. It has even expressed elephants.

Liquor, explosives, and corrosive acids are barred by the postoffice. The express company must observe rigid regulations of the federal bureau of explosives when carrying the last two aboard passenger trains, but it carries them. It will carry anything, regardless of its nature, if it will fit into an express car.

Further, if notified of an emergency, the company will make special deliveries without extra cost. From a home, it will pick up a package of doubtful weight, send it prepaid, and collect the proper amount of money later. These things are possible because it is a smaller and more flexible organization than the parcel post service.

They will reside in Chicago, where Danley is an engineer in his family's machinery concern.

BIGGEST CAMERA GUN IS ADDED TO TRIBUNE BATTERY

THE TRIBUNE has just acquired a new long-range camera that is one of the largest built for out-door use.

The new machine, which can make a football play at the other end of the field appear only 10 yards away, is known among photographers as a big bertha—named after the famous German long-range gun of the world war. The camera is custom built and weighs nearly 50 pounds.

Lever for Fast Focusing.

It takes a negative 5 by 7 inches, and employs a Graflex focal plane shutter and focusing mechanism. On this is mounted a steel tube three feet long to hold the lens. This tube takes the place of a bellows. A lever resembling a gear shift facilitates rapid focusing, important in making fast sports pictures. The camera is mounted on a heavy motion picture tripod, from which it can be aimed like a gun to cover a large field from a convenient point.

The lens of the new machine was made by J. H. Dallmeyer of London, and is 40 inches in focal length, with a maximum opening of f:8. The f. or maximum opening of a lens is found by dividing the focal length by the lens diameter. For example, this lens with a focal length of 40 inches, is 5 inches in diameter, therefore has an f. rating of 8. The f. is a measure of the lens speed, and the smaller the number the greater the speed of the lens.

Compare Various Cameras.

A graphic comparison between pictures taken with this camera and other Tribune cameras of various sizes is presented on the back page of this issue. All five pictures were taken from the same spot, and of the same subject. The pictures differ because they were taken with cameras having lenses of different focal lengths. The longer the focal length a lens has, the more it will magnify the image which it focuses on the film.

A table of comparison of the cameras which took the pictures follows:

Pic. No.	Kind of cameras—	Focal length of lens.	Maximum opening of lens.	Relative size of image.
1	Speed Graphic with Carl Zeiss lens.	5½ in.	f:4.5	1.
2	Graflex with Dallmeyer Pentac lens.	10 in.	f:2.9	1.85
3	Graflex with Dallmeyer lens.	20 in.	f:4.5	3.7
4	Graflex with Carl Zeiss lens.	28 in.	f:4.5	4.9
5	Graflex with Dallmeyer lens.	40 in.	f:8	7.5

A study of these figures will show why THE TRIBUNE invested $1,000 in its new camera while it already owned a big bertha camera with a 28 inch lens.

MISS RAND DENIES GIRL TROUPE RAN OFF WITH FANS

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 20 (AP).—Sally Rand, of fan and bubble dance fame, made a personal appearance before a standing-room-only audience in Bankruptcy court today, and said she really couldn't explain very much about her tangled finances. It was all too complicated. According to documents on file her estate consists of $8,067 in some very doubtful assets. The debts amount to $64,631.

Indignantly she denied a published story that the reason the receiver didn't find anything of value when he visited Sally's concessions at the Golden Gate exposition was that her troupe of girls smuggled everything out under their clothes.

The account said the girls carried out Sally's four fans, worth $250 apiece, and 30 balloons, worth $365 each.

She had to mortgage her car for $600 to pay a $500 hotel bill for her penthouse so she could get out of town, she said. The hearing was continued to Dec. 20.

Communist Party Raises $100,000 to Aid Browder

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—Elizabeth Gurley Flynn said the communist party has raised $100,000 to defend Earl Browder, party general secretary, as he pleaded innocent today to a second indictment charging him with passport irregularities. Miss Flynn as secretary of the "Browder defense committee."

WILL COUNTY'S EX-TREASURERS WIN ACQUITTALS

Directed Verdict Given in Joneses' Forgery Trial.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 20 [Special].—Ben D. Jones and his nephew, Herbert R. Jones, former treasurers of Will county, were acquitted of forgery here today on a directed verdict. After four state witnesses had been heard, defense counsel asked for acquittal and Circuit Judge Casper Platt granted the motion, telling the jury that the state had not made a case. Herbert Jones also was acquitted of a perjury charge on a directed verdict.

The forgery charges against the Joneses grew out of an apparent shortage of $600,000 in Will county funds as disclosed by an audit in 1936. Because the Illinois statute of limitations had run against embezzlement and larceny charges, the Joneses were indicted on forgery charges on which there is no statutory limitation in Illinois.

Ben Jones was treasurer of Will county from 1918 to 1922. Herbert was treasurer from 1930 to 1934 and had been a deputy in two intervening administrations from 1923 to 1930.

Sued for Accounting.

Sued for an accounting in 1938, Herbert Jones said his uncle, former president of the liquidated Manhattan State bank, had taken $123,000 of county funds and placed a worthless passbook on his bank in the county records to represent the shortage. He said his uncle and his dead father, Frank R. Jones, took an additional $40,000 which had been on deposit in the Manhattan bank prior to 1933, to cover losses of the Jones Grain company which they operated in Chicago.

Young Jones accounted for $221,000 more as being in closed Will county banks and said this money eventually would be returned to the county. He said $80,000 was transferred from one fund to another and left unaccounted for $163,000.

The Manhattan State bank was liquidated in 1933 and all depositors except Will county were paid. Herbert Jones said he knew the passbook showing the $123,000 deposit was worthless and he destroyed it. The forgery charges were based on issuance of the passbook, and Judge Platt held today the state had not proved that either of the Joneses issued the book.

First Indictments Quashed.

The Joneses were indicted last March by a grand jury called by Circuit Judge Edwin L. Wilson in Joliet. When the case was called for trial in July, Circuit Judge George W. Bristow of Paris, sitting in Joliet, quashed the indictment.

Judge Bristow held that the indictments were void because the grand jury was hand-picked by Judge Wilson and agreed with defense attorneys that Wilson had summoned the jury to further his unsuccessful campaign for reëlection last June.

Two weeks after the first indictments were quashed the regular Will county grand jury indicted the Joneses again. Their trial was venued to Vermilion county.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

FROM THE ALPS TO YOU . . .

By CALEB

HIGH in the lap of the Alps nestles a little republic—the world's oldest. Scenic beyond the interpretation of pen or brush, its tiny, mountain-ringed cantons in summer become the tryst of comers from every country. During the "season," an entire citizenry is busy with errands of guide and host; but at length the days grow scant, the sunlight thins, wild winter wraps the peaks, and then—

And then it is, with storm-winds howling over passes brimmed deep with snow . . . each snug in his cozy cottage by white window and red fire . . . the peasants resume an ancient and famous art they have practiced from time immemorial: wood-carving.

In the ensuing months, hamlets and lonely farms become hives of quiet creativeness. Under the patient skill of fingers that love the feel of what they fashion, come to life innumerable miniature embodiments of the Swiss countryfolk—wrought from tiny blocks of wood with a realism worthy of a Rodin.

Connoisseurs have used that very expression, in passing judgment on these colorful counterparts of shepherds and milkmaids, hunters with their Alpine horns, old women trudging to market, musicians in the town square, village priests at their devotions—all the appealing types with whose friendly originals the woodcarver has spent all of his hidden but happy life. . . .

At luncheon one of our foreign buyers told me the tale—too long for retelling here—of how she finds her way by train and boat, funicular, motor, horse-and-buggy, and finally across some avalanche on foot, to these Swiss villages—and in a nearby hotel inspects the specimens brought to her by the carvers' spokesman, who has gathered them from far and near. Having ascertained the group she wants, she issues her order, and these mountain artisans immediately employ themselves in its unhurried execution.

Unhurried execution—plus many generations' inheritance of a genius for sculpture—is the answer. Each carver prepares his own vivid vegetable stains; and to vigorous coloring adds dexterity that endows every subject with a breathing realism. Priest, skier, musician, crone—emerge so "alive" you expect them to speak at any moment.

Seen on our third floor, these unforgettable figures have attracted ardent admirers daily. Far though they have wandered from their Alpine haunts, they bring to their possessors delightful memories of pastoral Switzerland, its peace and its picturesque people, scarcely to be gained in any other way.

7,000 EMPLOYES OF ARMOUR VOTE ON UNION TODAY

Both A. F. of L. and CIO See Packing Plant Victory.

Voting by 7,000 Armour & Co. employés today on their choice of a union—or no union—will be attended by more formal trappings than a presidential election. The employés have three choices: [1] Join the Packinghouse Workers Organization committee, affiliated with the Congress of Industrial Organizations; [2] join the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, which is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor; or [3] join no union.

Two polling places will be open from 6 a. m. until 7 p. m. Each union will have nine tellers in each polling place, a total of 36.

On hand for the National Labor Relations board will be G. L. Patterson, regional director; Russ Miller, special examiner from Washington; I. F. Dorfman, assistant to Patterson; ten other regular board employés, and a dozen special employés hired for the occasion.

Establish Neutral Zone.

A neutral zone is to be established around both polling places. Electioneering inside this zone will be forbidden. Large posters listing the rules of the election, defining those eligible to vote, and showing a sample ballot were issued by the federal board yesterday.

Only employés who were on the payrolls on Oct. 28 in the production and maintenance departments will be permitted to vote.

Each union said last night it is confident of victory. There was no spokesman for the "no union" place on the ballot, altho observers believed many would vote against a tieup with any union.

John L. Lewis' C. I. O. began its drive for control of the packing industry about two years ago. In plants where the C. I. O. caught hold, as in the Armour & Co. Chicago stockyards plant, there have been work stoppages and strikes.

Members of the C. I. O. union halted work for an hour in the Armour plant Aug. 24 in what they called a protest against an alleged speedup of production. The company denied any speedup had been attempted or planned.

Strike Powers Voted.

Power to call a strike was given to leaders of the P. W. O. C. at the Armour plant last July. Several times since then strike threats have been made as the union strove to get exclusive bargaining rights for all employés.

A year ago the C. I. O. union won a labor board election, with 2,840 out of 6,000 possible votes. The company protested that the results of this election were not truly representative, since the C. I. O. had less than a majority of employés eligible to vote.

The A. F. of L. union meanwhile became more active. Several months ago it demanded that the present election be held on the ground that an incorrect pay roll list was used in the 1938 election. Last month the labor board in Washington ordered a new election.

A furious battle developed between the rival unions as the election neared. The A. F. of L. group charged that the P. W. O. C. is dominated by communists. The P. W. O. C. denied it. The Red angle is now being investigated by the Dies committee.

Red Charges Told to Dies.

Alphonso Malachi, former president of the Armour local of the P. W. O. C., testified last week that the constitution of the union had been written at communist headquarters.

Handbills reproducing a letter purported to have been sent to Lewis by Van A. Bittner, national P. W. O. C. chairman, have been distributed by the Amalgamated Meat Cutters. The letter contains charges that two P. W. O. C. officials, Herbert March and Henry Johnson, are communists and forecasts defeat of the C. I. O. in the election.

"The letter is a fabrication," Bittner said yesterday, "I never wrote it."

March, district director of the C. I. O. union, and Johnson, an assistant national director, both told Dies they were not communists.

They retaliated by accusing the Amalgamated leaders of hoodlum tactics. March was wounded by gunmen in July. Congressman Dies thereupon issued subpenas for Thomas Devero, John Saltis, and George Dasho, Amalgamated officials. The Dies committee is expected to question them today.

Makes Peace

Gov. Lloyd Stark of Missouri, who took two of Shirley Temple's pencils while visiting her studio, and his daughters, Katherine (left) and Molly.

Shirley Temple, who complained that pencils had been stolen.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 20 (AP).—Gov. Lloyd C. Stark finally has made it up with Shirley Temple about those two pencils he took from her studio quarters last July.

Stark said he asked a film official for the pencils for his two small daughters—Molly, 6 years old, and Katherine, 4—When he visited the screen starlet's studio.

But Shirley didn't know about that and promptly reported their disappearance as a theft.

So the Missouri governor sent her a letter of explanation, along with two pencils from his executive office. Today he exhibited a reply, in Shirley's own writing, thanking him for the pencils.

A WISE BUTLER FAILS TO KNOW LADY IN BATHTUB

Numerous readers of Dr. George W. Crane's "Horse Sense" test have written to THE TRIBUNE confessing that they do not follow Dr. Crane's reasoning in the case of the butler who surprised the lady of the house in the bathtub. The problem was posed in last Friday's editions. Dr. Crane submitted three possible statements the butler might have made to cover his faux pas. The correct one, he said, was for the butler to say, "O, excuse me, sir."

Dr. Crane explained that this is a gag mellowed by long usage in vaudeville, yet is psychologically sound. He said:

"For the butler to say, 'O, excuse me, sir,' is obvious evidence of tact in trying to cover up the discomfiture of the individual caught under such embarrassing circumstances by refusing recognition of the sex in point. Any good butler or applied psychologist would say just what the butler did."

All butlers will please bear this in mind; also, all "Horse Sense" readers.

FOREIGN AGENTS INFEST DETROIT, DIES DECLARES

Full Committee Will Hold Quiz There, He Says.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 20 [Special].—After a day of inquiring into ramifications of Nazi and communist efforts in industry in this city, Representative Martin Dies [D., Tex.], chairman of the congressional committee investigating un-American activities, declared today a session of the full committee in Detroit is warranted by the extent of foreign agents' subversive activities here.

The full committee will be brought to the city for a sweeping investigation, Dies declared, if arrangements can be made. He said he desired a public hearing to extend 10 days to two weeks in order to get on the record all the testimony.

Expects to Return Dec. 1.

Representative Dies was uncertain as to a date for the projected session, but said it would not take place before Dec. 1. On that date he expects to return here for further questioning of informants and prospective witnesses.

Dies spent the day here in private conferences with people anxious to give him evidence of rampant subversive activities. At the end of the day, he estimated that about 3,500 persons in Detroit hold membership in organizations controled by foreign governments. These persons, he asserted, do the bidding of their governments in matters of sabotage and espionage.

Secrets Stolen, He Asserts.

Military secrets stolen in Detroit already are now across the ocean, Dies declared. The Hitler-Stalin "friendship," he said, has helped his committee, because communists and Nazis in the United States have had their faith shaken in their former loyalties and have come forward with information.

The congressman said investigation here is subject to unusual difficulties because of disputes within labor unions. Partisans are likely to accuse their opponents of subversive leanings and investigators must be careful that they are not misled by such testimony, he said.

Representative Dies left Detroit this evening to fill a speaking engagement at Lansing. He expected to be in Chicago tomorrow.

MENDOTA WOMAN DIES AT 82.

Belvidere, Ill., Nov. 20 [Special].—Mrs. Alice Warrick, 82 years old, most of whose life was spent in Mendota, died here yesterday at the home of her son, Dayton, with whom she had lived for 19 years. Funeral services will be held here tomorrow, with burial in Mendota.

MAYOR WILL ASK PROBE OF C. I. O. RELIEF CHARGES

Mayor Kelly said last night that he will ask Leo M. Lyons, Chicago relief administrator, to investigate charges that the growth of C. I. O. unionism among relief workers has interfered with relief administration. Charges have been made that C. I. O. union organizers have bragged of slowing relief work in district offices.

The C. I. O. union is known as the State, County, and Municipal Workers of America, local 30. Organizers claim a national membership of 55,000, with 800 of the 2,300 Chicago relief office workers in their fold. The majority of the Chicago relief members are professional social workers.

Lyons said relief administration officials have no control over union organization except when union activity interferes with relief work. "Then it is our duty to put a stop to it in the relief organization," he said.

William Spahm, regional representative of the union, denied that relief workers are coerced to join the union. He said the union is a voluntary organization. Spahm admitted that the union collaborates with the Workers' alliance [an organization of reliefers] but said it also works with other organizations "dedicated to a humanitarian welfare program."

KUHN LARCENY CASE UNPROVED, JUDGE ASSERTS

State Promises to Bring In More Evidence.

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—A declaration that the prosecution had failed to show beyond reasonable doubt that Fritz Kuhn had stolen money from his German-American bund was made from the bench today by Judge James G. Wallace in the bund fuehrer's larceny trial. Assistant District Attorney Herman McCarthy answered immediately that the state would reopen its case.

Judge J. G. Wallace.

Judge Wallace's statement came at the end of today's court session. The judge told the young prosecutor:

"You haven't proved everything beyond a reasonable doubt. Merely because he [Kuhn] didn't deposit all of this money [collected by the bund] does not prove that he stole it. You must prove it was done with intent to defraud, and if any of the money was spent for legitimate bund purposes, that expenditure does not constitute larceny."

Promises More Evidence.

McCarthy hurriedly answered that, altho the prosecution had rested last week, it would offer what he termed indisputable evidence before the case was ended.

Judge Wallace's remarks followed defense testimony which contradicted earlier state testimony intended to show that among Kuhn's alleged peculations was the misappropriation of $500 intended to have been paid to James D. C. Murray, a private attorney, for legal services.

William Luedtke of Lodi, N. J., treasurer of the German-American Business league, a bund affiliate, swore that on July 8, 1938, Kuhn gave him $500 in cash. He said he had paid the money over to Daniel Kirschman, Murray's assistant, obtaining a receipt which he said he gave to Kuhn.

The judge himself took over the examination of the last witness of the day, Benjamin Blattner, an accountant for District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey's office.

Blattner was questioned in detail as to how he arrived at his conclusion that there was a shortage of $8,510 in proceeds from the bund's Washington birthday rally last February.

After exhibiting impatience at the accountant's answers, Judge Wallace finally announced: "I'll instruct the jury right now that there is no proof at this time that the defendant stole any money as a result of the Madison Square Garden affair [the rally]."

Proves He's Not a Jew.

Following this episode, the state introduced testimony to show that Milton Schilback, another assistant district attorney, was not a Jew. Defense Attorney Peter L. F. Sabbatino then made an unsuccessful plea for a mistrial. He cried out angrily to the judge: "No one accused him of being a Jew."

Defendant Kuhn's wife, clad in black, appeared in court today and declared she would stand by her husband. In an interview with reporters she was asked about the series of telegrams bearing "love and kisses" and sent by Kuhn to Mrs. Florence Camp. These were paid for out of bund funds and read to the jury. "They make no difference to me," said the bund leader's wife.

250 Diamond Craftsmen Go on Strike in New York

New York, Nov. 20 [Special].—Two hundred and fifty workers in the diamond industry—cutters, polishers, and sawers—members of the Diamond Workers Protective Union of America [A. 1940 FARM VOTE LOOMS LARGE IN PRESIDENT RACE

New Deal's Trade Pacts Under Fire.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—With midwestern farmers manifesting dissatisfaction with the New Deal, the farm legislative programs to be offered by the two major parties are beginning to loom large in the issues of the 1940 presidential election.

Mr. Roosevelt captured the farm vote with his promises in 1932 and retained it in 1936 but the 1938 elections disclosed that the agricultural vote was swinging back to its traditional Republican fealty. Both parties will do some tall bidding for its support next year.

Three G. O. P. Groups at Work.

Three groups of Republicans are already at work on the formulation of a farm program. Senator Charles L. McNary [R., Ore.], minority leader of the senate, is holding conferences with agricultural leaders on farm program proposals to be submitted to the platform committee of the Republican national convention.

McNary was co-author of the McNary-Haugen bill, the first farm relief measure, which was vetoed by President Coolidge. Many politicians contend that if the Republican administration had accepted the McNary-Haugen bill the G. O. P. never would have lost the farm vote and the presidency in 1932.

The farm problem is also the subject of study by a subcommittee of the Republican program committee, headed by Dr. Glenn Frank of Chicago. The chairman of the farm subcommittee is W. J. Goodwin, Des Moines, Ia., banker.

Congressional Committee Active.

The most active Republican group mapping out a farm program for 1940 is the committee of congressmen recently appointed by Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr., minority leader of the house. Representative Clifford R. Hope [R., Kas.], chairman of this committee, has appointed a subcommittee to hold hearings in agricultural states to obtain the views of farmers on the results of the New Deal farm legislation.

The subcommittee, composed of Representatives Frank O. Horton [R., Wyo.], Leo E. Allen [R., Ill.], and Henry C. Dworshak [R., Idaho], will begin holding hearings at Salt Lake City, Dec. 1. They will give special attention to the effect of the reciprocal tariff agreements on live stock and sugar beet producers, dairymen, and wool growers of the mountain states.

Tariff Pacts Under Fire.

The reciprocal tariff agreements which have reduced tariff rates are increasingly under fire from Democratic, as well as Republican quarters. It is evident already that the Roosevelt administration is up against a hard fight to save Secretary of State Cordell Hull's pet program. The enabling legislation will lapse June 12, next, unless extended by congress.

Senator Arthur Capper [R., Kas.] said today that the fight would be nonpartisan.

"We have asked," he said, "for an adjournment of partisan politics in this fight.

"Democrats of the south and southwest have assured us of their opposition to continuance of the act and therefore we are appealing to all those who favor its end to approach the question in a nonpartisan way. We fully expect to see the act die next June when it will expire unless extended by action of congress."

Thief Snatches Teacher's Purse from School Desk

Hillside, N. J., Nov. 20 (AP).—"Teacher told me to get her pocketbook," said a strange man today to a classroom of second grade children. Not to be duped, the youngsters screamed for their teacher, who had left the room. The thief ran thru a gantlet of teachers, taking with him the purse he snatched from a desk. It contained $40.

WOMAN'S ESTATE DROPS SUIT OVER MONEY THROWING

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 20 (AP).—A million dollar damage suit based on the reported attempt of a New York woman to toss $174,196 in money and jewelry from a railroad car was dismissed in federal court here today.

Judge Ernest A. O'Brien acted after attorneys for the late Mrs. Isabel McHie and the administrator of her estate reported they were not prepared to proceed with the case.

Mrs. McHie filed the suit against the Grand Trunk Western Railway company in July, 1935, charging assault and false arrest by a railroad detective while she was enroute from Chicago to Montreal on March 20, 1935. She claimed she was forcibly ejected from the train at Battle Creek and spent three days in a hospital there.

A railroad detective said at the time he was trying to prevent Mrs. McHie from pushing $174,196 in money and jewels thru a ventilator in the car.

Bodfish Proposed as Head of Advisory Plan Board

Morton Bodfish, vice president of the United States Building and Loan league, yesterday was recommended to Mayor Kelly for the chairmanship of the new city planning commission advisory board. The recommendation was made by a committee of 30 members of the advisory board, which has 200 members. Elmer T. Stevens and John D. Allen were recommended as alternates. The committee recommended D. E. Mackelmann, secretary of the Metropolitan Housing council, as secretary of the advisory group, and Robert Nau, Chicago Association of Commerce traffic expert, and Mrs. Bertha Van Wakeman as alternates.

DENOUNCE PROPOSAL TO REWARD N. Y. CITY EMPLOYES FOR SPYING

New York, Nov. 20 [Special].—A proposal by the civil service commission to reward, with advanced ratings, municipal employés who expose corrupt conditions in their departments has drawn sharp criticism from Park Commissioner Robert Moses, it was learned today.

Commissioner Moses, termed it a "crackpot" suggestion, bound to make spies and stool pigeons out of city workers. "Send this proposal to the OGPU in Russia, whose American representatives you seem to be," he said.

Commissioner Paul J. Kern, chairman of the civil service commission, replied to Moses' criticism. "We have no apologies to make for encouraging city employés to make the city service more honest and efficient," he asserted.

HARRISON HINTS AT PLAN TO KEEP DOWN U. S. TAXES

Senate Finance Chairman Confers with President.

Senator Harrison.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], chairman of the senate finance committee, after a luncheon conference with President Roosevelt today, expressed the opinion that if government revenues continue to come in as at present and governmental expenses can be kept down, tax revision may not be necessary at the forthcoming session of congress.

As he came out of the President's office in the White House, Senator Harrison said he and the chief executive had talked over things generally, but explained there was nothing he could say about the conference.

Conferences Impending.

The senator declined to say specifically whether he had discussed taxes with President Roosevelt, but in reply to a question as to whether he thought there would be tax legislation at the next session of congress, he said:

"There will have to be several conferences before a decision is reached.

"Government receipts are such as to gladden our hearts. They are showing up fine.

"If receipts continue to come in as they are now, and we can keep down some government expenses, it may be that we can get along without a new tax bill."

More Funds for Defense.

Senator Harrison indicated that increased expenditures for national defense will be requested by the administration, but added: "I think other expenditures probably will be cut down. It goes without saying that there is quite a movement afoot for increased national defense."

Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau said the treasury will make no tax revision recommendations to congress at the forthcoming session. Morgenthau, just returned from a vacation in Arizona, said no new tax program had been brought to him by anybody in the treasury.

"We will pursue the same policy as in the last six years," he said. "We will not make any formal recommendations to congress."

2D INTERNATIONAL LABOR CONFERENCE TO OPEN SESSIONS TODAY

HAVANA, Cuba, Nov. 20 (AP).—Social insurance, regulations for the work of women and children, and settlement of immigrants in the new world are problems to be taken up by the second international labor conference opening here tomorrow.

John G. Winant, director of the international labor office at Geneva, Switzerland, arrived today to serve as general secretary of the conference. About 150 members are expected, representing 21 American countries.

American members of the international labor office agricultural committee will study effects of the European war on the welfare of agricultural populations.

COMMUNITY FUND DRIVE GOES OVER $2,000,000 MARK

The community fund campaign, well into its fourth week, is slightly ahead of pledges made at a corresponding date in last year's campaign. At a meeting yesterday in the Chicago club, Mark A. Brown, chairman of the industrial division, told solicitors that contributions during the third week of the drive placed four industrial groups over their quotas, and 26 groups into the 50 per cent or more class.

"We are now in full stride," Brown told his leaders. "And the community is in the mood to contribute. The individuals will be displeased if they aren't given a chance to support the fund. This is indicated by the continued flow of requisitions at headquarters for literature and pledge cards. We have already gone over the $2,000 mark.

The amount pledged represents 55 per cent of the goal of $3,611,000. The fund was swelled yesterday by a gift of $44,279 by employés and executives of Armour & Co. This was in addition to $25,000 that was subscribed by the company.

GIRL ATTACKED BY TWO MEN.

Miss Juanita Krone, 30 years old, 553 Belden avenue, reported early yesterday to the Sheffield avenue police that two men she met in a north side dance hall attacked her 20 miles west of the city limits while they were driving home from a barbecue stand.

TWO GUN TEXAS GIRL KILLS MAN ON BUSY STREET

Shoots Down Lawyer Who Once Stabbed Her.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 20 (AP).—Miss Corinne Maddox, 26 years old, fished two guns from her handbag one after the other today and shot down Brooks C. Coffman, 40, a lawyer, accused of stabbing her last spring when she refused to elope with him. A main street crowd saw the shooting. Coffman died within half an hour of two bullet wounds.

Brooks C. Coffman. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

Witnesses told Detective Inspector Will Fritz the young woman emptied one gun, ignoring the screams of the victim. She replaced it in her purse, took out another, dropped the purse, and pursued Coffman across the street.

After the shooting she retrieved the purse and appeared at a telegraph office with the two guns, one an automatic, the other a six shooter.

"He hounded me to death," the young woman told Detective Inspector Will Fritz. "I didn't want to do it, but what else could I do?

"He called me at my home and told me he would kill me if I appeared against him in court."

Stabbing Trial Postponed.

Coffman, charged with assault to murder for stabbing Miss Maddox with an ice pick last May 20, was to have gone to trial Oct. 9, but the case was postponed indefinitely because physicians said the victim had not recovered from her wounds sufficiently to appear in court.

Fritz, in charge of the questioning, constructed this story from her verbal statements:

For more than a month she had planned to kill Coffman, having a pistol repaired so it wouldn't jam, as it did in a previous attempt, and buying leaden bullets so they wouldn't ricochet into crowds.

This morning, she said, she waited in a beauty shop for Coffman. He came along with a woman, whom police did not immediately identify, and Miss Maddox followed. She said she stepped up behind him, and within five feet began firing.

Ignores Plea for Mercy.

"She stood over him, firing into him," said George Lawton, who was sitting about 20 feet away. "He was trying to hold himself up with one hand and pleading for mercy."

Assistant District Attorney Jimmy Martin, hearing the shooting, hurried to the scene and found Miss Maddox telephoning the sheriff's office she wanted to surrender.

"I have just shot Brooks Coffman," Miss Maddox told Martin.

Together they walked up the street toward the courthouse. En route the girl asked permission to go into a beauty shop to get some cosmetics she had purchased. In the shop she called her mother and told her of the shooting.

Planned to Get Him Before.

There, Fritz related, she told of her first attempt to "get" Coffman, whom she had known for two years.

"I leveled the pistol at his back and pulled the trigger," Fritz quoted her. "But the gun only clicked. I don't think Brooks ever knew about this because he didn't look back." This, she said, occurred Nov. 1.

"Last Friday," she said, "I again waited for Coffman, but he was late that morning and when I finally saw him the crowd was too thick to shoot."

Miss Maddox said she took precautions against hitting innocent bystanders today.

"Somebody told me that steel-jacketed bullets ricochet when they hit the pavement, so I bought lead bullets."

Sorry for His Family, She Says.

When they told her Coffman was dead she said:

"I'm glad—it's the best thing for him. But I'm sorry for his family. It's too bad they have to suffer.

"We were close friends until he took me to that gravel pit and tried to kill me," she added. She told police that Coffman attacked her with the ice pick when she refused to go to California with him.

Miss Maddox is the daughter of Roger B. Maddox, assistant bank cashier. She formerly worked as a stenographer. Miss Maddox was charged with murder and released on bond of $7,500.

RUSSELL TAKES STAND IN FIGHT TO AVOID CHAIR

Alleged Kidnap Slayer Follows Wife.

for myself. Tell Mary that from now on my blood is on her hands." This was the last message he sent her from prison before his escape in the next month.

Russell was born near Devils Lake, N. D. His real name is Oliver Lawrance Dressler, he testified yesterday. He lived on a farm until he was 6 and then was taken to Oklahoma, where he attended school. He did not like his father and at his death he took the maiden name of his mother. After various vicissitudes in business, during which he made as high as $350 a month, he came to Chicago. He acquired an interest in an apartment building, once known as the Russell Arms, but now as the Kimbark Manor. He also began his courtship of Mrs. Mary Patterson Fields, who managed another apartment down the street and who was separated from her husband, Floyd Fields. She had a baby son by Fields.

Calls Start Trouble.

Russell and Mrs. Fields were married on Thanksgiving day, 1936, in a Presbyterian parsonage. On that day, as on other days, before and after, a telephone message came to Mary from Fields, Russell testified.

"I took the phone from her hand," he said, "and asked him not to call again, saying that she was married now and please to leave us in peace. But the calls kept coming. He would abuse either one of us that answered the phone. On Dec. 23, 1937, my wife and I quarreled over Fields. She had talked with him against my will. She had even offered to pay a doctor's bill for him. I became angry and went over to the doctor's office. I met Fields coming out and asked him to leave us alone. I had a gun. I told him so and said that this was my last warning to him. He became frightened and ran away.

"When I got home Mary was angry with me. Fields had called and told her. She said I had made a fool of myself. I was infuriated and said I would leave her, that she could not have us both. I started to pack. Then she told me she had sent for the police. When they came she made statements that caused my arrest for the robberies in Oklahoma. I was sent to the prison at McAlester. I was in the library for eight months and then went on the switchboard."

The rest of his testimony yesterday was a strange tale of a telephone courtship. The wires hummed between Oklahoma and Chicago. For three months, until February, 1939, Russell said, his wife called him frequently and wrote to him nearly every day. The letters stopped in April. After that she called less frequently and it was his part to call her while on duty at the prison switchboard. A three minute call cost $1.35, and he reversed the charges. At first, he testified, Mary told him she did not mind the expense. Later she questioned paying of the bills. She had gone to see him during the early part of his incarceration, he said, but did not come again. Finally he could not reach her, even by phone, he testified.

"It was like talking into a blank wall," he said, recalling how he frantically questioned the other occupants of the building about Mary's attitude toward him when they answered the telephone.

Russell started to inject into the trial a denial of guilt of the robbery charge on which he was sent to prison, but was not permitted to continue.

The courtroom was well filled, with women notably in attendance. The jury of seven women and five men is the first mixed jury ever qualified in Chicago to inflict the death penalty.

Chicagoan Found Guilty in $640,000 Mail Fraud Plot

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 20 (AP).—Edward J. Hartenfeld of Chicago was convicted today and John K. Knapp of Henderson, Ky., was acquitted by a federal court jury that heard their trial on a $640,000 mail fraud charge. Judge Robert C. Baltzell said he will impose sentence on Hartenfeld Dec. 2. Knapp and Hartenfeld were accused of having conspired with Mrs. Ethel Pitt Donnell and Robert D. Beckett, both of Indianapolis, to defraud approximately 200 persons of $640,000. Mrs. Donnell and Beckett both pleaded guilty. The four were alleged to have persuaded persons holding frozen building and loan stock to trade this stock for worthless securities.

O'HARE'S FIANCEE QUIZZED IN HUNT FOR KILLING CLEW

Miss Granata Tells of Last Dinner Party.

Ursula [Sue] Granata, sister of State Representative Peter C. Granata of Chicago and fiancée of Edward J. O'Hare, front man for the Capone syndicate, who was slain Nov. 8 by shotgun assassins, yesterday made her first appearance in the state's attorney's office for questioning on her association with O'Hare.

She told of her friendship with him, but denied that she possessed information that might shed light on the motives or identities of his assassins. She denied that O'Hare, who was president of Sportsman's Park race track, had shown any indication that he was afraid for his life.

"I knew Mr. O'Hare seven or eight years," she told Lieut. Tom Kelly of the state's attorney's staff. "We met while I was doing secretarial work at the track. We were to be married next spring."

Special Ruling Expected.

Miss Granata said she and O'Hare had hoped to be married sooner, but that religious difficulties over O'Hare's divorce had prevented this. She said she believed that a special dispensation for the wedding was to have been granted soon.

"The last time I saw O'Hare was Monday evening, Nov. 6—two days before his death," said Miss Granata. "He entertained ten or twelve friends at a dinner party in the Illinois Athletic club.

"Contrary to some things I have read, I didn't see the least indication that he was nervous. I'm sure he had no idea of any impending tragedy."

Quizzed on Judge Holland.

Lieut. Kelly asked whether Municipal Judge Eugene J. Holland, who had been associated with O'Hare in a realty enterprise, was one of the guests. Miss Granata said she knew the judge only slightly, but was certain he had not been present.

"O'Hare never discussed business affairs with me," she said in answer to questions about the slain man's enterprises.

Miss Granata said she had known of the apartment—police described it as a hideout—which O'Hare maintained at 1220 Sherwin avenue. She said, however, that she never had been there. She said the apartment had been furnished originally for O'Hare's daughter, Patricia Ann, but that the girl did not wish to live there and later O'Hare bought his home in Glencoe for her.

Companion to Daughter.

Miss Granata said she acted as a companion to Patricia and watched over her. She said an annuity of $135 a month which O'Hare had taken out for her was to cover her incidental expense as Patricia's mentor. Police found the policy after O'Hare had been slain. Miss Granata said the payments ceased after his death.

Another interlude in the investigation into the association between Judge Holland and O'Hare was recorded yesterday altho the judge failed to appear as scheduled with a report of the dealings he had had with the slain man.

Early yesterday Judge Holland appeared in his Municipal courtroom and indicated that he planned to hurry thru his call so he could go to State's Attorney Courtney's office with the information he had promised last week to provide.

Scheduled to Appear Tomorrow.

But at noon the judge issued a typewritten statement from his chambers. It read: "I have given the state's attorney all material information that I have on the O'Hare matter, and, therefore, have no further comment to make." Asked whether this meant that he was not going to see the state's attorney, he replied that he had made his statement.

Soon thereafter the judge received a call from Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney. The conversation was unrecorded, but afterward Crowley said: "Judge Holland will appear at this office at 2 p. m. tomorrow for further discussions of his affairs with O'Hare." The judge later confirmed Crowley's statement.

Slaying Principals

Park Policeman Harry Francois, who was slain by gunmen last night in Humboldt park when he sought to question them during attempted holdup of couple parked in car.

Andrew Andruska (left), who took license number of holdup victims' auto, and Sergt. Frederick Blank, companion of slain policeman, who chased the three bandits. Andruska's quick thinking resulted in the finding of the holdup victims.

Election Judge Gets 3 Years in 4th Ward Fraud

Henry Brown, colored election judge, was sentenced to three years in jail yesterday for election frauds. Brown lives at 4839 Forrestville avenue. He was a Democratic judge in the 58th precinct of the 4th ward in the April election.

The sentence was imposed by Judge Edmund K. Jarecki in County court.

KILL POLICEMAN IN PARK AS HE FOILS A HOLDUP

3 Robbers Escape Under Fire in Murder.

police took Policeman Francois to the Walther Memorial hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

With the sedan missing, police feared their best clew had gone. For a time they could only surmise the killers were bandits. But a few minutes later an alert citizen, Andrew Andruska, 4440 Augusta boulevard, a cabinet maker, supplied the missing link. He told police he was driving home when he saw the sedan drive away, leaving a man lying on the pavement and a police car standing near by. He thought the sedan had hit the man. So he followed it, and jotted down the license number. He gave it to police promptly.

The number was traced to Nelson. Thirty minutes later he was found, as was his car. He was taken to the North avenue police station, where he was questioned by Lieut. Thomas Sheridan. He told a complete story of the shooting and explained why he had driven away.

"I became alarmed at the possibility of being found with another woman," he said frankly. "I am married. I decided to drive away. We had just been stopped a moment when the robbers came up. I heard one ask for my keys. Apparently they wanted my car. Then the police came up, and I heard a shot."

Woman Believed Teacher.

The story of Mrs. Tessmer, whose name was first given as Newberry, and then Newberg, was substantially the same. She added, however, that she had wanted to stay on the scene, but said she appreciated the embarrassment the situation might cause Nelson. Police understood she is a school teacher, but she said she is a beauty school instructor downtown. Police said she has a son 12 years old, and is separated from her husband.

Policeman Francois lived at 4935 Melrose street with his wife, Nellie, and two children, Barbara, 4, and Donald, 2. He had been on the force 12 years, and was known as a fearless policeman.

He was the third policeman killed by bandits in Chicago and Cook county this year. The first, Policeman Philip J. Kelly, was fatally wounded by bandits in a tavern holdup on May 3. The second was Lieut. Gene Iattoni, who was shot by bandits in Calumet City on May 27.

For Sergt. Blank, last night's shooting marked the second time a partner of his was killed. On May 10, 1922, he, Lieut. Terrance Lyons, and Policemen Joseph Moeller and James A. McClellan, all of the old West Park force, engaged in a gun fight with bombers who earlier had killed Thomas Clarke, a city policeman. Lieut. Lyons was slain. Moeller was wounded.

EX-JUDGE MANTON'S DECISION IN PATENT CASE IS REVERSED

New York, Nov. 19 [Special].—A decision handed down in 1934 by Martin T. Manton, former presiding judge of the federal Circuit Court of Appeals, was reversed by the court today. Manton was convicted of dispensing a bargain counter justice and sentenced to two years in federal penitentiary and fine $10,000. He is now free on bail pending appeal.

The decision upset today affected patents owned by the Art Metal Works, Inc., which had sued Abraham & Straus, Inc., for infringement of a patented cigar lighter. The federal District court held the patent was not infringed and the decision was upheld by the Circuit court, over which Manton then presided.

Abraham & Straus, it was said, was not the manufacturer of the lighter, but was the largest distributor. The court directed today that the District court's decree be "reversed, with directions to enter a decree for the Art Metal Works, holding three claims valid and infringed, with the usual references as to damages."

M. L. ANNENBERG COMPLETES RACE WIRE SHUTDOWN

M. L. Annenberg's Nationwide News Service, Inc., thru which bookmakers in the United States, Canada, and Cuba received their race track information for years, has been disbanded. Its 28 offices have been closed, its employés have been discharged, and all its contracts have been canceled.

This was announced yesterday by United States Attorney William J. Campbell. Weymouth Kirkland, attorney for Annenberg, notified Campbell of the shutdown. Annenberg, who is a Philadelphia publisher and a critic of the New Deal, is under indictment on charges of income tax evasion and operating a lottery thru his track news service.

Bet takers in Chicago and thruout the nation, meanwhile, continued to struggle along with impaired service. They sought various ways of obtaining race results. It was reported that many of the larger establishments pooled their resources and placed at each track an informant who telephoned horse race results by long distance telephone.

LATIN AMERICAN CITY OFFICIALS STUDY CHICAGO

Commission Talks Plans for Co-operation.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Municipal officials from nine cities of South and Central America and one from the United States met in Chicago yesterday to plan for coöperation of cities in the 21 American republics in exchanging information on municipal problems.

Dr. Antonio Beruff Mendieta, mayor of Havana, Cuba, heads the group, known as the Pan American commission on intermunicipal coöperation. The commission is considering the creation of a permanent secretariat and the holding of regular conferences.

Organized in Havana.

The commission was set up by the first Pan American Congress of Municipalities, which was held in Havana last November. This congress, which attracted 400 delegates, was called by the government of Cuba with the authorization of the Pan American union. It was the first conference of representatives of cities thruout the western hemisphere to discuss administrative practices. Each of the 21 American republics had delegates. A provisional secretariat was set up in Havana.

Seven of the ten members of the commission which met yesterday are from Spanish speaking countries. One is from a Portuguese speaking country, Brazil; one from a French speaking country, Haiti, and one from the United States. Problems of local government are the only concern of the organization, and issues of national or international policy are not to be considered. The meetings, which are to last until Friday, are at the Public Administration Clearing house, 1313 East 60th street.

Chicago a Model for Havana.

"Chicago is the best model for Havana because many of your problems are ours," said Mayor Beruff Mendieta of Havana. "New York proper is a more closely packed community, but Chicago, like Havana, spreads out in its growth.

Mayor Mendieta said he was interested in housing, education, and the water system.

Others on the committee are:

Argentina — Jaime C. Font, council member of Buenos Aires.

Brazil—Edison J. Passos, secretary of transportation and public works, Rio de Janeiro.

Chile—Ricardo Gonzales Cortez, head of the association of architects, Santiago.

Colombia — Dr. Ruben Garcia, public health director, Bogota.

Costa Rica — Manuel Rodo, mayor of San José and governor of the province.

Ecuador — Hector Romero Menendez, ex-corporation counsel, Guayaquil.

Haiti—Raphael Brouard, mayor Port-au-Prince.

Mexico—Porfirio Troconis, ex-city council secretary, Mexico.

United States—Daniel W. Hoan, mayor of Milwaukee.

At the meeting also are Gustavo Gutierrez and Carlos Moran, both of Havana and members of the present secretariat. Tonight there is to be a dinner at the Shoreland hotel, with Mayor Kelly and Dr. Beruff Mendieta as speakers.

BOY, 15, ADMITS 8 BURGLARIES TO THRILL COMRADES

Evanston police announced last night that they had solved eight recent burglaries in their city thru a confession by Willard Atmore, 15 years old, 1738 Juneway terrace, an eighth grade schoolboy.

He committed the burglaries merely to impress his school chums and other friends, police quoted him as saying. Atmore was arrested in Evanston Saturday when several neighborhood boys notified Lieut. Peter Geishecker that a "strange boy" was in their block. Policemen Marcus May and Henry Engstrom, who made the arrest, found a revolver on him.

Some of the loot stolen was recovered from Calvary cemetery, where Atmore had hidden it, police said. He told them, they said, that he traded a stolen watch for the gun. On several of his burglary expeditions, according to police, he took several friends along and they watched him as he demonstrated his skill in climbing to second floor windows. They never participated in the lootings.

TREASURER'S WIDOW DIES.

Two of four girls as they were arraigned in Philadelphia court on a charge of appearing in a show too scantily clad.

Two other girls in court on the same charge.

The detective who arrested the four girls placed two costumes in two match boxes, then held all four costumes in his hand.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 20 (AP).—Magistrate Elias Myers today asked a detective to prove his contention that the costume of an entertainer at a girl show was too flimsy. Painstakingly the detective folded the costume and squeezed it into a match box. The magistrate fined the show manager $12.50.

POLICE NAB TWO THEFT SUSPECTS IN MOVIE FASHION

Policemen Sylvester Connolly and Patrick Birmingham of the Woodlawn station captured two suspected thieves in the movie thriller manner last night.

They were crusing in Wabash avenue at 61st when they saw the suspects, George Williams, colored, 4232 Cottage Grove avenue, and Fred Yates, also colored, 4329 Prairie avenue, stopping their car at intervals and picking up packages presumably thrown by an accomplice from a merchandise truck.

The policemen gave chase, firing at the men. The chase led north in Wentworth avenue. At 63d street Williams and Yates tried to get away by passing a moving street car on the wrong side. Policeman Birmingham and Connolly then executed their thriller. They swung their car into the suspects' machine, and sandwiched it against the side of the moving street car. No one was hurt, but the chase was ended.

DREAD OF FOOD AND WATER AT MANTENO TOLD

Grand Jury Will Finish Inquiry Today.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

The chief clerk at the Manteno State hospital wouldn't drink the water provided by the state of Illinois.

Frank Kruger.

More than 500 employés of that institution refused to eat the meals served there, and tho their pay averaged $60 a month, they preferred to pay cash for food from the commissary or sent out from Kankakee.

These statements were made to the Kankakee county grand jury yesterday as an investigation into the origin, progress, and aftermath of the typhoid epidemic that broke out at the Manteno institution last summer was nearing completion. Indictments will be considered today.

Brings Water from Kankakee.

The employé who carried his own water, and consequently did not contract typhoid fever, is Frank Kruger, chief clerk there for the last three years. Previously he was employed in the same capacity at Kankakee State hospital.

The witness was asked what he knew about the water supply at Manteno, which has been found to have contained typhoid fever germs as well as other sewage material.

"When I went to work out there I was told the water was bad," he stated. "However, I didn't need to be warned; the water was dirty. I have a room at the institution and my wife lives there with me. Every time we went into town we brought back a couple of large jugs of Kankakee distilled water. When any one was coming out to see me I had them bring water with them. If I didn't have water from town I boiled the Manteno water before using."

Hear Testimony on Kitchen.

Kruger also told about the low salaried employés who used their money for food rather than eat the regular fare. This statement amplified other testimony about a petition signed by 150 of the employés who asked that they be given more palatable food.

The prosecutor and the jury have heard from Mrs. Lillian Williams, dietitian at the institution, and there has been testimony for and against the cleanliness of the kitchen. Kruger's reported statement was that the kitchen was in a filthy condition during the last year. He said that under a former dietitian, a Mrs. Gullickson, the kitchen was a show place, where all vistiors were taken. But not during the last year, he said, because of the smells, the flies, and the sights that might be seen.

Blame Typhoid Carrier.

Miss Nell Payne, dining room supervisor and a friend of Mrs. Williams, was another witness during the afternoon. She said she believed the epidemic was not caused by bad water or food, but by a woman typhoid carrier. This woman, who died Aug. 30, was moved from ward to ward, spreading typhoid into each, Miss Payne said.

The grand jury is to meet again today. State's Attorney Samuel H. Shapiro said he expects the members to ballot on indictments by tonight. Sufficient evidence has been presented, he said, to justify indictments for manslaughter and for malfeasance in office.

THE JUDGE'S SHOTGUN DEMONSTRATION GOES OFF WITH A BIG BANG

Pana, Ill., Nov. 20 [Special].—City Court Judge John W. Preihs, who frequently sits in Chicago courts, borrowed a repeating shotgun from a friend for a hunting trip over the week-end. Returning home, he placed the weapon in a corner of his sitting room. A friend dropped in later for a visit and, noticing the gun standing in the corner, asked whether it were not dangerous to leave it around the house that way. "O, it's not loaded," replied the judge, picking up the gun and snapping the trigger. There was a roar and the shotgun charge tore a hole thru the sitting room wall. A plate glass window was shattered.

Five Accused Gamblers Win Dismissals in Court

Five men, accused of operating handbooks at 640 North State street and 4406 Monroe street, were discharged yesterday by Judge Frank E. Donoghue of the South State street court. The judge sustained motions to quash the warrants on the ground of insufficient evidence. Eight others were granted jury trials and nine were granted continuances.

FARMER DIES AT SANDWICH.

Sandwich, Ill., Nov. 20 [Special].—Charles H. Bark, 81 years old, born on a farm which he operated here until his retirement several years ago, died yesterday.

OUST OFFICIAL OF FOREST PARK IN FIERY SESSION

While five policemen stood guard and 400 spectators alternately cheered and hooted, members of the Forest Park village board held a turbulent meeting last night in which one village official was ousted and the resignation of another was announced.

Edward B. Lane, controler and collector since April, was dismissed by a 3-2 vote. August Calcagno, finance commissioner, charged there were irregularities in Lane's accounts. Lane asserted he was being made a football of politics because he was going to marry a sister of Mayor Tom Collis, to whom a majority of the commissioners are opposed.

Collis announced receipt of the resignation of Village Clerk Lewis C. Barnet. It takes effect Dec. 15. Barnet recently had Collis arrested on a charge of operating a lottery in connection with the raffling of an auto to buy the village a two-way police radio.

Back Yard Intruder Shot; Dragged Away by Pal

Furious barking by his watchdog caused William Studman to run, revolver in hand, into his back yard at 1112 South 6th avenue, Maywood, last night. He saw two men emerging from his garage and chased them into the alley. Studman fired when the men refused to stop and one of them fell. His companion, however, dragged him into an automobile and they escaped.

2 Wait in Reception Room and Then Hold Up Dentist

After waiting in the reception room, two young men were admitted last night to the office of Dr. Hyman Burton, a dentist at 1959 Roosevelt road. They drew revolvers and robbed him of $16.

COURT UPHOLDS CIO OVER A. F. L. IN UNION FIGHT

Serrick Case to Be Taken to Supreme Tribunal.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 [Special].—Over the vigorous protest of the American Federation of Labor, the right to become the sole bargaining agency for workers in a factory having a $1,000,000 annual pay roll was awarded today to the United Automobile Workers [C. I. O.] by a two to one decision in the District of Columbia Court of Appeals.

In its opinion the court held that the National Labor Relations board is not bound by legal rules of evidence. It upheld an NLRB order invalidating a closed shop contract with the International Association of Machinists [A. F. of L.] covering toolroom employés of the Serrick corporation, Muncie, Ind., and charging the company with unfair labor practices toward the C. I. O. The corporation manufactures tools and dies.

Regarded one of the strongest rulings ever rendered in favor of the board, the finding is to be taken to the United States Supreme court on appeal by the A. F. of L.

Chief Justice Dissents.

The majority opinion that "the evidence fully sustains the findings of the board, that the employer unlawfully assisted the International Association of Machinists to organize the tool shop and secure the closed shop contract," was seen as another chapter in a bitter fight between the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. over organization of the plant.

The opinion, which emphasized that administrative agencies need not be shackled by technical rules of evidence, was written by Justice Wiley B. Rutledge, President Roosevelt's most recent appointee to the court. Concurring was Justice Justin Miller, another Roosevelt appointee. Dissenting was Chief Justice D. Lawrence Groner, appointed by Herbert Hoover.

Insisting that the NLRB is not limited to rules of evidence such as used in courts, Justice Rutledge said "it is only convincing, not lawyers' evidence, which is required."

Justice Rutledge said the law of evidence before the administrative agencies is different from that in the courts, and said that the appeals court must take into consideration the board's findings, "unhampered by preconceptions derived" from the technical law of evidence.

Senate Quiz Sifts Serrick Case.

Labor board officials said the decision might have strong bearing on a dozen other cases where closed shop contracts between employers and the federation have been upset on grounds the factory unlawfully helped the federation to check a C. I. O. organizing campaign.

The Serrick case was the subject of testimony during senate and house hearings on attempts to change the labor relations act. It is presumed it will be used again when efforts for amendment of the law are made at the next congressional session. Witnesses who favored changes told congressional committees that the Serrick case proved board prejudices in favor of the C. I. O. and against the federation.

In the order, denounced by the federation as arbitrary, the board had termed two A. F. of L. locals "company unions," because, it was said, six "straw bosses" figured in their activities. These were the International Association of Machinists, Tool and Die Makers, lodge No. 35, and Production lodge, No. 1200, both affiliated with the I. A. M.

Thru the order the board found the firm guilty of unfair labor practices, rejected its closed shop contract with the federation, and ordered recognition of the C. I. O. union, which was found to have enrolled a majority of the employés. The Serrick corporation complied, but the two federation unions appealed to the District court.

Squalus Widow

Mrs. Elizabeth Ward, widow of victim of submarine disaster, and son born Sunday.

A son was born Sunday in the Englewood hospital to Mrs. Elizabeth Ward, 27 years old, widow of one of the men who went down with the United States submarine Squalus last May off the coast of New Hampshire. Mrs. Ward, whose husband was Marion Lawrence Ward, a radioman, third class, moved to Chicago after the disaster. She lives with a sister, Mrs. Mary Hayes, at 6134 Addison avenue.

SQUALUS SKIPPER TELLS PRESIDENT ABOUT DISASTER

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 [Special.]—Lieut. Oliver Francis Naquin, who commanded the submarine Squalus, which sank off the New England coast last summer, discussed the disaster with President Roosevelt at the White House today. He said his report to the President naturally was of a confidential nature, and explained that as a naval officer he could not talk about his conference with the chief executive.

Lieut. Naquin.

Lieut. Naquin is en route to the navy's submarine base at San Diego, Cal., where he will report for duty about Dec. 10. He said he is going back in the submarine service and would like to serve on the Squalus again when the submarine is reconditioned, if he can get a commission to do so.

"Then you don't believe in the jinx?" he was asked.

"Hell, no!" he replied. He added that all the survivors of the Squalus were going back in the country's submarine service, preferably on the Squalus when it is recommissioned after repairs, probably a year from now.

The new institute, made possible thru the $6,735,000 gift of Walter P. Murphy, head of a railway supply business, will combine periods of study and periods of actual work. Dr. Snyder said the school will start with courses in electrical, mechanical, civil, and chemical engineering.

He said that it is planned to add courses in aeronautics, architecture, and meteorology.

OFFERS STATE'S PROTECTION FOR CHRYSLER WORKS

Dickinson Charges Labor Law Is Too Weak.

manded a voice in determining the rate of production, a closed shop, recognition of a grievance committee, a wage increase of 10 cents an hour, vacations with pay, and adjustment of the wages for workers in various classifications.

In the day to day negotiations which followed, the C. I. O. receded and the corporation made concessions until all points in the dispute were settled except the wage demand and vacations with pay, which are made contingent on the wage agreement.

The wage question was argued Saturday and yesterday, and for a time agreement appeared to be so close that plans were made for resumption of operations today.

Fail to Reach Agreement.

Nothing came of the meeting Sunday nor today, however, because, according to Herman L. Weckler, Chrysler operating vice president: "The union's demands were not in trading range."

Today the C. I. O. receded to a demand for a 5 cent hourly wage increase, vacations with pay, and adjustment of wages for the various classifications of workers, but this still was considered too high.

Thomas said tonight that a 10 cent increase would cost the corporation $208 a year for each worker, and a 5 cent increase would cost $104. This would mean an increase of from 6 to 12 million dollars a year in the Chrysler pay roll.

Thomas said the only issue in the dispute was: "More profits for stockholders or better wages for the men and women who work in the plants."

Weckler Replies to Thomas.

Replying to Thomas' charge of low wages, Weckler said: "In September of this year our factory employés, men and women, thruout the United States of America, averaged 97.6 cents an hour. The men averaged 99 cents an hour. No salaried nor office employés are included in these figures.

"Our pay is more per hour than the average in automobile plants. It is a great deal more than the average pay of industrial workers generally in the United States of America, which in July, according to the federal labor department, was 54.3 cents an hour."

Determination of C. I. O. leaders to keep the 58,000 Chrysler employés idle "until this thing is settled" has cost the workers 10 million dollars in wages. If the 5 cent wage increase were granted it would take the workers two years to recover their loss.

Costs Output of 125,000 Units.

Tie-up of the Chrysler plants has cost the corporation the production of about 125,000 automobiles and trucks. It also has cost an inestimable loss in new car sales because dealers are unable to fill orders. One of the worst blows to the Chrysler organization resulting from the strike has been the loss of experienced salesmen.

Working exclusively on a commission, the salesmen have left dealers who could not deliver cars and gone to work for those who could deliver them.

Having lost a prospective buyer to a competitor this year, it is estimated that it will be two or three years before Chrysler will have another opportunity to sell a car to him because the competitive car probably will be used for two years, at the end of which time the competitive dealer still will be in a better position to make a trade.

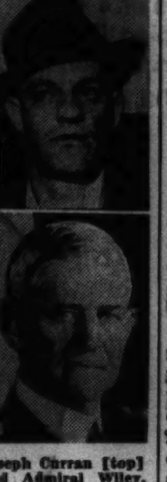
ADMIRAL WILEY ASSAILS CHIEF OF CIO UNION SEAMEN

Says Curran Capitalizes on Misery of Jobless.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 (AP).—In an indignant open letter, a member of the maritime commission today accused Joseph Curran, C. I. O. seamen's union leader, of conducting a campaign of misrepresentation against the United States maritime service and of trying to capitalize on the misfortune of seamen rendered jobless by the neutrality act.

The charge came from Rear Admiral Henry A. Wiley, who added in his letter to the president of the National Maritime union [C. I. O.]: "Your leadership apparently is motivated by powers outside yourself and the organization."



Joseph Curran [top] and Admiral Wiley.

There was no elaboration of this reference, but it recalled that witnesses at recent hearings of the house committee on un-American activities charged that Curran is a communist and that the National Maritime union is communist controled. Curran denied being a communist, or that party members dominate the union's policies.

Relief Plan Outlined.

Wiley's letter dealt specifically with Curran's attitude toward the government's plan of offering training in the maritime service schools to seamen thrown out of jobs as the result of the neutrality act. He said Curran attended a meeting at the White House on Nov. 10, at which the plan was outlined, and accepted it as one means of meeting the situation.

The program called for accepting 1,000 seamen for training and paying them $36 a month in addition to food, clothing and quarters.

On the morning of Nov. 13, Wiley's letter said, Curran asked when 100 men could enroll, and was told they could be enrolled that day. However, only 20 men applied over a two-day period, Wiley said.

Reverses Stand on Program.

On the same day the union leader called Wiley, the letter said, and informed him that the union had decided to oppose enrollment of unemployed seamen in the maritime service, but gave "no satisfactory explanation for this complete reversal of policy."

Subsequently the maritime service's New York office was picketed, Wiley said, by men who carried such placards as "maritime commission says go to concentration camps or starve."

Also, he said, handbills were distributed which stated among other falsehoods that the maritime commission says "no man may obtain relief unless he first enrolls in the military schools."

"The maritime commission," Wiley said, "never did and does not now propose military schools. No military training is given at any of our schools and the navy has no connection whatever with them.

Members Favor Plan.

"Many of your men have not felt the constraint which apparently is imposed upon you, and instead of vituperation and misrepresentation to which you continously give voice, they have looked upon the improvements favorably and coöperated intelligently.

"I have observed your activities rather closely for the last three years. I had hoped that in time and thru experience you might develop qualities of leadership worthy of the responsibilities of your office. However, my hopes in that respect were apparently as baseless as the charges to which you now give currency."

The admiral also asserted that Curran's "scheme of capitalizing on the misfortune" of the jobless seamen would deprive them of the opportunity "to improve their skill, their knowledge of seamanship, and to benefit themselves generally."

GLENN DEMANDS A FREE PRIMARY; CHURCH MAY RUN

New G. O. P. Senate Race Aspirant Looms.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Otis F. Glenn.

Otis F. Glenn, former United States senator who is seeking to return to his old office, demanded last night that all branches of the Republican organization in Illinois keep hands off the party primary.

The first campaign speech since announcement of his candidacy was delivered before the Southwest League of Women Voters in the Bethany Union church, 103d and Wood streets. He told his audience that all party officials and leaders should refrain from slate making; that the voters of the party should select the nominees in the primary and then unite behind the ticket selected in this way.

By coincidence the first public indication that Glenn will have competition in the primary became known about the time he was speaking. It was a request for advice addressed to all the Republican precinct, township, and ward committeemen by Congressman Ralph E. Church of the 10th district, which includes the north shore of Cook county and all of Lake county.

Church Canvasses Sentiment.

Representative Church mailed copies of a mimeographed letter to more than 5,000 party officials and leaders saying he had been urged to run for the senatorship nomination and asking them to write him telling their reaction. He said if the response indicated a widespread demand he would make the race.

Former Senator Glenn's discussion of organization slate making was believed to have been prompted by the action of a group of county chairmen at Springfield recently looking toward the indorsement of candidates by the statewide association of county chairmen which is expected to meet in January. After outlining the statutory provisions for the present election and primary systems, Glenn addressed several questions to his audience.

"Shall the party committees designated by law to represent the party and manage the general election campaigns for all Republican nominees go outside their legal functions fixed by law, and endeavor to select the nominees?" he asked.

Demands Fair Deal For All.

"Should they, as officials, be neutral between candidates, giving all a fair deal or should they arrogate to themselves the power of selecting the nominees? Should they say to the Republican voters, 'We have chosen a ticket for you to nominate,' or should they say, 'The voters have nominated the ticket—it is our duty to attempt to elect that ticket?'

"To my way of thinking, the first course is an improper one and should not be followed if party success is to be had."

Glenn said recent displays of Republican management had not been encouraging, and that voters resent the selection of tickets by bosses.

"Implicit confidence is not reposed by all Republican citizens in some of those connected with present party management," he continued. "It is generally known that while many of our party managers are of high character and integrity and are thoroly loyal, the reverse is true of certain others. They bask in the sunshine of Democratic favors and know their way well around the city hall, the county court house, and the state house. The 'bookie' ban will stop the annual pilgrimage to Miami of certain Republican as well as Democratic ward leaders."

Says Green was Betrayed.

The former senator charged that Dwight H. Green, the Republican nominee for mayor of Chicago last April, was betrayed by certain elements of the party organization. If loyalty had prevailed, he added, the Republicans would have elected a mayor "and in so doing would have broken the back of the New Deal in the middle west." He questioned whether the Urbana slate making of 1938 did not contribute to the Republican defeat that year.

In closing he described the present situation in the United States as desperate and said the Republican party bears a heavy responsibility calling for its best brains and efforts.

In his letters to organization officials and leaders, Congressman Church said he wanted to know what kind of a candidate they think "must be chosen to win in Illinois this year." He said that problem is more important than the political ambition of any candidate and that democracy at home and peace with the world can be saved only by a Republican victory next year.

Kept Up New Deal Fight.

He recited the figures of his congressional district victories in 1936 and 1938 and said that in the latter year he had brushed aside pleas that he run for the senate, preferring to remain in the house and fight the New Deal.

"Will you write me frankly?" he asked. "I of course would not be so unfair as to ask you for a commitment or a pledge. I want merely as quickly as possible to have your reaction to my proposed candidacy.

"If, as my friends indicate, there is a widespread demand for a new, undefeated candidate who also offers long experience and a sincere promise to continue his record, then I shall make the race. There is only one important issue: Who would best insure a Republican victory in 1940? I shall hold your reply in strict and appreciative confidence."

Bishop O'Brien announced yesterday that the society had built or repaired 75 chapels and churches in the last year. More than $100,000 was spent in 40 dioceses for this purpose. RECORD BREAKING COW IS SOLD FOR $1,750 AT AUCTION

Cornell Ormsby Esteem, a 4 year old Holstein that recently set a new world's record for butter fat production for cows of her age, brought $1,750 when sold at auction yesterday at Union stockyards. This was the highest price paid so far this year for a dairy cow of any breed, sale officials said.

Esteem, born and bred on the campus of Cornell university at Ithaca, N. Y., was bought by Pabst farms of Oconomowoc, Wis. She still has 26 days to go on her 305 day official test which will be continued at Pabst farms. She produced 22,052 pounds [10,254 quarts] of milk containing 885 pounds of butter fat in the first 258 days of the test.

Forty pure bred Holsteins were included in the sale. Consigned from leading herds thruout the country, they brought a total of $13,535, or an average of $338.37.

3,300 WILL VOTE ON ANNEXATION BY JOLIET TODAY

An area of about three square miles is expected to be annexed to Joliet today when approximately 3,300 voters ballot on the proposition. There is no organized opposition, according to proponents of annexation. They say a canvass indicates three-quarters of the electorate are favorable to the move.

Nine thousand reside in the area, which is east of the city. The Greater Joliet committee has told these people that annexation will decrease costs of living and at the same time solve sewage problems and make lower fire insurance rates possible. Police and fire protection, garbage collection, and public library service will be available to incoming residents.

Several years ago a similar proposition affecting somewhat the same territory was defeated. The election was ordered by County Judge Glen I. Cowing of Will county after he received a petition signed by 625 residents.

Guggenheim Wills 5 Million for N. Y. Children's Clinics

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—Murry Guggenheim, philanthropist and mining magnate who died last week, left a trust of $5,000,000 to the Murry and Leonie Guggenheim foundation. The income from the trust is to be used in erecting and operating clinics for Manhattan children. The will, filed today in Surrogate's court, provided that the residue, personal effects, real estate, and interest in Colorado property go to his widow, Mrs. Leonie Guggenheim. No estimate of the value of the estate was made.

FEDERAL JUDGE WILL HEAR CITY TRACTION PLEA

William H. Sexton, special traction attorney for the city, said yesterday that he will go before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson tomorrow to outline the city's position on the traction franchise question. Negotiations between the city and the transit lines for a unified franchise broke down last week. Both sides found the other's proposals unacceptable.

Sexton, representing Mayor Kelly, is expected to ask Judge Wilkerson to direct the transit representatives to reconsider the city's proposals. The city has held that the present street car fare of 7 cents should be maintained, and has argued that the interest rate on the new company's first mortgage bonds should be cut to 4 per cent. The transit lines' reorganization and merger plan calls for a 5 per cent interest rate on the bonds. The companies have contended that an 8 cent street car fare is essential if the new system is to meet the city's demands for modernization and extensions of service.

8,596 City Liquor Licenses Are Issued Since Nov. 1

LUCAS, SLATTERY, AND NUDELMAN CONFER ON ILLINOIS RELIEF NEEDS

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 20 [Special].—United States Senators Scott W. Lucas and James M. Slattery conferred with State Finance Director S. L. Nudelman today on the state's relief needs.

After the conference Nudelman said the discussion centered on the expected increase in old age pensions from $30 to $40 monthly to be approved at the forthcoming special session of the state legislature. This, he said, will be a principal factor in bringing about the deficit in state finances. He reiterated his estimate that present spending, if continued at the same rate, will show a state deficit of more than $25,000,000 at the end of the current biennium.

Present at the conference were Congressmen Edwin M. Schaefer [D., Belleville], and Claude V. Parsons [D., Golconda], and William J. Walsh, patronage dispenser for the Horner administration. While it was not officially divulged, it is believed the conferees also took up the question of patronage in connection with the 1940 census. Approximately 6,000 census takers will be appointed in Illinois, an important fact politically in view of the forthcoming primary election.

COUNCIL GROUP TO DISCUSS WARD REDISTRICT PLAN

The city council committee on rules, of which Ald. J. M. Arvey [24th] is chairman, will discuss a proposal to redistrict the city's 50 wards this afternoon. The discussion is to be held as the result of a motion introduced at the last council meeting by Ald. Frank Keenan [49th]. Keenan, who said that many wards in the city are too large, said that in 1931 the council decided to redistrict the city every six years. Arvey said that under state law the council must redistrict the city after every federal census and that it would be impractical to do it now and again in 1941. Redistricting consists in altering the boundaries of the wards to equalize the number of persons eligible to vote in each ward.

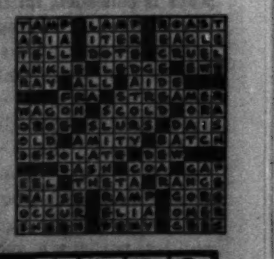
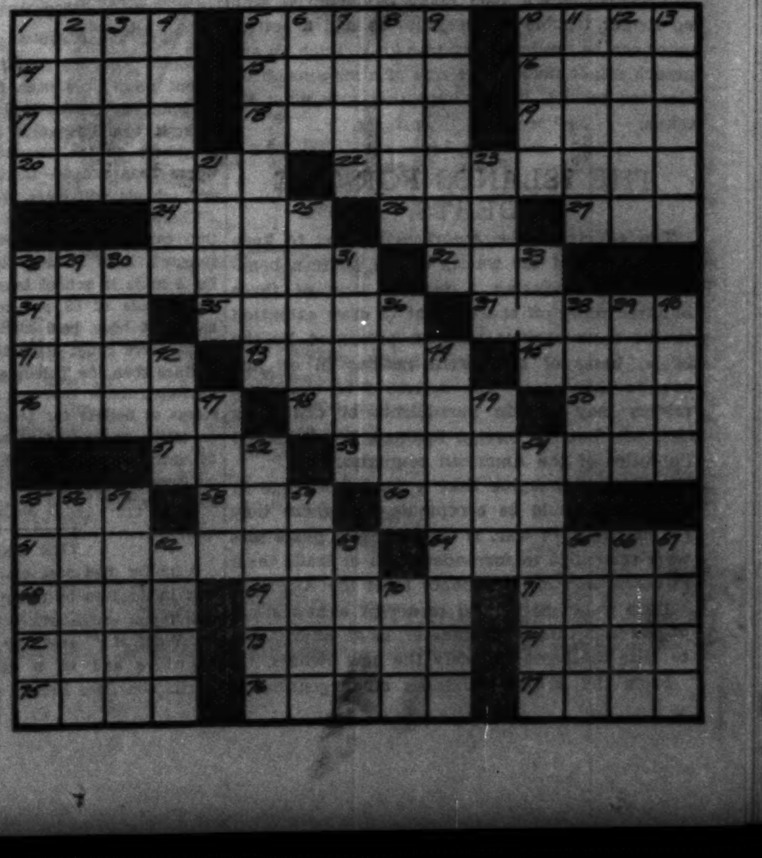
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





Thank Him, Mother

FOR ONLY YOUR DOCTOR CAN KNOW—

No mother should attempt to save a few pennies at the expense of her child's health.

Don't Give Your Child a Bargain Remedy You Don't Know All About

Wait. Think first. Are you absolutely sure you should give a single dose of that drug to your child? Internally, remember. You don't know anything about it, do you? It was sold, you recall, as "something just as good" and it cost you, perhaps, a few pennies less.

A very dear purchase it could be! For your own peace of mind alone, give no home remedy you're not quite certain about without getting your own doctor's opinion. And never go against it.

Even in the case of the common children's remedy, milk of magnesia, ask your doctor what he approves. And when he says "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" see that you get exactly that by asking expressly for "Phillips'" when you buy . . . never ask for just "milk of magnesia".

If your child prefers Phillips' in the newer form—tiny peppermint-flavored tablets scarcely larger than an aspirin tablet that children chew like candy, give it this way. For each tablet contains the equivalent of one teaspoonful of the liquid Phillips', and a big box costs only 25c at your drugstore.

The small bottle of liquid Phillips' costs but a quarter, too, so no family need take any chances on an unknown preparation. Get the genuine Phillips' by asking for it by its full name "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia".

Have your physician "check up" your family frequently. His scientific training may safeguard against serious illness.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

THE TRACTION TANGLE.

The city council's transportation committee and the representatives of the transportation services have reported an inability to come to terms on a franchise. This kind of thing has been happening at more or less regular intervals for a dozen years and of itself would occasion no great astonishment.

The only new element in the situation is the subway, now under construction, which is being paid for in part with funds advanced by the federal treasury. This money was made available on the understanding that the city and the reorganized company would agree on a franchise; what may happen to the subway if no such agreement is reached is a question to which nobody can give an entirely satisfactory answer. Perhaps the digging of the tunnels will be halted and perhaps if they are completed they will not be used.

It is not easy for the ordinary citizen to believe that very large sums could have been appropriated and, in part, spent when so many vital questions such as who is to use the subway and upon what terms were left open; but nothing that has happened will amaze any one familiar with the ways of government in business. The biggest of all the federal public works at this moment is the Grand Coulee project in the state of Washington, upon which some 400 million dollars is to be spent, first and last. The commitments on this project already run into nine figures, but not a contract has been made or is under negotiation for the sale of a watt of power or a gallon of irrigation water. That is the way government behaves when it goes into business, and the only way such wasteful practices can be avoided is to keep government out of business.

The difficulties in the Chicago negotiations are numerous, but by no means the least of them is the desperate financial condition of the elevated and the surface lines. The surface lines are in receivership, but they have never defaulted on their interest and they have considerable cash reserves, amounting to 25 or 30 million dollars in recent accountings. The elevated lines, on the other hand, are truly bankrupt, and it is very far from certain that their earnings will be greatly improved when some of the trains are operated thru subways. Several hundred thousand people in Chicago use the elevated daily and its discontinuance would impose a great hardship, but the lines operate to a considerable extent thru neighborhoods of declining population measured either in numbers or buying power. If the use of the subways improves the running time by five or ten minutes a trip, the neighborhoods served by the elevated lines might become more attractive, but the extent to which this improvement would be reflected in increased earnings is problematical.

Chicago's transportation problems will be solved only if adequate supplies of new money are obtained to rebuild and modernize all the existing services. Even if the usefulness of the subways is conceded, much additional money will be required for extensions and new equipment.

Any one who knows how that money is to be obtained on terms which will be fair to all concerned, including, of course, the car riders, has the answer to the riddle. Perhaps the answer lies in abandoning the recent line of attack and reverting to a more traditional one. If the properties in receivership are handled separately, put thru the wringer and reorganized as separate entities, perhaps a good many irrelevancies will no longer trouble the negotiators and a settlement can be reached more promptly. Such an approach might involve the risk of a suspension of elevated service, but perhaps that risk must be taken.

THE ISLANDS FOR THE DEBTS.

The efforts of the American nations to keep the war out of the waters of the western hemisphere by declaring a neutral zone of three hundred miles off shore ought to draw attention to the more serious problem presented by the island bases of belligerent nations in or just outside that zone. The activities of commerce raiders may contain possibilities of disturbing incidents, but the foreign holdings are unlimited liabilities of the American countries.

We cannot imagine that a forcible change in ownership would be acceptable. Yet there they are as pawns of war. If their present possessors were compelled to surrender them or trade them in across a peace conference table the American nations would be obliged to accept a new setup of power in this hemisphere or, as an alternative, to seize the bases and defy the new owners.

From the British Falklands off Argentina to the French St. Pierre and Miquelon off Newfoundland there is a string of bases, remnants of European conquest and colonization which have survived the disappearance of empire. Lax opinion may assume that in the present ownership these possessions, many of them suitable for air and submarine bases even if not for great naval establishments, have reached a stabilization of harmless use and purpose. That itself is reading something into the future which no one knows. If the ownership changed, as American ownership so often changed in the older days because of what happened in a European war, you may be sure that a lively interest would then be taken over here.

These islands should be incorporated within the jurisdictions of the various countries to which by natural position they belong. Our government, which would probably be sending warships to the islands if Great Britain and France were about to lose them, gives the matter no thought in its present status.

Great Britain and France will never pay their debts. The British owe us $5,497,069,380, the French $4,180,628,820 in principal and defaulted interest under funding arrangements that reduced the original debts virtually to the sums we advanced after the fighting in Europe had stopped. The only thing we will ever get on account is the islands. If either country has the slightest desire to restore the financial honor it forfeited by its debt welshing, it should be delighted at such favorable terms of payment.

There is a new war. New favors are asked and many have been obtained. There will be a new debt, even if we are lucky enough not to have a load of it. Our government is too infatuated to press for the only settlement that seems possible.

A PREMIUM ON FORCE.

To what extent may strikers engage in violence and still have their jobs restored to them by order of the National Labor Relations board?

The Supreme court offered an answer to the question in the Fansteel case. The court held that an employer could not be ordered to rehire men who had engaged in unlawful conduct, such as forcibly occupying property which wasn't theirs. "To justify such conduct because of the existence of a labor dispute or of an unfair labor practice," the court held, "would be to put a premium on resort to force instead of legal remedies . . ."

An answer of a different sort has just been offered by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in the appeal of the Republic Steel company against the labor board's order. The board had upheld the company in its refusal to rehire men who had been convicted of such felonies as possession and use of explosives, malicious destruction of property worth $300 or more, and possession of a bomb, but had ordered the company to put back to work nine men who had been found guilty of obstructing the passage of the mails during a strike, three who had been convicted of discharging firearms, seven who had maliciously destroyed property worth less than $300, one who had transported explosives, thirteen who had carried concealed weapons, etc. The Circuit court said that the company should not be required to put these men back to work, either.

But as for a great many others who had been involved in various forms of violence, the court upheld the labor board's decree. The court said that the board was correct in refusing to examine the evidence in such cases, for they are the concern of the police and local courts; and even when the courts had found men guilty of minor acts of violence, these did not constitute a bar to compulsory reëmployment.

The Circuit court defended this judgment with some ingenious reasoning. The act specifically says that it is not to be taken as in any sense denying the right to strike. A certain amount of violence is a frequent accompaniment of strikes. Therefore a certain amount of violence must be condoned, for otherwise the right to strike would be denied.

The Supreme court in the Fansteel case said that the labor board must not put a premium on resort to force instead of legal remedies, but the Circuit court has seen fit to modify the doctrine. In the judgment of this tribunal, it is all right to place a premium on violence provided the sluggers don't get too rough or don't get arrested and convicted. The court draws the line at murder but mere hotheaded mayhem is O. K. The C. I. O.'s militia must confine its wrecking of property to objects worth less than $300 apiece.

This is a strange doctrine, indeed, and it seems to be stretching things a bit to say that congress had any such notion in mind when the Wagner act was passed. As a matter of fact, the act was passed in the belief that a federal guarantee of the right to organize unions would prevent many strikes and thus eliminate a great deal of violence. The Wagner act machinery was regarded as a substitute for violence; just as the institution of courts did away with resort to private justice, so the creation of the labor board was supposed to end resort to physical force in industrial disputes. Physical coercion was to be obviated because the board was to enforce by peaceable means the rights created or affirmed in the Wagner act.

The Republic company intends, so the news dispatches have indicated, to appeal the verdict to the Supreme court. It is to be hoped, in the interest of the peace and order of the country, that this intention will be carried out.

AND NOW TOLEDO.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer.]

Toledo joins the list of major Ohio cities which in recent years have been forced to close their schools for longer or shorter periods because of lack of funds. First it was Springfield and later Dayton. Now our neighbors on the Maumee find the school cash box worse than empty—there is a deficit of $600,000—and schools will close Wednesday until Jan. 1.

There is considerable uncertainty as to whether they can be reopened then. Last week Toledo voters rejected, 2 to 1, their board of education's request for 4 mills in school taxes. Teachers, now employed on a basis of 88 per cent of their normal salary, have not been paid since September. Other special levies were voted down in 1936 and 1937.

Since then the Toledo schools have operated largely on hope. Now that can no longer be discounted in terms of dollars for teachers' wages, fuel, and light. In effect, the board of education is calling the bluff of antitax groups which, opposing the levies, have continued to insist that the schools will "get along somehow."

THE UNEXPECTED.

A golfer had lost his ball, and, not unnaturally, was inclined to be annoyed with his caddie. "Why didn't you watch where it went?" he asked angrily.

"Well, sir," said the boy, "it don't usually go anywhere and so it took me unexpected like."—Burlington Free Press.

DON'T BE SURPRISED IF—

If your dog faints from surprise and shock, like any Victorian lady. Fainting dogs are rare, but we can cite an instance:

The gently-bred cocker spaniel of the David Carlsons [he's an architect on the staff of Holabird & Root] was taking his ease on a window seat, dreaming peacefully of buried bones, and lamp posts, and dinner time. Suddenly a great and horrifying face appeared outside the window, close to the pane. It was a painter touching up the window frames. Another dog might have jumped thru the glass at the painter's throat, but cockers are a shy and sensitive breed. This one gave a strange shriek and fainted. His collapse was so complete and pathetic that Mrs. Carlson had to telephone a veterinary for advice about restoratives.

Don't be surprised if your waiter, in a chatty moment, says something about "his club." He will be referring to the International Geneva association, which is probably a more useful club than yours.

The rooms are at 327 South Plymouth court. It has a bar, a restaurant, and card tables like any other club. It also has an agency for finding jobs, several benefit activities of standard type, a lot in a cemetery, and an educational schedule of monthly lectures. The school of hotel management in Cornell university often supplies speakers.

The Geneva association was founded in Switzerland many years ago. It has branches over the world. The national headquarters are in West 44th street, New York, where a monthly magazine is published. The Chicago membership is about 200.

Don't be surprised if that terrible and mysterious outfit called the Fichte Bund, mistranslated in the newspapers as the Fight League, turns out to be named after Johann Gottlieb Fichte, a German philosopher [1762-1814].

GALES FROM THE NORTH.

Veering down across the border,
Crusting waters near the Soo,
Blowing windmills out of order,
Shouting in the chimney flue,
Trailing smoke skeins down the beach
From Escanaba, stripping birch,
Ungowning maple, drawing speech
From the rusty vane on the Baptist church,
Driving the ore boats off the lake—

Great gales now come, and the first cold flake,
Dispatched from the north where storms are massing,
Dissolves on the shank of my wooden rake
To the last warm tear for summer's passing.

Why Do Columnists Go Dotty?

Since you have become a standard columnist and use dots between sentences [Nov. 17], take a look at these remarks on the subject of miscellaneous dots in the Tribune style book of 1934:

"Only heaven knows . . . whether the conjecture concerning the meaning of the dots in present day writing . . . that is, that they indicate a pause . . . comes anywhere near the truth. More plausible is the explanation . . . the consensus of printers . . . that those writers who use dots know nothing . . . or next to nothing . . . about punctuation. . . ." Sunday Room.

Final Returns from Proviso Township.

The guess of the Jinx of Jenks street [Nov. 11] as to the origin of the name of Proviso township was correct, for my great-grandpappy, Augustin Porter, whose bronze bust is in the Chicago Historical society's museum in Lincoln park, named it after the Wilmot Proviso bill.

He also named Cicero after a town in New York, from which he moved to Chicago, so we Porter kinsfolk have been told. Crookie.

A Little Matter for Investigation.

Every evening a song from another existence swings out on radios. We danced the one step to it, and, while its popularity was still high, volunteers marched as we sang its alternate chorus:

"You're a big husky chap,
Uncle Sam's in a scrap,
You must go, Johnnie, go, Johnnie, go."

After hearing that tune again we had to pinch our arms to remember what time it is by the calendar. Once more the song is a tremendous hit. We wonder if its revival is spontaneous or if . . . well, you finish it. Elpy.

HOW AND WHY WE PERSPIRE.

As most of us know, we get rid of a goodly amount of water as well as certain other substances, via the skin. The process of evaporation from the epidermis, which goes on constantly, is augmented by sweating. Now this fluid is acid in reaction and contains a number of nitrogenous compounds as well as common salt. The total thrown off in each 24 hours varies from 20 to 30 ounces. In fact, about one-fourth of all the liquid that the system loses departs thru this avenue. If one is exercising even moderately, this fraction is greater.

How does perspiration find its way to the surface? Each of us possesses between two and three million sweat glands. All are supplied with ducts which lead to the exterior. In addition, there are about as many grease glands [sebaceous], the outlets of which empty into the hair follicles. The ordinary sweat device is called "eccrine" from a Greek word meaning "to secrete." The grease factories adjacent to hair follicles are termed "apocrine" which carries the thought that they exude more solid matter. Hairy portions—the armpits, for example—are richly equipped with both types.

We can liken the true sweat gland to those which manufacture saliva. In other words, the fluid is obtained from the blood. Activity depends upon nerve stimulation which controls the circulation to the region. Beneath the arms [axilla] these glands are especially large and, because of the heat of the body, they may be unusually busy. In this vicinity the two secretions [sweat and sebaceous material] mix. But this output is quite different from that which proceeds from the palms of the hands or the soles of the feet, inasmuch as these areas yield no oil.

There is considerable variation between individuals as to the tendency to perspire. Some will complain of ever present moistness particularly about the axilla, the palms of the hands, and the soles of the feet. Others will respond quickly to a slight rise in temperature or to exercise which stimulates the blood flow and consequently the elimination from the skin. As heat provokes, so cold retards, and there is far less evaporation during the winter months.

In childhood the axillary glands are relatively inactive, but as hairs begin to grow increased production becomes evident. Furthermore, the cuticle in this location reacts quickly to nervous impressions and "mental sweating" may be not only obvious but annoying. One reason why this part of the body must receive good hygienic attention is because the secreting structures are extremely industrious. Furthermore, the excretion is strong enough to fade clothing and injure fabrics. It is far from alkaline as it contains butyric and other organic acids as well as urea. The odor is stronger at times than at others. This comes largely from the fatty exudate. Occasionally bacteria complicate the picture and may be responsible for some fermentation.

There was a time when women used dress shields extensively for the purpose of protecting from discoloration the delicate hues of their garments. It is now customary to employ not only a deodorant but a chemical which will—for the time being at least—reduce the flow. Aluminum chloride is probably our best deterrent. Aluminum sulfocarbolate, which is not quite so potent, is another.

But despite precautions the threads of the garments may be so injured that they will not stand repeated cleaning. The recommended procedure is to apply the solution on retiring, washing it off in the morning. A fairly satisfactory substitute is a powder that contains a generous proportion of potassium alum. Many shopkeepers insist that during "try-ons" either this dusting preparation or paper shields be utilized.

STUTTERING.

R. B. writes: What causes a child to stutter?

REPLY.

Many theories have been advanced as to the cause but the most favored explanation at the present time is an emotional basis. Many cases respond splendidly to proper treatment. In some cases the retraining period is long.

We have a list of books on speech defects which may be secured by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WINDOWS OF THE SOUL—HEALTH.

A. B. writes: Why does a physician inspect the interior of a patient's eyes as a part of his examination?

REPLY.

Much can be learned from an examination of the retina and its blood vessels. This is a necessary part of a physical checkup. The instrument employed is the ophthalmoscope.

NOT NECESSARILY.

G. M. writes: Is it true that after an appendicitis operation one gains weight steadily?

REPLY.

Not necessarily! A gain in weight follows better digestion and more food. Increasing the amount of exercise and decreasing the quantity of edibles will halt the piling up of fat.

THE WORLD WAR 25 YEARS AGO

[From Tribune Files.]

Nov. 21, 1914.

[116th day of world war; 82d day of present war.]

LONDON.—Two big battles are being fought in Poland. One, between the Vistula and Warta rivers, is at its height. The Germans are advancing along both banks of the Vistula and have gained points within a few marches of Warsaw. The other battle is on the Cracow-Czenstochowa front and both the Russians and the Germans claim it is proceeding satisfactorily for them.

LIMA, Peru.—The German steamer Luxor of the Kosmor Line has left Coronel, Chile, with 8,000 tons of coal aboard and without clearance papers. Chilean authorities have ordered the capture of the Luxor.

BRUSSELS—Jean Van Branden, member of the Belgian National Relief committee, said that refugees, driven by the cold, were pouring into Brussels at the rate of 25,000 a day. Lack of fuel and a shortage of food in the villages caused the massed march of sufferers on the city, he said.

ON REFORMING THE BENCH.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—To THE TRIBUNE'S editorial of Nov. 16, "Will the Bar Reform the Bench?" the answer is no. Only the people can reform the bench. The bar neither nominates, confirms, nor appoints any member of any bench. The recommendations of our local bar, even when aided by the press, have in the last few years been almost totally disregarded, and the politicians' slate has been elected. All federal judges, including the Supreme court, are appointed by and with the advice and consent of the senate. Neither the bar nor the people have any say about it. In a few states judges are appointed by the governor with the consent of the senate. In Illinois all judges are elected directly by the people.

Both these systems have merit. Might not a combination of them produce better results than now obtain in Illinois? In Illinois outside of Cook county there are 51 Circuit court judges: in Chicago, 21; in addition there are 28 Superior court judges, making a grand total of 100 judges. Why not have the governor, with the consent of the senate, appoint one-third of all the Circuit court judges of the state and of the Superior court in Cook county? Let the people elect the rest as at present. Under this suggested system there would undoubtedly be a contrast between judges elected by popular vote and the appointed judges, and this might bring about a healthy competition between the two systems. It would enable a governor to rescue the victim of a popular landslide and restore him to the bench and keep the bench from being composed exclusively of judges of one party, as is true of the Municipal court of Chicago today.

The Municipal court has 36 judges, elected by the people. The appointment of one-third of these might well be lodged in the mayor and council of the city, their selection being limited to lawyers recommended by the Chicago Bar association, such recommendation being based upon a poll of all practicing lawyers of the city.

The judicial primaries should be abolished, as they rarely accomplish the results hoped for.

THE DAPHNE LETTER.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—I read your editorial—answer to the letter of Solicitor Frank Daphne, London. The best answer to him would be for all of us to send the editorial to him and mark in red what "George Washington said": that by mere coincidence is immediately above your excellent article. Who will join me?

Let's give to this solicitor the American answer. By the way, did you notice that the letter wasn't sent from "Somewhere in France"? What is such a good Englishman doing at home?

FRANK SCUDELLA.

Chicago, Nov. 17.—It was interesting to compare the letter of Mr. F. Daphne with the answering editorial in this morning's TRIBUNE. On one hand we had a frank, logical expression of the British opinion of the American war attitude and the reasons why America should ally herself with the democracies. On the other hand was a set of twisted, distorted arguments of a person trying to explain why he doesn't perform a duty which he knows in his heart he should.

THOMAS W. BLAIR.

[THE TRIBUNE acknowledges receipt of numerous other comments on Solicitor Daphne's letter, including copies of several replies sent direct to him in London.]

PICTURES ARE THE "EASY WAY."

Chicago, Nov. 18.—It is said that one good picture is worth a thousand words. Young and old, tutored and illiterate, native or alien, all can understand a picturized story.

School men were perhaps the first to fully appreciate the value of the silver screen. Many pedagogs saw in it a short cut to the essentials of all knowledge. Now, if this new diet in erudition had been served only as an intellectual hors d'oeuvres all would have been well. But, as so often happens when one begins to depend on stimulants, the desire on the part of the adolescent to acquire knowledge [other than by the short cut] almost entirely disappeared.

Today we are confronted with a situation giving us cause for alarm. Our youngsters have developed an indifference toward the written word that is compelling new simplified texts and a picturized supplemental reading.

Magazines that once contained reading matter have entirely capitulated to the photographer. And movies and radio, combined with the mental laziness in both the young and old, is fast threatening to do to the written word what the typewriter did to our penmanship.

A. BOOTH.

PROUD TO BE A CITIZEN.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—I have read Judge Schmidt's letter about Citizenship day. Why not include all naturalized citizens at the same time before they have a chance to be led astray by some foreign soap box orator; make them feel they are one of us? Then show them what they have gained as American citizens and what they stand to lose.

I am a naturalized citizen myself, as is my wife, and we are proud of it. I would like to see all of them feel the same way.

THE WEATHER FORECASTS.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Regarding Mr. Donnel's reply to criticisms of our weather forecasts permit me to add my bit.

It is regrettable that records other than Mr. Donnel's are not available. His contention that the forecasts for 25 years have been "substantially correct 84.4 per cent of the time" falls utterly to impress any one who reads the forecasts in the newspaper each morning.

The weather bureau could be dispensed with tomorrow, and no one would ever miss it.

J. W. B.

HE WOULD ASK PAT NASH.

Eagle Harbor, Mich., Nov. 16.—THE TRIBUNE has a vigorous editorial relative to the real estate association of the murdered race track racketeer, Eddie O'Hare, and one of your conspicuous idealists of the Chicago bar, Judge Eugene Holland. They were partners in the real estate business. And you ask with propriety, "How long must Chicago wait for action to clean up the undesirables on the bench?" Why ask your readers? Why not put the question to Pat Nash, the Democratic boss of your town? He owns the courts, doesn't he?

Again congratulations to THE TRIBUNE on your editorial on O'Hare and Holland. This is another opportunity for your great paper to do another public service. Maybe you can shame the political overlords into insisting that their Chicago judges be decent.

WHAT DID DR. RUSH SAY?

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Can any reader give me information regarding the supposed statement of Dr. Benjamin Rush, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, who is credited with saying that the constitution should provide for medical freedom as well as for religious freedom?

If your readers can give me the name of the document in which this statement appears, and if by any chance the page, his courtesy will be appreciated.

ALDERMEN HEAR SUPERHIGHWAY PROGRAM TODAY

Thoro Examination of All Plans Promised.

BY HAL FOUST.

The council traffic and finance committees will meet jointly this morning for their first formal consideration of the city's superhighway plans. These include a proposal for the city to build a $32,000,000 Congress street improvement and for the city, county and state to join in construction of a $210,000,000 system to serve all sections of Chicago.

Ald. George D. Kells [28th], chairman of the traffic committee, said the meeting will be attended by engineers for the city, the state highway department, and the United States bureau of public roads. Most of the session is to be devoted to an explanation of the plans by Charles E. De Leuw, consulting engineer for the traction commission.

Hearings to Be Held.

"Public hearings will follow," said Kells. "Most of the aldermen agree that no decision on the merits of these plans should be reached until the problems have been thoroly explored and until every one with a suggestion has had an opportunity to be heard."

Among those who have expressed a desire to be heard is the Chicago Motor club. It has attacked the De Leuw plan for Congress street mainly on the ground that an eastern terminal of a superhighway at Canal street would be inaccessible to much of the traffic from the central business district.

Protest from Oak Park.

Emile O. Bloche, president of the Oak Park Chamber of Commerce, also has asked to be heard. His organization objects to a superhighway terminating at the Chicago-Oak Park city limits, dumping its traffic onto local suburban streets.

A basic question to be decided by the council committees is whether the city is obligated to improve Congress street with gasoline tax revenue as a result of such a provision in an $18,000,000 PWA subway grant.

Whether the state legislature can obligate future gas tax collections is a question to be decided by the Illinois Supreme court in a test case to validate the sale of $60,000,000 in gas tax anticipation notes authorized by the general assembly this year for superhighway construction.

The Inquiring Reporter

The Question.

Toledo closed its schools because of a $600,000 deficit. Did the city have the right to do so or should the schools have been operated on a deficit basis?

Where Answered.

In the loop.

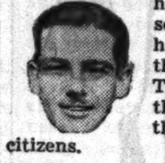
The Answers.

Miss Janet Moore, 208 East Superior street, model.—They should have continued operating. Some way could have been worked out. I'm sure the teachers would have been willing to make certain sacrifices temporarily to keep the schools open.

T. P. Riese, 546 Parkside avenue, Highland Park, telephone maintenance man.—By all means the schools should have stayed open. Economies should have been instituted in order to to do away with the deficit. The children shouldn't be made the goats of the situation.

Miss Connie Seaman, 75 East Wacker drive, head of a models' bureau.—They had no right to close the schools, deficit or no deficit. They could have gone to the banks for aid. Public spirited citizens should have been made to realize the dangers involved.

C. W. Lane, 6200 Kenmore avenue, cameraman.—I believe it was the worst thing in the world to close those schools. They should have considered every available financial solution before closing. There must have been some way.



William C. Arnold, 7658 Union avenue, photographer.—They shouldn't have closed down the schools. They might have issued scrip until the deficit was cleared. They are endangering the mental growth of the country's future citizens.

Uninvited Guests Bring Guns to Party; 10 Robbed

Ten of the guests had invitations to the birthday party last night in the back rooms of a bakery at 2039 Chicago avenue. The other two guests came unbidden. They had guns. They forced the others to lie in a circle on the floor and toss their money into the center. After collecting $10 the robbers fled. Julian Busse, the bakery owner, who resisted them, was blackjacked.

POLICEMAN'S CAR KILLS PHYSICIAN NEAR HOSPITAL

Salesman Dies When Auto Upsets on Curve.

Dr. Lyle Durkee, 25 years old, an intern at the Illinois Central hospital, was fatally injured yesterday when he was run down by an automobile in front of the hospital at 5800 Stony Island avenue. The driver was Policeman Robert English, 35, who was on his way to work at the Hyde Park station from his home at 8146 Ingleside avenue.

English said the young physician had started suddenly to cross the street and he was unable to avoid hitting him. The policeman was instructed to appear at the inquest today.

Charles F. Seitz, 35 years old, 827 North Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, was killed when his new automobile left the road and overturned three times. The accident occurred at a curve in Harlem avenue at 70th street, Summit. Seitz was a salesman for the Westinghouse Supply company.

Second Crash Victim Dies.

Arnold Teitge, 24 years old, 2148 West 15th avenue, Gary, died in the Methodist hospital, Gary, of injuries suffered Sunday night in an accident in which a Chicagoan was killed. The Chicagoan was Peter Tolney, 38, of 1725 North Kimball avenue, an ironworker. He was driving in Indiana highway 53, three miles southeast of Crown Point, when he lost control of his car, which hit a pole and a cattle loading platform.

Four Tilden High school boys were injured when they were brushed from the side of a cattle truck, on which they were hitching a ride, at 47th and Throop streets. They are John Woods, 16 years old, 7219 South Honore street; Thomas Sullivan, 16, of 5129 Latrobe avenue; Eugene Kadella, 16, of 3121 West 42d street, and Fred Novack, 15, of 5144 Troy street. The Woods and Sullivan boys were the most seriously hurt.

An inquest will be held in East Chicago, Ind., tomorrow night into the death of Perry Smith, 35 years old, 824 South 13th avenue, Maywood, who was killed Sunday night when he drove his automobile head-on into a street car at Indianapolis boulevard and Riley road, East Chicago.

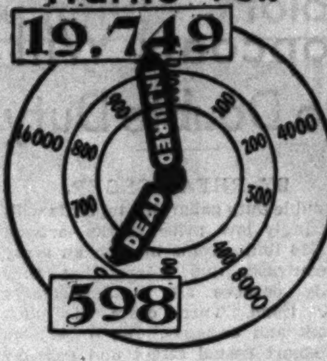
Delay Inquiry in Crash.

An inquest into the death of Miss Helen Verdien, 26 years old, 2110 North avenue, was continued to await the appearance of Bruno Mark, 24, of 1239 North Ashland avenue, to recover from injuries. She was killed yesterday morning when Mark's car, in which she was riding, hit a truck at Erie street and Damen avenue.

A warrant for the arrest of Ira W. Cinkofstine, 1369 Hyde Park boulevard, was issued yesterday in Watseka, where he was accused of leaving the scene of an accident. Witnesses who stopped his car said he refused to return after his automobile struck William Frederick, 23, of Watseka, who was riding on a bicycle.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 775 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 598 were killed in Chicago where 19,749 were injured in the same period.

THE MASSACRE Chicago's 1939 Traffic Toll



More than 98% of the city's automobile fatalities are of a nature physically impossible on an urban superhighway.

CITY AMBULANCE SERVICE URGED BY COMMITTEE

Establishment of a municipally operated ambulance service was recommended yesterday by the joint committee on public emergency ambulance service, which has been studying the question for two years. It would cost the city $280,000 the first year and $235,000 annually thereafter.

Dr. Malcolm T. MacEachern, chairman of the committee, said the proposal would be submitted soon to city council. Representatives of the American College of Surgeons, the Chicago Hospital council, the Chicago Medical society, and the Council of Social Agencies were on the group.

The committee suggested that the ambulance service be managed by a board of directors of "about nine distinguished citizens who have no financial interest in hospitals or their related affairs."

Under the plan, the city would be divided into 20 zones, each equipped with an ambulance. The vehicles would be stationed in or near hospitals. Each zone hospital would maintain an emergency department and would provide ambulance doctors.

FALLS DOWNSTAIRS; DIES.

Lawrence Garrigan, 23 years old, 6414 South Damen avenue, died in Englewood hospital last night of a broken neck. He was injured Sunday morning in a fall downstairs in the home of his fiancée, Miss Alvina Varilek, 23, of 2739 Washington boulevard.

INDICT 5 ON PAY LAW AND CHILD LABOR CHARGES

The federal grand jury yesterday returned four indictments alleging violations of the wages and hours law. The Miller-Gebhardt company, 2050 Larrabee street, manufacturers of artificial flowers, was accused in one indictment of violating child labor provisions of the act.

This is the first prosecution for alleged child labor violations in this area and the second in the country, according to government agents. They charged that 200 of the company's 300 employés who work in their own homes were children under the age of 16, who averaged 8 to 8½ cents an hour The minimum wage is 25 cents. Goods manufactured by children younger than 16 cannot be shipped in interstate commerce.

The other indictments named Richard E. Gebhardt, president of the company and Harry W. Miller, secretary; the Allied Golf corporation, 4528 Fullerton avenue, third largest manufacturer of golf clubs, and Morris Belz, a partner in the Fitrite Garment company, 1318 Milwaukee avenue, manufacturer of women's dresses. The indictments allege falsification of pay roll records and failure to pay overtime. Conviction carries a maximum possible fine of $10,000 on each count of the indictments.

9 ON STREET CAR HURT AS TRUCK HITS IT HEAD-ON

Nine persons were injured yesterday when a truck loaded with cement rammed the front of a street car as it was making a left turn from South Chicago avenue into 91st street. All were on the trolley. The truck driver, Nicholas Kronenberger, 3402 West 116th place, said he did not realize the car was going to turn until it was too late for him to stop. He was booked by South Chicago police on a charge of reckless driving.

The injured were treated at South Chicago hospital. They included the conductor, T. J. Zigament, 4614 South Wells street, who suffered a broken arm, and two children, Mary Ann Dinger, 6 years old, and her brother, Robert, 7, of 8824 Saginaw avenue.

The others are: Julio Retaich, 10730 Avenue F; Mrs. Mary Gjeldum, 10642 Ewing avenue; Mrs. Sewnie Waydetich, 10534 Avenue G; Mrs. Anne Siegler, 8455 Phillips avenue; Jennie Baricevich, 8903 Buffalo avenue, and George Georgulis, 6101 Champlain avenue.

Two Get Jail Sentences for Driving While Drunk

Judge Joseph B. Hermes of the Safety court yesterday sentenced two motorists to the county jail for driving while intoxicated. Steve Oskeiko, 44 years old, of Lyons, was sentenced to ten days, and Aurelio Martinez, 32, of 715 Barber street, to thirty days. Martinez was deprived of his driving privileges for one year.

Electric Fence Success.

Nov. 20, 1939.

AN electric fence installed more than two years ago at the Du Page county farm appears to have solved the problem of maintaining pens to hold dairy bulls. A single strand of charged wire fastened to insulators around the inside of the bull pen is all that is necessary to keep the most rugged bulls on the farm from trying to break out. A few harmless shocks and the bulls are willing to concede that the fence is too strong for them.

One bull pen at the farm was old and about ready to be rebuilt when the charged wire was put up in the summer of 1937. The pen still is standing. No bull has made a second attempt to break thru it.

Success with the electric fence in the bull pens has led workers to believe that it might work equally well as a means of repairing old fences about the farm. They think that a charged wire strung along an old fence might make the fence effective without further repairs.

Gives Little Trouble.

The electric fence has given little trouble and has proved convenient and satisfactory for fencing off temporary pastures for dairy cows. A field can be fenced off in a short time. The fence can be taken down and moved with little effort.

It usually is easy to train animals to consider a single strand of charged wire as a fence worthy of their respect. Untrained animals invariably go nosing around the wire at first, but they stay away after one or two shocks.

Electric fences can be used with all classes of farm animals. Two wires sometimes are needed to control hogs and sheep. Some farmers say this type of fence is unsatisfactory for sheep because their wool protects them from the electric shock. Others have found that by using barbed wire and training sheep immediately after they are sheared they can be taught to stay away from the wire.

Also Used for Hogs.

Many farmers use electric fences in hogging down corn. They fence off a small portion of the field at a time and then move the fence when the hogs have cleaned up the small patch. This eliminates some of the waste of turning hogs into an entire field.

Some farmers use corn stalks as posts when fencing off parts of a field for hogging down corn. They cut a row of corn where the fence is to go, cutting off one stalk about two feet above the ground at every seventh or eighth hill. Insulators then are wired to these corn stalk posts to support the wire.

Altho electric fences are easy to build and are considered inexpensive to operate, farmers have found them dangerous to use unless they are properly installed. Some are charged from batteries and others from regular high line current. Those operated by 110 volt current are said to be safe if equipped with proper controllers. Low powered battery units, too weak to produce a fatal shock, are considered to be safe and effective.

The Housewife

Here's a time and temper saver for the busy cook. It is a convenient little gadget made of stainless steel which does away with sewing up the turkey or chicken or fish after you have the stuffing inside. You simply clip it in place and it holds the skin or meat together. After roasting this clip is quickly and easily removed.

What a fine little helper when you're preparing your Thanksgiving turkey! It's available in two sizes and is not a bit costly.

Try Brushing Your Way to Good Figure

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Brush your way to a good figure," says Marta Eggert Kiepura, wife of Jan Kiepura, Metropolitan opera star, herself an actress and singer of note. And she, of the 23 inch waist—probably one of the tiniest waist measurements recorded—ought to know.

Every day of her life, Mrs. Kiepura takes brush in hand and gives herself a thoro going-over from head to toe. At some time during each day she gets out her brush, usually before taking a shower. She bathes first in very warm water, and uses her brush together with a very soapy lather. Then she allows the water to cool slowly, until it is icy cold.

* * *

The brush she uses is a large, stiff bristled one, which resembles, in appearance and in function, a regular bath brush. No small, soft brush will do the task required of the hard, spartan one that Mrs. Kiepura uses.

In addition to her self applied beauty ritual, the actress eats plentifully, and scorns starvation diets.

Mrs. Kiepura, however, does not stop at brush massage and sensible eating to sustain her lovely figure. She believes in the fresh air and walking theories as the best aids to beauty.

Looking at Hollywood

By Ed Sullivan

Behind the Scenes

Hollywood, Cal., Nov. 20.—If this proves to be more of a sporting column than a Hollywood column, blame it on Bob Hope and Bing Crosby, because they were talking to the man with the glasses and when he told them that he read my column in Boston regularly, they called me over and said: "Ed, meet Mr. Ouimet." Now I've had a lot of thrills, but meeting Francis Ouimet was a particularly deep thrill because on the afternoon in 1913 when he beat Ted Ray and Harry Vardon, famous British professionals, in the playoff for the United States open championship, your reporter was caddying at the Apawamis club, at Rye, N. Y. In those days there were no radios to project the news from the golf course where the graduate caddy was opposing the two legendary figures of British golf, and it was not until we got in that we learned that Ouimet whipped both of them.

* * *

On that afternoon Ouimet was representing America in general, but young America specifically. In him all of us kids saw ourselves dramatized, and when he beat those cagey veterans at their own game it was a tremendous emotional experience for us. A kid had accomplished this unbelievable triumph and we were kids, and Ouimet was our representative. I never thought then that twenty-six years later I'd finally meet him in California on the first tee at the Bel Air club. Oddly, the thrill he gave me when I was 11 years old was just as keen when we met, altho then I was 37.

Ouimet did more for golf that afternoon than any one has done before or since. Up to that time golf was not an American game, but a Scottish and British game. In addition it was considered a game for old codgers. So Ouimet not only made golf an American game, he proved also that it was a game for youngsters. From that time on sales of golf equipment doubled and trebled; golf should have given him a pension for life because he put it on the map. He was to golf what Charlie Chaplin has been to motion pictures.

* * *

It is too bad that on this afternoon at Bel Air Maurice McLoughlin was not on hand. McLoughlin is a Bel Air member, and he did for tennis what Ouimet, a year later, did for golf. Up to the advent of McLoughlin tennis was rated a game for the senile and the septuagenarian, but the coast redhead, now gray, gave it such dash and color that young America lost its scorn for the game and took it up with great enthusiasm. Ouimet and McLoughlin, in different sports, converted them into common denominators of enthusiasm. I wish they'd met at Bel Air Sunday afternoon and that a photographer had been on hand to snap their pictures, because it would have been an important record for young America's archives.

The trouble with us, in this country, is that living rapidly we fail to pay the great veterans sufficient homage. In England, particularly, that populace signally honors the illustrious graybeards and it is a nice custom.

The Gabardine Topcoats Will Do Double Duty

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Double duty gabardine topcoats with amazingly low price marks—around the $10 limit—come in such an array of contrasts and colors that they richly deserve all the excitement over them. Turn coats of much swank and swagger, they'll perform for smart casual street and daytime wear with the same smoothness that they slide on for a spell of rainy weather.

The plain colored affairs come in particularly good shades of wine red, bronze green, brown, and sapphire blue. Outside colors are these, in snappy diagonally textured wool, inside, the beige shade of good time tried gabardine that repels the most penetrating gust of wind and rain.

Most of them come with detachable hoods of the same dual purpose wool and gabardine. Others use the cheery comfort of good wool plaid in warm contracts of beige and red and gold and green with the beige gabardine for accent. Authentic Scotch plaids, too, come teamed with the waterproof beige gabardine.

These are the best of the all-purpose wardrobe coats that won the college girl's whole-hearted approval. Since they have been appreciatively bought for the career girl wardrobe as well as the lucky people who live and play in the country.

In the same shop see the newest head wrappers, knitted wool wrap around turbans in a prize winning assortment of colors, including plenty of street and town tones. These are new, plenty effective, grand finds for the imaginative soul who can twist a new twist every time. Besides, they achieve that tricky casual look, being of soft blending wool that will top tweeds as well as town wool suits and coats.

Real Feeling Marks Otello of Martinelli

BY EDWARD BARRY.

At the Civic Opera house last night the Chicago City Opera company gave Verdi's "Otello" a performance which, though far from faultless, possessed in high degree the power to enlist the audience's sympathies. Giovanni Martinelli, making his first appearance of the season, took us so deep into Otello's troubled heart that only a listener made of iron could have withstood his love and disappointment and despair.

And Helen Jepson, as Desdemona, trotted out some of her most glorious voice colorings in a successful effort to put her lost cause persuasively before the audience. Carlo Morelli, who as a baritone draws a lot of distasteful rôles, made even Iago a man whose cold passion could carry us away. This vengeful passion of Iago, by the way, was grasped so well by Mr. Morelli that he forbore to express it in any stagy way. It simmered rather than boiled.

Giuseppe Cavadore, who can be trusted to distinguish and dignify any part he undertakes, was the Cassio of the evening. Ada Paggi, Kenneth Morrow, Mark Love, and Edward Stack sang Emilia, Roderigo, Lodovico, and Montano—in that order. Henry Weber conducted.

The performance was marred by the tentativeness and raggedness of the stage action and chorus singing in the first act, and by an abnormal amount of excessively loud playing by the orchestra.

Wake up with more pep . . . feel better all day long.
Try the Vitality Boost!

● To be a rousing success in business, to have a full measure of fun out of life, it's important to feel good . . . right from the time the alarm clock sounds until bedtime. Yet lots of folks who are perfectly well don't seem to enjoy this buoyed-up feeling.

If you lack pep . . . if your days string out and you feel logy in the morning when you rise . . . try the Vitality Boost. It's working for hundreds of Chicagoans and it probably will for you, too.

The Vitality Boost is simple, economical and pleasant . . . simply a glass of Bowman Milk, hot or cold, each night before retiring. As you try it, remember these three scientific reasons why it works.

(1) You take it when your stomach is empty. Preventing hunger pangs, it helps you get more restful sleep.

(2) It reduces the tax on your energy store that even sleeping takes. (Your body's need of fuel each sleeping hour is actually 40% of the average for all your waking, working hours! That's because your heart keeps pumping, breathing continues, "relaxed" muscles are always under tension.)

(3) It gives your body, in easily digestible form, a greater variety of nutritional essentials than any other food can provide!

So tomorrow night, start getting your Vitality Boost. Drink a full glass of fresh, pure milk at bedtime. You'll enjoy it particularly if the milk is Bowman's. More people in Chicago and vicinity drink Bowman Milk than any other kind. Produced with extra care, it has a specially delicious flavor.

Do this not once but night after night for a month. See if you don't get more good from your sleep. See if your Vitality Boost doesn't make you feel a lot better.

Social Events Hail Return of Winter Season

BY JUDITH CASS.

TWO events today are proof that the holiday season has arrived. There will be a meeting of the Snow Chase club this afternoon at the Palmer House. The annual Christmas sale of the Woman's exchange will be held all day today at the Drake hotel.

A tantalizing display of pretty gifts for young and old will tempt Christmas shoppers at the exchange sale.

Breathtaking new ski movies will beguile the Snow Chasers, who remember all too well the unfortunate snow conditions of the last two winters.

The club has had too few week-ends of sport during the last two winters. This year, however, the club is not going to put all of its eggs in one basket. Instead of using exclusively its own skiing grounds in the "Mississippi Alps" near La Crosse, Wis., the club will meet in any part of the country, within a few hours' trip, where there is ample snow.

The directors of the club, who include Edgerton A. Throckmorton, Everett L. Millard Jr., Mrs. Harris Fahnestock Jr., and Stewart Boal, will hold a meeting before the movie party, which will start at 5:30 o'clock. Among the plans they will discuss will be instalation of a telephone service to obtain latest snow reports from various Michigan and Wisconsin resorts, and the election of new officers.

Mrs. Fahnestock, the former Frances Jeffery, is retiring as secretary of the club, for after her marriage last spring she moved east.

Mr. Boal will retire as president. Henry Meers is the treasurer. A new director must be elected to fill Ralph F. Chatillon's place. He has moved to New York.

Mrs. Ernest A. Hamill II. spent yesterday decorating a stunning modern Christmas tree that will be found in the center of the ballroom at the Drake hotel at the exchange sale. Mrs. William M. Spencer, Mrs. Alden B. Swift, Mrs. William Roy Carney and Mrs. Frank Blossom are others who helped to arrange the goods and decorate the ballroom.

Luncheon will be served today under the direction of Mrs. Abraham K. Selz.

Two Other Groups Hold Holiday Events.

Sharing interest with the exchange sale are two other pre-Christmas events. Today a sale of Christmas presents, linens, and toys from the Hull House shop, and the annual sale and turkey dinner of the league and auxiliary of St. James' church.

Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen is opening her home at 1430 Astor street for the Hull House sale. Her daughter, Mrs. de Koven Phelps, will entertain at luncheon for some of the women who will help with the selling.

Any one who wants mincemeat for Thanksgiving or Christmas dinners will find the league and auxiliary's famed mincemeat ready for purchasers in the parish house of St. James'. The mincemeat is made from Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson's recipe.

Edward J. Lawler Jr. to Wed Southern Girl.

Romantic news of interest is the announcement from Mrs. Rayburn Dunscomb of Memphis, Tenn., of the engagement of her daughter, Elizabeth Falls, to Edward J. Lawler Jr., son of Edward J. Lawler of Chicago. No date has been set for the marriage, but after it takes place Mr. Lawler will bring his bride here to live. Miss Dunscomb is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Dunscomb and of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Napoleon Falls, families that long have been prominent in Memphis. She attended the Bennett school in Millbrook, N. Y., and is a member of the Memphis Junior league.

Mr. Lawler is a graduate of the University of Chicago and of the Harvard law school.

A gala audience is expected in Orchestra hall tonight for the second concert in this winter's series by the Woman's Symphony orchestra. Lois Bichl, cellist, will be the soloist.

Good Morning!

Somewhere along the line "Here I Am a Stranger" just misses being a mighty good picture. I think, because the yarn sort of sags in spots, the direction sagged right along with it.

A somewhat unusual father and son story holds the stage with the Richards, Dix and Greene, in the featured rôles. To young Mr. Greene, as David, falls the necessity of choosing between the REAL and the FALSE—i. e., will he live the life of ease which awaits him at the hands of his mother and stepfather providing he keeps mum regarding a certain incident, or will he hew to the principles of his own father and stand firmly on his own two feet?

When David was a little shaver his mother had left his improvident and liquor craving newspaper-man father, and, for her son's sake, married a wealthy but unloved man. . . . David goes to college—the same school where his own father had once been a football star. Thrilled by stories about that father, who lives in a nearby town, he sets out to make Allen's acquaintance.

The two become buddies. Duke gives up his drinking and settles down to steady work on a newspaper. David, inclined to be snobbish, straightens out into a regular guy under his father's steady eyes, and, when the moment comes to display his caliber, comes thru clean. . . .

Both Richards give excellent performances and the piece is highlighted by the good work of Gladys George, Roland Young, and George Zucco. I couldn't care for Brenda ["The Rains Came"] Joyce as the tomboyish professor's daughter.

Hitler Story.

Dr. O. E. Van Alyea had a new Hitler story for fellow backgammon players at the Racquet club the other day. It concerned a visit Hitler made to the new insane asylum at Stuttgart.

"A most interesting fact, dear leader," pointed out the superintendent, "we have only one inmate who thinks he is Alexander the Great and only two who think they are Napoleon, but we have seven who think they are you."

Hitler, very much flattered, asked to be taken to see them. He was conducted to the cell where the seven men were enthusiastically heiling one another. Very much interested, he told the superintendent to leave him with them.

"I want to talk to them," he said.

The superintendent went away and returned in a few minutes.

"If you're ready, Fuehrer, we will continue the tour of the institution," he said.

Eight men rushed to the barred door and tried to get out. Finally lots were drawn. One of the eight was released—and is still at large.

Thought for the Day.

We can still hear Miss Katharine Cornell's thrilling voice repeating these lines from her current vehicle, No Time for Comedy, at the Harris. Addressing Gay, her playwright husband of the play (Francis Lederer), who wants to go to Spain, she says:

". . . you're leaving almost the only country left in the world where one may still live with a little decency—not paralyzed with fear. Stay here, while and where it is still possible to live. Isn't there THIS for you to say? Isn't there THIS for you to insist on—that the more inhuman the rest of the world the more human we. The grosser and more cruel the others the more scrupulous and fastidious, the more precisely just and delicate, we.

True Omen.

Two young men were comfortably seated in a filled "L" train when two nuns entered and stood clinging to straps. After a moment the two young men got up and proffered their seats.

"Notre Dame ought to win for that," another standee heard one nun say to the other as they sat down.

Christmas Hat.

A minor question of the week is, who bought the Christmas hat? It was to be seen in the millinery department of a loop department store last week, made entirely of beaver, with a little Christmas tree perched on top. Price $47.50. Yesterday it was gone.

Dozens of dinner parties have been planned before the performance.

The Russian trio will give the second in a series of concerts at 11:30 o'clock this morning at the Arts club.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Utley are being congratulated on the birth of a son on Sunday at the Chicago Lying-In hospital. The baby has a brother.

State Street Is Bedecked with Christmas Garlands

Christmas set foot in State street yesterday. Workmen for the State Street council began decorating 73 lamp posts between Lake and Congress streets with bows, wreaths, stars, and candles. The wreaths are more than nine feet in diameter and weigh 250 pounds each. Four carloads, or about 10 tons, of double-needle balsam greens were used for the 146 wreaths.

There is infinitely more to "Leave It to Me," which opened last night with Hollywood searchlights blazing in front of the chaste Auditorium theater, than the demure Siberian strip-tease song, "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," with which the radio has regaled the public for some months past.

Over and above all else there is the triumphant comic genius of Victor Moore. Mr. Moore's representation of the hapless, lovable, henpecked simpleton, pitiable and laughable because of the big head, rotund little body, and spindle shanks with which a farsighted Providence endowed him, is already familiar. Seldom, however, has he used it in a better part. He is the American ambassador to Russia, yanked away from home and comfort in Topeka, Kas., and planked down in Moscow completely against his will. He would rather be at home downing a double banana split at the corner drug store and washing it down with sarsaparilla.

But he has a broad beamed behemoth of a wife in the form of Sophie Tucker to cope with. Russia is a poor substitute for the Court of St. James's, where the couple would be if Sophie had her way, and if the Kennedys hadn't nine children as against Ambassador and Mrs. Alonzo Goodhue's puny count of five. But Moscow is better than nowhere in Europe, and the ambassadress keeps Mr. Moore's nose to the grindstone, while he secretly schemes, with the aid of the rash William Gaxton, to find a way to get himself discredited and recalled back home.

Mr. Moore's timid, baffled little figure of an ambassador dominates the show, tho Miss Tucker is always just around the corner, ready to brandish her big stick over him, or a mellower moment to advise her five daughters in her bold vocal style that "gentlemen don't like love." And the high art of the little Democrat from Topeka is kept in excellent focus by the extrovert brashness of Mr. Gaxton, one of the best "straight men" in the musical comedy business.

The strip-tease hit song is awarded to Mildred Fenton, as cute as a bug's ear. She delivers the credo of her attachment to her millionaire "daddy" with candid projection, though she did not quite have the reputed élan of the original Mary Martin, who didn't have it either when I saw her last summer.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

They laughed—at least the men did—when we unpacked an "eye beauty" set that came to our desk not so long ago. But we were professionally interested to notice that virtually every woman within shouting distance came around to find out what all the gadgets were for and where they could be purchased.

Snicker if you like at the idea of an eyelash curler. But the laugh would be on you. Whoever invented the gadget is probably rolling in wealth, because women adore the things, buy them by the zillions, and find them wonderfully helpful in the pursuit of glamor. Professional models, for instance, always tote them.

They're funny looking little heatless curling irons, shaped like a skeleton eye cup, that press the lashes into devastating curl. If lashes are well cared for, this mechanical bit of business does them no harm—from the standpoint of beauty alone it does them some good.

In the eye kit we received the curler is item No. 1. Next in importance is a scissor handled tweezer, handy for plucking out the strays that mar the clean line of brow. Then there is a compact of excellent cake mascara, a pencil for brows or eye corners and a cream for keeping both brows and lashes lustrous and healthy.

This is one of those compact assortments of eye aids that you always wish you had around, but never quite get about to collecting. The attractive box has plenty of appeal, including that of price.

Danger on the Border

By FREDERICK R. BECHDOLT

SYNOPSIS.

Leonard speeds west by car after finding that the sample of ore sent to him by his sick friend, Dillon, is rich in gold. In Copper City he picks up two strange companions, Mrs. Sebastian, who owns a Mexican roadhouse, and Louis Mestres, who claims to be a line jumper. They leave just after the pay car of the Golconda mine. In a lonely spot they come upon the car—all occupants murdered, and the three holdup men still on the scene. They chase Leonard's car with a machine gun. Mestres drops tacks in the road and stops their pursuit. He recognizes one bandit as the mine's paymaster. Paul Collins, a crooked local assayer, tests Dillon's ore and gives him a false report. He enlists the aid of another rascal, Kent, to cheat Dillon. Dillon breaks the sad news to Pat, an orphaned girl who owns an old hotel, and who had staked him, then goes off to collect his tools. Arriving at Pat's hotel Leonard doesn't get a chance to ask her about Dillon.

INSTALMENT VIII.
AN UNSEEN VISITOR.

While Leonard was eating his dinner he was unaware that some one had entered the hotel. A silent figure slipped through the deserted lobby to the counter where a single light shone on the yellowed page of the old register. Within the narrow area of the lamp's glow, the face showed for a moment, unhealthy in its pallor, intent; the hair above it was dead black. When Kent had read the name at the bottom of the column he noticed the pathway of dim radiance which lay before the open doorway of the dining room. Kent glanced about him, saw that he was alone, and tip-toed toward the entrance. He stood for a few moments gazing at the solitary guest. Then he slipped out to the deserted street.

In the meantime Leonard went on with his dinner, quite unaware of this espionage, untroubled by any premonitions of the strange complications which were beginning to develop with the departure of his unseen visitor. Before he had finished his coffee he was turning his thoughts to the business which had brought him there. It occurred to him that the afternoon's events had made it advisable for him to lose as little time as possible in getting out of town. Dillon's letter had not even hinted at the locality of his discovery. It had been necessarily vague concerning the time of their meeting, but, in the event that he was not in town—so he had written—he would leave directions as to his whereabouts at the hotel.

It was in Leonard's mind to seek out his youthful landlady when he left the dining room, but the lobby was without a sign of life. He lighted a cigaret and found a seat in one of the huge leather-cushioned chairs to await her appearance. A few minutes after he had settled down, the faint clatter of dishes ceased and presently the light by which he had eaten his dinner went out. Silence settled upon the entire building. A single lamp at the clerk's desk was the only illumination.

The stillness was vaguely disturbing, and although Leonard was blest with the self-confidence which so many big men own, he could not get rid of the feeling that the place was filled with unseen shapes which moved through the darkness without a sound. At last, when his uneasiness had grown to something very close to actual discomfort, he threw away his cigaret.

"I'll get some one, or know the reason why," he muttered. There was an outdated little bell on the clerk's counter, one of those nickel plated affairs which school teachers used to have on their desks to call the class to order. He tapped it impatiently. The thin peal barely reached into the surrounding shadows and there it died away. He repeated the summons several times before he gave it up in disgust.

Any place was better than this gloomy silence. "I'll go see Mrs. Sebastian," he determined.

He had left his hat in his room, and he started up the wide stairway, but when he reached the first landing where the flight curved toward the next floor, the darkness was so deep that he had to feel his way. He took a packet of matches from his pocket and struck one. He was standing there with the flaming match in his cupped hands, about to go on, when he heard some one above him. Immediately after the discovery the tiny blaze flickered out, but, during the slight interval between the moment when he first caught the sound, and the darkness that followed it, he saw the person who had made it.

It was the girl for whom he had been waiting. She was running down the stairs, one hand upon the banister to guide her. She halted abruptly at the sight of his light. Her face was colorless, her eyes were wide; they were staring with the fixed expression which comes to one in moments of great fear. Then the blackness closed in once more. Leonard heard the slight rustle of her skirt as she ran past him.

He remained motionless. It was not curiosity that held him, he had no idea of spying on her. The suddenness of her appearance and that look of fear in her face had taken him completely by surprise. And the strangeness of the place had been working on his nerves. Nothing here seemed real; it was as if he had been projected into the midst of a dream, as if he were himself awake, surrounded by visions belonging to another's mind.

He pulled himself together and broke a second match from the pasteboard packet. He was about to strike it when she reappeared within the circle of light behind the clerk's desk. The dread which he had seen in her eyes had departed, her lips were compressed, her small face was tight with determination. She reached beneath the counter and snatched something from the cash drawer. It was Leonard's turn to stare with wide eyes as she wrapped the object in her handkerchief.

It was a pistol, a little black weapon hardly longer than the fingers that held it, one of those two-barreled derringers which used to be on exhibition in every pawnbroker's window thirty years before. She darted from the narrow space behind the counter. He had a final glimpse of her before the shadows of the great room swallowed her. He heard the swift beating of her heels upon the tile floor, then the sound of the street door closing behind her.

The various purposes which set people traveling from Golconda to San Ilario that evening, guiding their movements so that their paths crossed at crucial moments, were not mere coincidences; they rose out of separate desires for the same thing. The vein of high grade ore which Dillon had discovered in the desert, was like a bit of sugar attracting ants from several directions, and when some of the ants met, things began to happen.

As, for instance, during the afternoon when Paul Collins bade the prospector good-by in his office. Dillon had hardly gotten out of sight on his way to the hotel in the old town before Collins was going up the main street of Golconda in the opposite direction. He had been doing a bit of thinking since he had parted from Kent and it had occurred to him that there was no reason why he should not possess himself of some information as to where these valuable claims were situated. With that knowledge he would be in a much better position to enforce the terms of any bargain which he made with Kent.

And he was quite certain that, before he got through with this ally, he was going to need all the advantages which he could possibly attain. As a matter of fact he was beginning to wish that it had not been necessary to go to Kent at all; but claim jumping usually meant litigation, and he was in no shape to finance a lawsuit.

So Collins hurried up the street, and, as he passed Kent's office, he glanced through the plate glass windows; the Mexican girl was bending over her typewriter, there was no one else in sight. But, a few moments later, Kent happened to look out into the street from the cigar stand where he had gone to buy a packet of cigarets. He saw the assayer passing and there was something in the man's haste that set him to speculating. He stepped out to the sidewalk in time to catch a glimpse of Collins as the latter turned into Golconda's only public garage. Kent crossed the roadway and took his post in an entry from which he had a good view of the garage entrance. He had been waiting here ten minutes when a car shot out into the street.

The car turned sharply after it had crossed the sidewalk and sped off in the direction of the Old Town. Kent had a good view of the two men in the front seat. He smiled as one who is well satisfied. A moment later Collins left the garage and went back to his assay office. By the time he had reached it, Kent was talking to the garage proprietor. When he had finished this conference he returned to his own establishment.

"There's a forest service telephone at the Old Stone House Mine," he told his stenographer. "Get it on long distance and have them put the watchman on the line. The man they call Papago. Tell them it's important. I want him right away." He went on into his inner sanctum and settled down to wait. The stenographer had gone home and the room was growing dim when the telephone bell rang. He used up his three minutes giving directions to the man at the other end.

Strive for a happy medium between work and play. The happy people are those whose lives are well balanced; they are enthusiastic on entering the office in the morning, and when work is done, willingly and happily turn their minds to home and recreational activities. There is something definitely wrong with the person who is engrossed with either work or recreation to the exclusion of the other. And that goes whether the man is an executive or a laborer, the woman a housewife or a career woman.

So says Dave Elman, who, in his capacity as hobby dean, has prescribed hobbies as an antidote to many who were too thoroly wrapped up in one phase of living. "It's not merely a hobby for the sake of a hobby," says Mr. Elman. "Hobbies are important in that they frequently divert the too-tense mind into recreational channels.

"The man [or woman] who is too passionately devoted to a job is frequently something of a neurotic. Because he cannot develop outside interests, or is too indolent to attempt to, he surrounds himself with work, work and more work. Much of it is unnecessary, but with the dread of inactivity hanging like the sword of Damocles over his head, he undertakes tasks with the feeling that no one else can do them so well. When others have gone blithely home, he still is buried under a pile of never-finished work, self-imposed. When he does finally get home, he's in a constant lather thinking of things still undone. says Mr. Elman.

"To the average person," continues Mr. Elman, "work is a necessity. With it, he creates a niche for himself; he becomes respected and honored. Play, too, is a necessity. With it he creates a niche of a different sort, based not on actual accomplishment, but on friendliness, good humor and amiable compatability. The one calls for tension of a sort, the other relaxation; hence a good balance of both is vital to mental and physical well-being."

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

This year's first Thanksgiving will be here day after tomorrow, so it's time we talked turkey. On a recent Sunday we discussed preparing and roasting the turkey, so now we'll talk mostly about stuffings.

Before we get to recipes, however, I'd like to mention roasters and other containers for roasting the turkey. Many women have been asking us in what to roast such a big bird, for they haven't roasters large enough to hold a turkey.

Use the dripping pan, or a large, shallow dripping pan, and place the bird on some sort of rack. If you haven't a dripping pan rack, then use a cake rack, or improvise a means for keeping the turkey off the bottom of the pan. Turkey is roasted uncovered, so if a regulation roaster is used the cover should be left off.

Sage and Onion Stuffing.
[12-16 Pound Turkey.]
1½ pound loaf of stale bread
½ pound butter
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sage
¼ teaspoon white pepper
½ cup chopped onion

Remove crusts from bread and cut it into inch cubes. Cut butter into small pieces. Toss ingredients together in a large mixing bowl, stuff turkey, and roast. During roasting the juices from the turkey and the melting butter will moisten the dressing as much as is necessary. This is a light, fluffy stuffing, one of the best I know about. No liquid and no eggs are used in it.

CELERY STUFFING: Add to the same recipe one cup finely cut celery, including the leafy tops.

Other seasonings may be used. Poultry seasoning, a blend of herbs and spices, may be used instead of sage. Or replace some of the sage with thyme, savory, or other herbs.

Bread for this stuffing, or for any other, may be toasted before using. Some cooks think this improves the flavor of the finished stuffing.

This savory, browned, bread stuffing contains even more onion and has a delicious flavor. It appeared in the column last year, but will be repeated because of its goodness and popularity.

Browned Bread Stuffing.
[14 Pound Turkey.]
2 pound loaves of bread, trimmed and diced
1½ cups chopped onion
1 cup butter or butter and bacon drippings
1 cup chopped celery
1 tablespoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ teaspoons poultry seasoning
1 to 2 cups raisins
Turkey liver, simmered and chopped

Brown bread cubes, onion and celery in butter, or butter and drippings, add other ingredients, and moisten dressing slightly with water. Pack lightly into turkey.

OYSTER DRESSING: Use the recipe for sage and onion stuffing, or any good recipe of similar ingredients, and add one pint oysters, drained and looked over, plus a teaspoon of salt to the list. Sauté oysters with a little of the onion in butter before adding to other ingredients. Do not overcook them. As soon as the edges begin to curl remove from heat. This takes only several minutes.

SAUSAGE DRESSING: Use recipe for sage and onion stuffing or a similar one, and add one-half pound bulk sausage, browned in a skillet. The drippings may be used for a part of the butter, and if the sausage is highly seasoned the amount of salt should be cut down slightly.

According to CULBERTSON

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: My partner and I played in the recent Metropolitan pair championships in New York and I think that one hand he played is worthy of your column. In my opinion he drew exceptionally shrewd inferences from the adverse bidding and from the fall of the cards.

"The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 spades	Pass
3 hearts	Pass	3 no trump	Pass
4 spades	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

"As you will notice, West's double was close, but not to be condemned, I think. West's opening lead did not make matters any too easy for my partner. He chose the deuce of spades. East's jack was captured by the ace and now, realizing that the opponents would not permit him to ruff many hearts, my partner went out to set up the dummy for heart discards. He laid down the club ace and led his remaining club toward dummy. West went up with the king and, following up his plan of cutting down dummy's ruffing power, led the spade three to East's queen. East made the only conceivable return, a heart. South won with the ace and, when he saw the queen drop from West's hand, shrewdly inferred that, since the heart suit obviously was not going to break well, the club suit probably would not break 3-3. Hence, instead of depending on the club jack to drop, declarer now led the diamond queen and let it ride. It held, since West was not foolish enough to cover, and now South ruffed a heart with dummy's last trump. The club queen was cashed, declarer discarding a heart, and when East failed to follow, the entire situation was fairly clear. It was not hard to count West's original distribution. Now my partner merely ruffed a club and then threw West on lead with the king of spades. West, down to diamonds, now was helpless. On a low diamond lead dummy's ten held the trick, and the diamond ace and the established clubs allowed declarer to discard his last two hearts. In all, the opponents were held to two trump tricks and one club.

"I think you will agree that this was a very well played hand.

"H. S., New York."

I do so agree. Not only did declarer have to "place" the cards shrewdly, but his timing had to be perfect. For example, there must have been a temptation to lead the diamond queen immediately and finesse, on the hope of getting rid of South's losing club. Far from salvaging that loser, however, declarer would have found himself in deep water by reason of the fact that he then would have had no low club to lead toward dummy. It is an interesting illustration of the philosophy that it is not always wise to get rid of cards that are apparently worthless.

Mr. Culbertson will discuss this hand in tomorrow's column.

Mrs. Barbirolli Will Attend English Union Party with Conductor

Members of the English Speaking union who are planning to attend a tea and reception for John Barbirolli next Sunday afternoon at the Casino will be delighted to hear that they will meet Mr. Barbirolli's bride of last July as well as the distinguished conductor. Mrs. Barbirolli arrived in New York late last month from England.

As the former Miss Evelyn Rothwell she played in the oboe section of Mr. Barbirolli's Covent Garden and Scottish orchestras, but she never had heard her husband's American orchestra before her arrival in New York.

Mr. Barbirolli will conduct the New York Philharmonic orchestra in its first Chicago appearance at 2:30 o'clock on Sunday at the Auditorium theater. The reception will follow the concert.

The performance will be the first benefit ever held for the Children's Memorial hospital. Miss Eleanor Wetten, who is in charge of the young women who will distribute programs, has invited them for breakfast to insure their prompt arrival at the theater.

Pre-Christmas Days a Part of Children's Yule

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"No, not tonight," said an older friend who loves to visit us and whom we love to have. "I won't stay over tonight. If I do, it will all be over in a flash. Ask me next week, then I'll have time to anticipate it. For me joys are doubled by anticipation."

Anticipation, the days of preparation, are just as much a part of Christmas as the day itself. That's one of the lovely things about Christmas—it lifts a whole month out of the ordinary.

Children are wonderful little anticipators, and out of nothing do they get greater joy than anticipating Christmas.

But by no means the greatest part of that anticipation consists, or should consist, of wondering what they will receive. Children are naturally generous and love to give. With only a little encouragement they will enter into all the preparations for Christmas that consist of giving things to those they love. Such anticipation provides not only more fun, but a great deal of happy occupation if the children make some or all of the presents they are to give.

As to the purchase of their gifts or the materials for them, you may arrange for the expenditure in several ways. Either encourage them to save their allowance, or give them a sum outright and ahead of time to plan and spend.

If the budget is very limited this year and you're an ingenious woman, you can help the children to stretch their Christmas money and supplement it with innumerable things from about the house.

If you're the proud possessor of an attic the possibilities are limitless. If not, for the little or big girl your scrapbag and your knitting bag alone can furnish a great deal.

For girls, and boys too, the kitchen is a rich source of gifts. Jellies, preserves, jams, candy, stuffed dates, salted nuts are only a few good things that children can make.

Tools, left over pieces of wood or small amounts of lumber and left over paint can be turned by a young carpenter into a small box for mother's jewelry, for dad's cigarets, into a tiny corner shelf or a single "step" for mother in the kitchen.

In this way, your ingenuity stimulating your child's can fill in the gaps your budget leaves, and your children will readily understand that their thought and labor may be the most precious part of the gift they give.

However all mothers are not so strictly limited for money. For them the range of materials to be transformed into gifts is wider. Their children may shop alone or with them, depending upon their age and experience.

But whether little or big, all children can plan and save and make—can share in some Christmas preparation.

So right now, let part of your children's anticipation of Christmas take the form of planning, saving, shopping, for and making gifts for those they love.

UNDEFEATED U. S. C. HEADS FOR NOTRE DAME

GRIFFIN'S COACH AGREES DON IS QUITE A PLAYER

Schurz Tests Fenger Star Saturday.

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

Charles [Chuck] Palmer, a bit heavier since those days when he was helping Northwestern university to football victories, buttoned his oilskin coat and peered out into the rain as his Fenger High school eleven battled Tilden Tech in the semi-finals for the Public School league title in Soldiers' field last Saturday. There was a big smile on his face as Donald [Flash] Griffin fired a touchdown pass into Bob Wallis' hands in the last period.

"I don't know where the team would be without that Griffin kid," said Palmer. "Every time I look up from the bench I see Griffin running for a touchdown or tossing a pass for one."

Better Than De Correvont?

Fenger, defending city champion, which meets Schurz in Soldiers' field Saturday for the league title, possesses one of the best prep records in the nation, and several coaches agree that Griffin is a better all-around player than Bill De Correvont, now of Northwestern, was in his senior year at Austin.

Fenger has not been beaten since the 1937 league semi-finals, when De Correvont scored three touchdowns to lead Austin to a 21 to 7 victory over the far south side school. Fenger's lone touchdown that afternoon was made by Roy Carlson, now a member of the University of Washington foot-ball squad.

Winning Streak Reaches 21.

Palmer's eleven opened the 1938 season by playing a tie at South Bend, Ind. Since then Fenger has won twenty-one consecutive games, the victims including Mount Carmel in last year's All-City contest, and Waco, Tex., which was beaten in a post-season game in Texas last winter. In league competition this year Fenger has rolled up 237 points in seven games and the only team to score on the champions was Bowen, which made two touchdowns against Fenger substitutes but lost, 55 to 13.

There was a pessimistic outlook for Fenger when the squad reported for practice early in September. Griffin was the only regular from the 1938 team in the group, the ten others having been graduated last June. But within a few weeks Coach Palmer had a smooth clicking combination, the line averaging 175 pounds, and the back field 167.

"We hope to whip Schurz Saturday and get another chance to play Mount Carmel in Mayor Kelly's game," said Palmer.

Schurz Still Celebrates.

Schurz also is coached by a former Northwestern athlete, Bob Koehler, full back on the 1916, 1917, 1919 elevens. Students and supporters of the north side school yesterday were still celebrating their semi-final victory over Austin in Mills stadium last Saturday, 27 to 13.

Coaches who watched Mount Carmel rout St. Ignatius, 27 to 0, for the Catholic league championship in Soldiers' field last Sunday agreed that the south siders are stronger than a year ago when they lost to Fenger, 13 to 0. Francis Meakim and Johnny Andretich, Mount Carmel's touchdown twins, may break the Public School league's string of victories in the All-City game this year.

VOGET, PHILLIPS TO LEAD WHEATON ELEVEN IN 1940

Julius Voget, Pasadena, Cal., and Don Phillips, Oak Park, were elected cocaptains of the 1940 Wheaton college football team yesterday.

Voget, 200 pound tackle, never played football before coming to college but has played in every game while in school. Phillips, 200 pound center, was a former star at Oak Park High school.

EXPERTS TRACE WRONG GUESS ON IOWA TO MICHIGAN

Review Shows Hawkeyes Weren't Badly Outplayed.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Now that Iowa is the only team which has a chance to force Ohio State to share its western conference football championship, and this is contingent on the Buckeyes losing to Michigan while Iowa is defeating Northwestern Saturday in Evanston, it is time to review the Hawkeyes' record. In particular, a second survey of Iowa's only defeat, the 27 to 7 reverse by Michigan, is timely.

This defeat unquestionably was the principal factor in arriving at an early decision that Iowa had only a fair football eleven and could not accomplish more than a first division berth. Even the steadily increasing group of fans who recall now that they predicted Iowa would defeat Notre Dame, weakened on the Hawkeyes' chances against Minnesota. Again Michigan was to blame since the Wolverines, victorious over Iowa, 27 to 7, lost to Minnesota, 20 to 7.

Reviewing Iowa's Sole Defeat.

It was said casually at the time that Iowa wasn't as indifferent an eleven against Michigan as the score would indicate. But until Iowa won its next four games there seemed no particular point in reviewing the Michigan game. Here are some of the facts you may not have known, or forgotten:

Iowa made seven first downs, the same number Michigan accomplished. Iowa outgained Michigan 209 yards to 170. Iowa scored first in the opening period, and after Michigan had tied the count by passing, marched to the Wolverine 14 yard line before losing possession when Tom Harmon broke up two passes in succession.

Michigan took the lead midway in the second quarter, running a punt back to the Iowa 26 yard line after the Hawkeyes punted from back of their goal line against the wind. Harmon ran for 15 yards, passed for nine more to Forrest Evashevski and, after Tom Westfall had plunged for two yards, drove over from the 2 yard line.

Michigan's third touchdown in the first half started from a blocked kick recovered on Iowa's 37 yard line. Michigan's final touchdown was made by Harmon, who ran 90 yards after intercepting Nile Kinnick's pass.

No Extravagant Claims.

Even Iowa's most ardent supporters scarcely will claim that the Hawkeyes are the greatest team in the nation, or should be ranked on a par with Tennessee or Southern California. Quite likely, nobody cares about degree of greatness. It is sufficient for Iowa that the Hawkeyes have won six games and may tie for the championship. It is enough that Kinnick is recognized as the peer of any college player. Spirit and determination have inspired the Iowans and in all probability the victory over Indiana touched off the spark. Until the Hawkeyes came from behind twice in that game to win, 32 to 29, it may be doubted that they believed in themselves. For two years several of these young men had been inured to defeat. They needed the stimulus of a conference victory as much as they required intelligent direction.

The collegiate dead ball rule provides that the ball cannot be advanced if any portion of the carrier's body except his hands and feet touches the ground. The ball is dead at that spot, but in administering this proviso, the continuous initial movement of the runner as he falls forward generally is permitted. The ball is not brought back to the exact point where the knee touched the ground.

By this interpretation, Lou Zontini scored the extra point for Notre Dame against Northwestern. Snatching the ball after it had slipped thru Steve Sitko's hands on the placement attempt, Zontini ran to the corner of the end zone, falling over the line altho it seemed his knee struck in the field of play.

The University of Tennessee apparently believes it will play in the Rose bowl game and that Southern California will be the opponent. In any event, the Volunteers are scouting Southern California.

It's an Even Start, but a One Man Race

The field of 24 contestants in the Big Ten cross-country race gets away to an even start, but there wasn't much of an argument at the finish of the four mile grind in Washington park yesterday. Walter Mehl (No. 27) of Wisconsin won the individual championship and helped the Badgers win the team title, finishing 80 yards in front of Ed Holderman (No. 20) of Purdue. Others identified are Liljegren (10) of Minnesota, Rhodes (11) of Minnesota, Eisenhart (13) of Ohio State, Shulman (22) of Purdue, Broertjes (5) of Indiana, Knox (28) of Wisconsin, and Bauer (31) of Wisconsin. Joe O'Connell, Fidler Lose in C.Y.O. Boxing

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Two defending champions, Joe O'Connell and Wayne Fidler, were beaten in the semi-finals of the Catholic Youth organization's ninth annual boxing tournament last night in C. Y. O. center.

O'Connell, who was attempting to retain his 147 pound title, lost a three round decision to Harry Sparrow, runner-up in the lightweight division last year. Fidler relinquished his bid for another featherweight crown when he was outpointed by Jack Ballangee.

Goldsmith Reaches Finals.

William Goldsmith, last season's lightweight title holder, who is now competing in the 147 pound division, advanced to the finals by stopping Dave Walker in the second round.

Charles Alicoate, who startled the followers of the tournament by beating the veteran Frank Bausone in the 126 pound quarter-finals, continued his winning tactics at the expense of Bob La Civita, who had come up from the 118 pound novice division, in which he won the championship last season.

More semi-final matches will be held tonight in C. Y. O. center, and the survivors will fight for championships in the Stadium Nov. 29.

In beating O'Connell, Sparrow piled up many points in the first two rounds. He tired in the third and O'Connell scored quite a few solid blows, but Sparrow's early lead was the decisive factor.

Dade Meets Noto in Finals.

Ballangee used his superior height to good advantage in his bout with Fidler. His straight left was effective in the early stages and he sent a series of lefts and rights to Fidler's face shortly before the finish.

Harold Dade advanced to the finals in the flyweight division by beating James Sarenella in three rounds. He will meet Al Noto for the title. This is the third year Noto has fought for the 112 pound championship without ever winning it in the open division. He was novice title holder in 1936.

Lee Oma Knocks Out Altus Allen in First Round

Lee Oma, Detroit light heavyweight, distinguished himself by knocking out Altus Allen of Freeport, Ill., in the first round of a scheduled eight round bout in Marigold Gardens last night.

Referee Norm McGarity tolled off the count as the 1939 International Golden Gloves heavyweight champion tried to regain his feet from where he sat in a neutral corner. A barrage of terrific head punches placed Allen in that embarrassing position.

The time was 1 minutes 52 seconds.

Allen, who was the favorite to win, never got started. Shortly after the bout started Oma crashed a right on his opponent's jaw and Altus hit the canvas. He struggled to his feet at nine. Lee then chased Altus across the ring and draped him on the ropes with a series of punches, but the helpless boxer found his balance again before a count was started. Allen was sent spinning to the canvas for a six count just before the knockout. He was down four times in all.

In an eight round secondary feature Tony Motisi, Catholic Youth organization welterweight, won a split decision over Tommy Pallatin to avenge a previous defeat at the hands of the St. Joe, Mich., fighter.

Attendance was 1,414; gross receipts, $1,652.

Badgers Win Title in Big 10 Harrier Race

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Walter John Mehl, a 23 year old citizen of Wauwatosa, Wis., who enjoys to run long distances, yesterday held a bit of a workout in the marrow chilling confines of Washington park, and thereby won the annual cross-country championship of the Western conference. Mehl's performance, combined with excellent collaboration by three of his University of Wisconsin associates, also enabled the Badgers to win the team crown.

Mehl, who ran third in his first cross-country appearance last year, was timed in 20 minutes, 34.7 seconds for the four jaunts around the one mile course laid out in the south end of the park. Ed Holderman of Purdue, who was making his début as a harrier, took second place about 80 yards back of Mehl, who led from start to finish. Holderman was timed in 20:52.6. Two other Badgers, Bill Farin and Howie Knox, took third, and fourth, respectively, and another, Ed Buxton, finished seventh in the field of 24.

Ohio, Purdue Share Third.

Wisconsin's winning team total was 28 points. Indiana, the defending champion, had 52, and Ohio State and Purdue, the only other Big Ten schools to send full teams, tied with 71 each. Minnesota entered two runners, Liljegren, who finished twelfth, and Rhodes, who came home nineteenth, but they did not figure in the team totals. The Gophers also brought down a pair of towheaded twins, Art and Jack Gill of Minneapolis, who joined the troupe in their chilly journey, but they will not be eligible officially until next season.

Mehl, the new champion, is one of the best distance runners in conference history, as is proven by his possession of the Big Ten indoor and outdoor two mile records. He ran second in both events last year, but compensated by taking the mile in each. Walt, a smiling blond lad of German descent, considers the cross-country chore ideal training for distance running. He will be graduated from the Wisconsin school of education in February, but plans to enter the graduate school, there to represent Wisconsin in invitational meets, notably in the two mile.

Cool Enough for Gloves.

Incidentally, Mehl was one of the few in the field yesterday who did not resort to gloves to fend off the cold. One gent ran the race with a pair of bright coal heaver's mitts for protection. Mehl contented himself with jiggling his bare hands at the wrists as he jogged along with an easy stride.

The individual order of finish for yesterday's race follows:

1, Mehl, Wisconsin; 2, Holderman, Purdue; 3, Farin, Wisconsin; 4, Knox, Wisconsin; 5, Eisenhart, Ohio State; 6, Hodges, Indiana; 7, Buxton, Wisconsin; 8, Tolliver, Indiana; 9, McKibbon, Indiana; 10, Kirasofe, Ohio State; 11, Broertjes, Indiana; 12, Reeves, Purdue; 13, Bauer, Wisconsin; 14, Meek, Wisconsin; 15, Spellicy, Ohio State; 16, Shulman, Purdue; 17, Bolton, Ohio State; 18, Persinger, Indiana; 19, Kane, Indiana; 20, M. White, Purdue; 21, J. White, Purdue; 22, Young, Purdue; 23, Daniels, Indiana; 24, Doswell, Ohio State.

FOUR INJURED TROJANS MAY BE OUT SATURDAY

Invaders Coming in Special Train.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 20 [Special].—Thirty-eight University of Southern California football players entrained tonight on the biggest Trojan special ever to head for Notre Dame. Followers of the team filled the train to its capacity of 150 passengers, and a gigantic student rally at the union station gave Coach Howard Jones and his unbeaten athletes a roaring send-off for their game with the Irish Saturday.

Four Players Injured.

Four ailing Trojans, Full Backs Jack Banta and Bill Sangster, Half Back Joe Shell, and Tackle Bob De Lauer, saw the final home practice from the side lines today, and Dr. Packard Thurber of the medical staff said none of the quartet is likely to see action Saturday. All were taken on the trip, however. Each has a lame knee.

Amby Schindler, who was All-Coast quarter back as a sophomore at Southern California, again was in Banta's full back spot in today's drill. Grenny Lansdell, leading scorer of the Pacific coast conference, again led the first string at quarter back, pairing with Full Back Bob Peoples, another triple threater.

Irish Impress U. S. C. Scout.

Today's practice was preceded by a lengthy huddle between Coach Jones and Assistant Jeff Cravath, who scouted Notre Dame in its victory over Northwestern Saturday.

"Southern California is supposed to have depth, but we haven't as many men of outstanding ability for each position as the Irish," said Cravath. "Coach Elmer Layden's boys seem to get bigger and better when the substitutions are made. I didn't see the names of Milt Piepul, Ben Sheridan, and Bob Hargrave in the starting lineup, but they stole the show when they were in the game. The Irish are tougher by far than any opponent the Trojans have faced this season."

TOUGHEST FOE—LAYDEN.

Notre Dame, Ind., Nov. 19 [Special].—"They've been getting tougher every week, and there's no doubt that Southern California is the biggest, most versatile, and most dangerous team we've met thus far," said Coach Elmer Layden today after excusing his Notre Dame squad from Monday practice.

"We're too battered up and tired to want a workout today," said Layden, "Tom Gallagher and Tad Harvey, our starting tackles, suffered recurrences of leg injuries in the Northwestern game. They probably will not be able to play this week. The rest of the kids are showing the results of eight tough games in a row."

U. S. C. Has Big Weight Edge.

Southern California will outweigh the Irish 61 pounds in the line or nearly 9 pounds to the man, and three pounds in the back field. The team totals are 2,106 pounds for the Trojans and 2,132 for the Irish.

"U. S. C. has plenty of reserves," said Layden. "Just consider that Doyle Nave, who beat Duke in the Rose bowl, is the third string quarter back under Amby Schindler and Grenny Lansdell. Al Krueger, who caught the passes that beat Notre Dame and Duke, is only a second stringer under Bill Fisk.

"Against a big, rugged Stanford team," Layden continued, "the first two teams went ahead, 27 to 0, at the half, and the third and fourth teams finished the game, winning 33 to 0. Meanwhile, Notre Dame has just slid by in every game, except, of course, against Iowa."

All tickets for the game were sold a week ago.

PRESIDENT MAY HAVE TO SIT ON END LINE DEC. 2

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 (AP).—When President Roosevelt goes to the Army-Navy football game at Philadelphia Dec. 2, on which side of the field will he sit?

All kinds of complications and precedents are involved, for he is the commander in chief of both armed services.

Because of his keen interest in naval affairs and his world war service as assistant secretary of the navy, the army suspects him of some sentimental partnership.

Diplomatic precedence, however, would put him on the Cadets' side of the stands, since the secretary of war outranks the naval secretary.

One solution would be to change seats at the half. Mr. Roosevelt has avoided the issue heretofore by staying home from the game.

Fight Decisions

At Marigold Gardens—Lee Oma knocked out Altus Allen [1]; Tony Motisi beat Tommy Pallatin [8]; [illegible] beat [illegible] [4]; [illegible] knocked out [illegible] [2].

BADGERS PASS UP MONDAY REST TO RESUME DRILL

Paskvan Will Be Ready to Face Gophers.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 20 [Special].—Departing from the usual custom of excusing the regulars on Monday, Coach Harry Stuhldreher ordered the entire Wisconsin football squad into suits at Camp Randall today as he launched intensive preparations for the final game of the season at Minnesota Saturday.

Cheering news came with the announcement that George Paskvan, hard driving full back, will be ready to start against the Gophers. Johnny Tennant, who was hurt in the Illinois game, probably will be ready for service at left half back as the ranking reserve to Bob Peterson, who is due to start.

FRANCK STILL DISABLED.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 20 [Special]. -George Franck, who opposed Iowa despite an injury, may not be ready for heavy duty against Wisconsin here Saturday in the windup of the most disastrous Gopher season in seven years.

Franck suffered no aggravation of his leg injury in the Iowa setback, but he was far from his normal self when it came to locomotion. Trainers said, however, that rest and heat treatments might restore him to good condition.

Hoosiers Hold Secret Drill for Last Game

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 20 [Special].—A week of secret drill for the annual battle for the old oaken bucket against Purdue here Saturday was opened today by the Indiana university football team.

Coach Bo McMillin issued a standing order that none but players, coaches, student managers, and trainers will be admitted to practice.

Emil Kremovich, tackle, appeared to be the only new casualty from the Michigan State game in which the Hoosiers played to a 7 to 7 tie. Uremovich aggravated a leg injury which had kept him out of the Fordham game the previous week. Capt. Jim Logan and Gene White, guards, and John Janzaruk, end, are recovering from injuries and are expected to be in good condition Saturday.

PURDUE TEAM CRIPPLED.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 20 [Special].—With the Purdue squad plainly showing the effects of seven successive gruelling games against major opponents, Coach Mal Elward took inventory of the Boilermakers this afternoon and found three senior regulars who probably will be out of action against Indiana at Bloomington Saturday.

Felix Mackiewicz, right end; Ted Hennis, quarter back, and Lavern Johnson, iron man tackle, were all on the hospital list.

MORIARITY AND PETERS WIN IN BILLIARD MEET

Joe Moriarity and Ed Peters, defending city champion, scored victories in the first two matches of the Chicago open three cushion billiard tournament which started last night in Bensinger's recreation, 131 S. Wabash. Moriarity defeated Paul Lewin, 42 to 40, in 57 innings. Moriarity had a high run of five and Lewin one of four.

Peters turned back Jeff Jacobs, also by a 42-40 score, in 61 innings. Jacobs had a high run of five against four for Peters.

No matches will be played tonight. The tournament, consisting of 28 matches, will be resumed tomorrow when Arthur Thurnblad meets Tom Fitzgibbons.

CLASSES AT IOWA SUSPENDED; CITY CELEBRATES, TOO

But Andruska, Center, Is Lost to Team.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 20 [Special].—Iowa City and the University of Iowa student body staged its own celebration here today for the Hawkeye football team, which culminated its season of surprises by defeating Minnesota, its arch rival, for the first time in 10 years.

An official order from the administration of the university suspended classes in all the colleges of the university thruout the day. It was the first time in the history of the medical college that classes had been dismissed.

Floyd of Rosedale Returns.

On the steps of old state capitol, now the administration building, a mass meeting was held, with approximately 5,000 students attending to watch United States Senator Clyde L. Herring of Iowa, return "Floyd of Rosedale" to his native state.

"Floyd of Rosedale" is a bronze replica of a Hampshire hog wagered on the Iowa-Minnesota game of 1935 by the late Gov. Floyd Olson of Minnesota, and Herring, then governor of Iowa.

Eddie Anderson, the popular Iowa coach; Frank Carideo, backfield coach; E. G. [Dad] Schroeder, director of athletics; President Eugene A. Gilmore of the university, and members of the team spoke briefly.

Pettit Replaces Andruska.

Bruno Andruska, Chicago junior, and 60 minute center of the squad, was lost for the final game at Northwestern Saturday as a result of a fractured wrist suffered in the Minnesota game and will be replaced by Roger Pettit or Eugene Fry. Andruska, who was injured early in the third quarter, continued to play without mentioning it to either his teammates or coach.

It left the Hawkeyes weakened at the center position. Bill Diehl, regular for the first four games, was lost by a knee injury earlier in the year.

A PROBLEM FOR N. U.

How to stop Nile Kinnick and his fellow iron men from Iowa is the problem confronting Northwestern's Wildcats this week as they prepare for the final game of the season in Dyche stadium Saturday.

The Wildcats will endeavor to shake off the effects of two successive defeats against Purdue and Notre Dame.

Plenty of seats are available for Saturday's game.

Wright College Swimmers to Oppose Alumni Today

The Wright Junior college will prepare for defense of its Illinois junior college swimming title, opposing an alumni team today in the Wright pool at 3400 North Austin avenue. Under the guidance of Coach Harry Fenner, the team has won all but two of its 28 swimming meets during the last two years.

COMMISSION VOIDS PAYCHECK PACT WITH RAPP

Find Former Manager Did Not Pay Fighter.

Chairman Joe Triner and Commissioners Sheldon Clark and James R. Fitzpatrick of the Illinois boxing board yesterday declared a life management contract between Johnny Paycheck, Chicago heavyweight contender, and Clarence Rapp to be void because Rapp had failed to meet requirements of the agreement, which included payment to the fighter of $1,000 yearly guarantee during the four years the partnership was in force.

Gen. John V. Clinnin, former chairman of the board, who represented Rapp, indicated no further action will be taken to enforce the contract. Immediately after the commission's decision, Abraham Marovitz, attorney for Paycheck, submitted a six year agreement between Johnny and Harold Steinman for the board's consideration at its next meeting Dec. 4.

Paycheck placed himself under the direction of Steinman after a dispute with Rapp three and a half years ago.

Davey Day, south side lightweight boxer, and Miss Marion Sylvia Koplan, 21 years old, daughter of the proprietor of a north side shoe store, have been married in Crown Point, Ind., it was learned yesterday. Day's correct name is David Deitch. After his return bout with Sammy Angott in Chicago Stadium Dec. 8 the newlyweds will go on honeymoon, probably to Hot Springs, Ark.

Promoters Ed White and Fred Kohler last night fixed conditions for five wrestling bouts which will be held under their auspices in the Coliseum tomorrow. The length of the windup between Bronko Nagurski and Danno O'Mahoney will be one hour. Supporting matches are scheduled for 30 minutes. These bring together Everett Marshall and Chief Saanooke, George Dusette and Joe Savoldi, Jack Conley and Seelie Samara, and Fritz Von Schacht and Cowboy Hughes. A substitute may have to be obtained for Von Schacht following a report issued yesterday by Dr. E. J. Buchan that Fritz will be unable to compete because of an injury. Von Schacht was slugged by spectators en route to his dressing room after a match with Hughes in White City last week and suffered a head injury. F. M.

The other game will match the Spencer Coal girls against an opponent yet to be selected.

BEARS CONTINUE TO HEAP PRAISE ON DAVE O'BRIEN

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

The Bears yesterday were still talking about little Davey O'Brien—and Cleveland. In awed tones they recounted the feats of aerial magic O'Brien performed against them Sunday when he completed 21 passes to set a new league record. And in between they burst forth with repeated cheers for the Rams, who defeated Detroit, 14 to 3, and sent the Bears into second place, one step nearer a playoff for the western division championship.

O'Brien's feat surpassed anything ever seen on Wrigley field, where next Sunday the Bears celebrate the 20th anniversary of their rechristening [in 1919 they were the Decatur Staleys] by closing their regular schedule against the Cardinals in the third annual homecoming game. Perhaps the most convincing proof of O'Brien's greatness was manifest in the solicitous attitude of the Bears who bore down on the little fellow for 59 minutes.

Davey Can Take It.

Only once in the entire game did they fail to pick him up and slap him on the back. That was in the third quarter when Dick Plasman hit him so hard that he himself was a little wobbly when he regained his feet.

O'Brien's record of 40 completions in 73 passes on consecutive week-ends also sets a National league record, which is all the more remarkable for having been compiled against Green Bay and the Bears.

Little Davey goes to the post twice this week, facing the Pirates at home on Thursday in a game postponed from early in the season, and in Pittsburgh on Sunday. Meanwhile the Green Bay Packers, perched alone at the top of the western division, will strive to remain there at the expense of Cleveland, to whom they lost, 27 to 24, earlier in the race.

Detroit Plays Washington.

Detroit, dealt a stunning blow in Cleveland Sunday when nine Rams played 60 minutes and came off with a 14 to 3 triumph, will seek to muster its cripples at Washington in defense of a waning hope for a share in the division title.

BEARS BREAK 2 RECORDS

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—The Chicago Bears have broken two National Football league records set by the Green Bay Packers. They have scored 250 points and gained a total of 3,586 yards in 10 games to surpass the Packers, who scored 223 points last year in 11 games and gained 3,201 yards in 1937.

The week old league team record of 21 completed passes in a game, set by Detroit, was tied by the Philadelphia Eagles when Davey O'Brien completed 21 against the Bears to break his own individual record.

A.A.U. to Vote on 15 Track, Swim Records

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—The Amateur Athletic union will be asked to approve 115 new records of American track and field and swimming stars at its convention in Hollywood, Fla., Dec. 8-10, Daniel J. Ferris, A. A. U. secretary-treasurer, said today.

Of the records, six were made by Allan Tolmich, Detroit hurdler, and five by Dick Hough, Princeton breast stroke swimmer. Two of Hough's marks will be forwarded to international bodies for consideration as world standards, as will one made by the New York A. C. 400 yard free style relay team.

Hough is credited with 1:07.3 for the 100 meter breast stroke, 2.2 seconds under the listed world mark. He also hung up a record of 2:22 for the 200 yard breast stroke. Jack Kasley's 2:22.5 is the present standard.

The New York team swam the 400 yard race in 3:31.3, one-tenth of a second faster than the current mark. Members of the quartet were Tom McDermott, Jim Reilly, Peter Fick, and Walter Spence.

John Borican, Elberon [N. J.] Shore A. C. runner, and Jane Dillard, Fort Worth breast stroke ace, have four records each up for consideration.

There are 29 fewer records to be considered this year than last. Ferris said men swimmers broke 44 records; men track and field stars, 41; women swimmers, 25; weight lifters, 3, and women track and field and men gymnasts, 1 each.

4TH MICHIGAN HUNTER KILLED IN DEER SEASON

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 20 (AP).—Gunfire in Michigan's deer hunting area claimed its fourth victim of the season today as the body of 19 year old Harold Eldridge of Cepac was found in the woods a few miles north of Shingleton in the upper peninsula.

The body was found by Emmett Anderson, hunting companion of Eldridge. Anderson informed state police that the charge from a gun had struck Eldridge in the face. Eldridge's discharged gun was found near the body.

Advices to the state highway and conservation departments report more than 500 deer brought across the straits of Mackinac in the first four days of the hunting season. The conservation department also reported the finding of 275 carcasses of does illegally killed.

Bill Would Ask Federal Rule Over Boxing

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—Representative A. J. Kennedy [Dem., Md.] announced today he is preparing legislation designed to place professional boxing under control of the federal government as "a means of cleaning up the sport."

As a result of serious study of professional boxing Representative Kennedy said he had reached the conclusion that championship matches appear to be in control of one man in New York City and that the result of some of these matches are "known in advance."

Will Ask National Control.

When congress convenes in January, Representative Kennedy proposes to introduce a bill to create a national boxing commission under direct control and supervision of a federal agency.

"My only interest is to promote cleaner sports and to give a fair opportunity to win to those seeking a national championship," he said. "Some fighters, tho qualified for a national championship have never had the opportunity because of the present setup of the fighting situation."

Charges Monopoly.

Representative Kennedy said he is in possession of information which leads him to believe there is "a pretty bad condition in the fighting game."

"I have been told that professional boxing is a racket," he declared. "I have been told, too, that the man in New York who controls championship fights not only controls the fights, but the boxers themselves. These men, it is said, fight only where this man says they can fight and sometimes these fighters are told in advance who is going to win and who is going to lose."

Allen, Hawks' Wing, Released from Hospital

George Allen, Blackhawks' left wing, was discharged from the Garfield Park hospital yesterday by Dr. H. F. Meacham, Hawks' physician, who, fearing a brain concussion as a result of Allen's crash into the boards in the third period of the Boston game Sunday night, had placed the player under observation. Boston won the game, 2 to 0.

The Hawks practiced for an hour at the Stadium yesterday, a procedure which will be followed daily in preparation for next Sunday's game against the Red Wings at Detroit. The only absentees from the workout were Earl Seibert, who is nursing a leg ligament injury, and Allen. Allen will participate in tomorrow's drill. Seibert will not be available for a week.

After the Detroit game the Hawks will return to Chicago to meet the Rangers on Thursday, Nov. 30.

NEWSPAPER AT NEBRASKA GIVES FOOTBALL A SLAP

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 20 [Special].—The University of Nebraska campus, stirred Saturday by its football team's 14 to 13 victory over Pittsburgh, was aroused yesterday by an editorial in the student newspaper which attacked the game and blamed it for death of Doug Davies in the annual freshman intrasquad meeting last Friday.

Entitled "When we die for the old alma mater is it worth the chips?" the editorial commented that "ancient Rome had her gladiators. Their business was to put on a show—to kill to main, to survive. Modern America has her football players."

Young Davies was the first fatality in the University's athletic history.

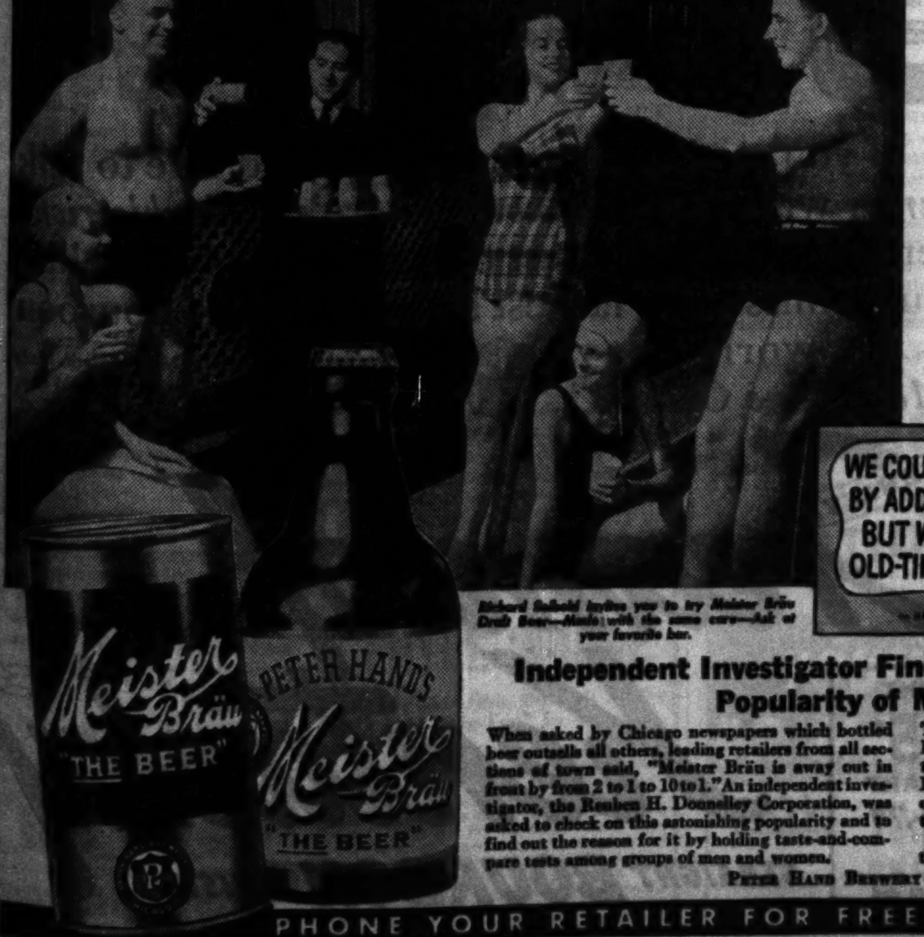
TUESDAY NIGHT SWIM CLUB VOTES

Meister Bräu Best—20 to 1—at private splash party, SOVEREIGN HOTEL POOL



Meister Bräu "THE BEER"
PETER HAND'S Meister Bräu "THE BEER"

When the Tuesday Night Swim Club held a private splash party in the beautiful pool of the Sovereign Hotel, 6200 N. Kenmore Ave., members and guests were asked to taste Meister Bräu Beer and compare its flavor with other brands. Then they were asked to vote their preference by secret ballot. By a landslide vote of 20 to 1 they proclaimed Meister Bräu the finest beer they ever tasted.

WE COULD SAVE TIME AND MONEY BY ADDING SUGARS AND SYRUPS BUT WE WON'T CHANGE OUR OLD-TIME, ALL-GRAIN FLAVOR

Richard Seibold invites you to try Meister Bräu Draft Beer—Made with the same care—Ask at your favorite bar.

Independent Investigator Finds the Reason for Amazing Popularity of Meister Bräu

When asked by Chicago newspapers which bottled beer outsells all others, leading retailers from all sections of town said, "Meister Bräu is away out in front by from 2 to 1 to 10 to 1." An independent investigator, the Reuben H. Donnelley Corporation, was asked to check on this astonishing popularity and to find out the reason for it by holding taste-and-compare tests among groups of men and women. These tests reveal that the flavor makes Meister Bräu the winner among bottled beers. They show that Chicagoans appreciate the determination of Richard Seibold, Meister Bräu Brewmaster, not to change that flavor by adding sugars or syrups, even though he could save time and money by so doing.

To see the difference taste and compare. Your retailer can supply you with Meister Bräu.

EVASHEVSKI'S RECOVERY BUOYS U. OF MICHIGAN

70,000 Crowd Expected for Ohio State Game.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 20 [Special].—Heartened by the thrilling 19 to 17 victory over Pennsylvania last Saturday, a spirited Michigan squad today set out to prepare for the season's climax game with Ohio State. For the first time this season the regulars were ordered into uniform for a Monday practice and snapped thru a light drill as the reserves scrimmaged with a freshman eleven.

Harmon Hurt Slightly.

The Wolverines were further encouraged by the condition of Quarter Back Forest Evashevski, who played against Penn with a bad ankle but suffered no ill consequences. Trainer Ray Roberts reported that Evashevski should be in close to top condition for the Buckeyes. Half Back Tom Harmon, who ran wild against Pennsylvania, also came out of the battle without serious injury, altho he suffered a bruised knee.

The rising spirits of players and fans have led officials to estimate a crowd in excess of 70,000 for the Ohio State game if fair weather prevails.

The Wolverines, rudely stopped in what their followers thought was a march to the Big Ten title, can do the next best thing by stopping their traditional rivals. Ohio can assure itself a clear claim to the championship by winning or tying. The Buckeyes can get no worse than a tie if they lose and Iowa wins from Northwestern, in which event the Hawkeyes would share the title.

HARMON FAR AHEAD

With only one week remaining in the season, Tom Harmon, Michigan's star half back, has the individual scoring championship of the Western conference virtually sewed up by a 24 point lead over his nearest rival. Harmon, playing outside the conference, made no advance last Saturday, but the standings below him underwent a general rivision.

Don Scott, Ohio State's fine blocking back, scored nine points against Illinois to move into a second place tie with Don Clauson of Northwestern and Edwin Prasse, Iowa captain and end, jumped into a fourth place tie with Jim Langhurst of Ohio State. Leading scorers:

Illini Get No Rest, Even Tho Chicago's Next

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 20 [Special].—Determined to make a good showing in its final game against the Maroons in Chicago Saturday, the Illinois football team deviated from the Monday custom of taking things easy and scrimmaged against the freshmen today.

The freshmen will leave Wednesday for the Thanksgiving vacation, and Coach Bob Zuppke wants to give the varsity as much work as possible against their version of Chicago formations.

Jimmy Smith was not in uniform today. His back was injured in the Ohio State game, but he expects to return tomorrow. John Kirschke led the varsity on the offense, plunging thru the freshman line for 15 to 20 yards a try. He was aided by Dave Miller and Ralph Bennett as the varsity scored three times.

HOWARD JOINS MAROONS.

The University of Chicago's football team, encouraged by its 25 to 0 victory over Oberlin last week, will go thru its only strenuous dummy scrimmage of the week this afternoon, in preparation for its game on Stagg field with Illinois Saturday.

Four of the five members of the team who were not out for practice regularly last week because of illness or injuries reported at yesterday's light loosening up session, with Tackle Dave Wiedemann the only member of the team not accorded a chance to play Saturday. He has been out with a leg injury since the game with Wabash Oct. 7. Full Back Bob Howard, who has been out of the lineup for three weeks because of a leg injury, probably will face the Illini, and Ted Howe, reserve full back, also is expected back. Walter Maurovich, guard, and Dick Lounsbury, end, both have recovered from illnesses.

Griffith, 70, Would Go to Baseball Again

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 (AP).—Clark Griffith—one of the grand old men of baseball—got a laugh on his 70th birthday anniversary today out of this question:

If you had the 70 years to live over again, what would you be?

"Baseball," he said, "would do."

There's scarcely a man in any branch of American sports whose life has been more wrapped up in his game than that of the president of the Washington Senators. Until 1907, Griffith was one of the best pitchers in baseball.

Born at Clear Creek, Mo., in 1869, Griffith is another man who started life in a log cabin.

In his early teens, Griffith and some other boys pooled their pennies one spring to buy a dollar ball. The boy who went on horseback to make the purchase handed over the ball and galloped away. The first time one of the lads hit the ball it broke wide open. The horseback rider had bought a 25 cent ball and pocketed the change.

Ever since then Griffith has realized that there are lots of tricks in baseball, and that they are not all on the diamond. The game calls him "the old fox."

His ball park holds many workers who are old friends and former players, and Griffith is known as one of the easiest targets in town for a touch.

MacMITCHELL WINS I. C. 4-A HARRIER TITLE

N. Y. U. Sophomore Beats Eastern Field.

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—Leslie MacMitchell, New York university's 19 year old unbeaten sophomore, defeated the east's leading college runners today in the I. C. 4-A's 31st cross-country meet in Van Cortlandt park.

MacMitchell, who won the freshman race last year, finished the six miles, 60 yards ahead of Lawrence Moriarty of Manhattan, with Bill Smith of Penn State, last year's winner, third.

Maine won the freshman team title.

MacMitchell, also a great miler, took the lead after the first mile and three-quarters and never was headed. He was well in front at the halfway mark and held to his advantage finishing with a spurt that carried him across the line in 26:28. His time was only five seconds slower than the record for the course established by Smith last year.

Manhattan finished five men in the first 15 to take the team title for the second straight year.

Michigan State, consistent winner of the team title until dethroned by Manhattan, was second. The Spartans finished five men among the first 18. The mid-westerners were led by Roy Fehr, who finished eighth in 27:20. Edward Mills was 13th; Dick Frey, 14th; Bill Mansfield, 17th, and Albert Mangan, 18th.

Cocker Spaniels Lead Entries in Coliseum Show

BY BOB BECKER.

The cocker spaniel, America's most popular dog, leads the entry list for the Western Specialty Clubs association show to be held Saturday and Sunday in the Coliseum. A total of 1,113 dogs of 24 breeds have been entered and 113 of these are cockers. Dobermann Pinschers are second with 92 entries, collies third with 78, and Great Danes four with 51.

Other breeds which are to compete and the number of entries in each are: Chihuahuas, 50; Boston terriers, 49; chow chows, 48; German shepherds, 48; Scottish terriers, 46; English setters, 45; schipperkes, 42; Irish setters, 41; bulldogs, 41; Pomeranians, 39; fox terriers [wirehaired and smooth], 39; boxers, 39; English springer spaniels, 38; dachshunds, [illegible]; Pekingese, 36; Sealyham terriers, [illegible]; Irish terriers, 31; bull terriers, [illegible]; airedale terriers, 28; standard schnauzers, 23.

One of the surprising features of the show is the record made by three toy breeds which will be represented in the competition. The entry of 50 Chihuahuas sets a new American record for the breed, beating the record of 47 entered in the Morris and Essex show held at Madison, N. J., last summer.

The Pomeranian also has established a new record for midwestern dog shows with its entry of 39. The Pekingese, a favorite toy breed in America, also has a high entry list of 36.

Altho several of the breeds have very large entries, the total entry for the whole show is not equal in numbers to that of recent years. Last year there were 1,257 dogs in the Western Specialty Clubs association fall show. In 1937 there were [illegible] dogs in the Coliseum when the show opened.

WISCONSIN DEER HUNTERS LIKELY TO SET A RECORD

Applications for Licenses Are Piling In.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 20 [Special].—The volume of early applications for deer hunting licenses indicates that last year's record, when 103,721 deer hunters reported the shooting of 32,855 bucks, probably will be exceeded, state conservation department officials said today.

The seven day deer season opens on Saturday. The limit for each hunter is one forked horn buck with an antler having a branch of at least one inch in length. Shooting may begin a half hour before sunrise.

Plentiful Supply Expected.

On the basis of reports from deer hunters during the archery season, conservation authorities predict that hunters will have little difficulty in finding legal game this year.

Pointing out that "every deer hunt is a possible forest fire hazard," E. J. Vanderwall, chief state forest ranger, urged sportsmen to exercise extreme care with fires because of the dry condition of northern Wisconsin's forested areas. State Conservation Warden Barney Devine began marshaling his forces for law enforcement purposes.

Hunting in 29 Counties.

The seven day open season will apply in the following counties: Adams, Ashland, Barron, Bayfield, Burnett, Chippewa, Clark, Douglas, Eau Claire, Florence, Forest, Iron, Jackson, Juneau, Langlade, Lincoln, Marathon, Marinette, Monroe [north of highway 16 only], Oconto, Oneida, Polk, Price, Rusk, Sawyer, Shawano, Taylor, Vilas, and Washburn, and in the towns of Cary, Wood, Hanson, Sigel, Dexter, Cranmoor, Seneca, Hyles, Remington, and Port Edwards in Wood county.

These towns are west of the Wisconsin river and south of State trunk highway 73.

STOCKS FINISH FIRM, BUT EARLY RISE FADES OUT

Favorable News Shows Little Influence.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 20.—The stock market ran into selling this afternoon after working higher in the morning. As a result gains were wiped out or pared. Closing prices were irregularly higher. Trading continued restricted, only 744,570 shares moving.

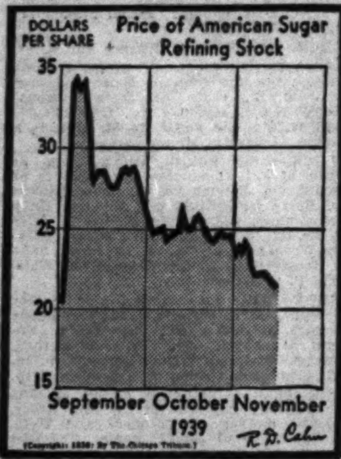
Indecision characterized the market. The list opened quiet, with fractional changes on both sides, then rallied under the leadership of steels. A modicum of offerings served to force the list downward again. Selling soon dwindled, but the undertone remained unsettled.

Observers ascribed the market's erratic performance to the absence of concrete developments. The new high estimated for steel production this week, it was said, had been discounted.

Dividends, Earnings Favorable.

Dividend and earnings announcements continued favorable, but they had little influence except to give a boost to the stocks of companies affected.

Steels closed mixed. Bethlehem and Youngstown slipped, while United States Steel and Republic held steady. Chrysler dropped a point, presumably on the delay in settling the strike. General Motors also finished lower. Truck shares closed little changed.



The graph shows the movement of American Sugar Refining stock since the start of war abroad.

The recently quiet United States Rubber issue showed some life today and bulged fractionally. Other rubbers ruled firm. Key coppers worked higher, with Anaconda active. Kennecott slipped a fraction, however. Oils closed irregularly higher. Aviations closed mixed in a narrow range, with Curtiss-Wright active on the up side. Most merchandising issues ruled lower.

Most Rail Issues Firm.

Rails gave a relatively good account, aided somewhat by the October statements coming to hand. Chesapeake and Ohio, Southern Railway, Atlantic Coast Line, Great Northern preferred, Santa Fe, and Pennsylvania closed steady to firm. New York Central eased a fraction. Power and Light shares closed fractionally lower.

Stocks up 1 to around 3 points included Masonite, Philip Morris, American Tobacco B, and du Pont. Modest improvement was posted for American Telephone, Southern Railway common and preferred, Omnibus Corporation, Cluett-Peabody, Safeway Stores, American Air Lines, and Westinghouse. Among losers were Western Union, Douglas Aircraft, Montgomery Ward, Allied Chemical, and J. I. Case.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

An abrupt decrease in receipts of hogs at all leading packing centers in the country checked the long decline at the Chicago stockyards yesterday. The general trade strengthened after a mostly steady opening and closed strong to 10 cents higher than at the close of last week.

Wholesale markets for fresh pork, which were loaded down with huge quantities of meat from last week's hog slaughter, weakened again as the result of competition from poultry. Prices of loins fell to new five year lows.

Another slight rise in the trade for slaughter lambs brought best grades to the highest price level since Nov. 8. Cattle met good demand at steady to 15 cents higher prices.

COTTON

Cotton prices were on the upgrade yesterday as the result of general buying induced by reports that England had purchased 150,000,000 pounds of Egyptian cotton and rumors that large quantities of the Indian crop would be taken. Closing trades were .07 to .17 cent higher with December at a new seasonal high price.

Mills and commission houses were fairly aggressive buyers of cotton futures. A better demand was reported for textiles. Bag manufacturers continue to purchase heavy sheetings and other textiles for delivery during the next three months.

England is reported to have purchased considerable Indian cotton to be used in the manufacture of sandbags and it is believed that this is responsible for the rumor that the English government will buy the entire Indian cotton crop.

Spot cotton closed .08 to .11 cent higher. New York, 9.98 cents; New Orleans, 9.87 cents; Galveston, 9.50 cents, and Houston at 9.40 cents a pound. Prices follow:

MORE SOAP EXPORTED.

Exports of soaps and toiletries in September were valued at about $1,000,000, or 44 per cent more than a year ago, the commerce department reports. With a number of European exporters unable to make normal deliveries, the report added, demand for American products is likely to continue upward.

As Values Change...

Investors find that by studying the financial news pages of The New York Times they are able to gauge the trend of their holdings. This is because The Times news of corporate and financial activities, of trade and domestic and world events, gives them a sound basis for judging security values. And the record shows that more investors read The Times than read any other general newspaper.

PEACE PREDICTED IN ROCHESTER'S FOOD STAMP ROW

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 20 (AP).—An official of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce said tonight he believed a solution will be found in the controversy between Rochester banks and the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation over charging fees for handling food plan stamps.

Roland B. Woodward, executive vice president of the chamber, acted as "impartial chairman" at a meeting of bankers and grocers who are alarmed over FSCC threats to withdraw the stamp plan if banks carry thru their proposal to levy a 1 per cent service charge Dec. 1.

Grocers earlier had suggested routing food stamps around the bank and direct to the local United States treasury disbursing office thru wholesalers. However, the FSCC was reported to consider banks the logical agency to handle the stamps.

Under the plan, blue stamps, of which one 25-cent denomination is given free when the relief client purchases two 25-cent orange ones, are good only for commodities designated as surplus. The orange stamps are exchangeable for any item in the store.

WHEAT PRICES END FIRMER IN ERRATIC TRADE

Drouth Continues in Big Producing Areas.

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

Closing prices on the May delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade:

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Yr. ago.
Wheat	$0.86	$0.85⅞	[illegible]
Corn	.53¼	.52⅝	[illegible]
Oats	.35⅝	.35⅜	[illegible]
Rye	.53¼	.53⅜	[illegible]
Soy beans	1.01¼	1.01½	[illegible]

Grain markets moved irregularly yesterday. Wheat was higher early but reacted later when some of the first buyers tried to take profits. Closing sales were ⅛ to ¼ cent higher. December wheat sold at 89 cents at one time, or within ¼ cent of the highest price of the season.

Altho there were good rains over the week-end in parts of eastern Kansas, and in Missouri and the Ohio valley, the big producing area west of the Missouri river received no moisture. Drouth conditions there are intensified. No prospect of relief was held out by a weather bureau forecast.

Rains May Come Too Late.

Even if rain is received in the dry areas in the immediate future, many experts express the belief that the grain will not make sufficient growth to survive the winter.

Rainfall in Missouri over the week-end ranged upward to 2 inches, and ½ inch or more was reported at many points in the Ohio river valley. This area, however, was in no immediate need of additional rainfall, having received substantial moisture early this month. Reports from central Illinois indicated the new wheat crop has shown improvement in the last few weeks.

Corn showed an easier undertone and closed ⅛ to ¼ cent lower. There were unconfirmed reports that 20,000 bushels had been sold for shipment from Gulf of Mexico ports to Europe. Country offerings remain small.

Soy Beans at New High.

December and May soy beans sold at new high prices for the season in the early trading yesterday as the result of buying by commission houses and professional traders. Profit taking and hedging caused a recession and the close was unchanged to ¼ cent lower.

The Winnipeg Grain exchange yesterday announced regulations which will permit United States citizens to trade directly in the Winnipeg grain market starting Dec. 1.

Previously under the foreign exchange control order, trading by nonresidents had been restricted to United States grain firms operating for their own accounts.

The new regulations of the board also provide that if margins are deposited in United States dollars, nonresident traders may receive profits on grain futures trading in the same currency.

WARNS ATTACK ON UTILITIES TO GROW STRONGER

Rep. May Forecasts 'Leftist' Thrust

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 (AP).—Representative May [D., Ky.] said in a statement tonight that "leftist" administration officials were preparing a new attack against private electric utilities.

Rep. Andrew J. May.

Referring to an address by John M. Carmody, federal works administrator, at the start of work today on the Santee-Cooper project in South Carolina, May said: "Mr. Carmody's blast against private enterprise in the utility industry, coming on Monday after a strangely similar attack on the same industry by David E. Lilienthal, TVA power director, on Saturday, sounds like a renewal of the socialist warfare on this industry.

"Real Attack" Coming.

"Without doubt, it is the opening gun of a propaganda barrage to pave the way for the real attack: Promotion of the proposed national power policy committee grid system."

In his address at Pinopolis, S. C., Carmody told his audience to be on guard against efforts to scuttle the $40,000,000 Santee-Cooper power navigation project.

The fight, he said, would be "brought to you in every shape and form—in the name of the wild birds and the hardwood trees; in the name of conservation, states' rights and constitutional law. But be not deceived. The central purpose is to deprive South Carolina of cheap power."

May said that Carmody's "dedication to the cause of cheap power omitted from the list of opponents of this fantastic power scheme the millions of American coal miners and other workers now dependent upon a dwindling and stranded coal and railroad industry for their bread."

Termed "Shabby Disguise."

He added that advocates of such projects conducted their campaigns "under the shabby disguise" of conservation of natural resources and national defense.

"To hide behind the stars and stripes as a disguise to accomplish a wholly un-American objective," he continued, "is a travesty on the democracy to which these leftists give such loud lip service."

Calling Carmody and Lilienthal the leaders of "a wrecking gang," May said he wanted to know when the government "in control of my party" was going to replace them with a "construction crew."

However, he said Carmody had "most likely made a valuable contribution of the public welfare by coming out in the open in advance of the next session of congress and frankly exposing his pent-up hatred and enmity toward our system of private enterprise."

"It is fortunate that the congress has learned not indirectly but first hand from the Public Works administrator himself what is to be his destructive policy before more taxpayers' money is handed over to him."

AUTO SALES GAIN 46 PCT. OVER TEN MONTHS OF 1938

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—The Automobile Manufacturers' association reported today that automobile retail sales in the United States during the first 10 months of this year totaled 2,624,738 units, an increase of 46 per cent over the like 1938 period. Passenger car sales were up 48.8 per cent, while commercial vehicle deliveries gained by 35 per cent.

During October, 236,180 passenger cars were sold, a gain of 75 per cent over the 134,984 sales of October, 1938. Truck sales totaled 40,978, a gain of 136 per cent over the 17,327 of October, 1938.

Rock Island's Trustees Offer Modified Plan

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 [Special].—The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway today proposed to the interstate commerce commission a modified plan of reorganization, under which some $70,000,000 of new common stock would be distributed to present stockholders. An I. C. C. examiner's proposed plan, submitted last September, eliminated preferred and common stockholders.

The modified plan offered today by the carrier trustees, James E. Gorman, Frank O. Lowden, and Joseph B. Fleming, proposes total capitalization for the road of $455,613,888, which contrasts with $306,497,380 proposed by the examiner in his reorganization proposal.

Differ on Fixed Charges.

Fixed charges under the company plan would amount to $4,901,076, while the I. C. C. plan suggested interest charges be cut to $2,438,547 from the $14,052,169 annual requirements at present.

The carrier, in a brief of exceptions to the recent examiner's recommended plan for revision of the large railroad system, today predicted that it will have available for interest in 1939 approximately $6,000,000.

There has been a recent marked improvement in earnings and this trend is continuing, officials of the road informed the commission. In 1938 the Rock Island had only $2,695,000 income available for interest, but during the first six months of 1939 income for fixed charges has exceeded the total for the first half of 1938 by $2,100,000.

Urges Road "Clean Up."

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 20 (AP).—A stockholder's suggestion that the Baltimore and Ohio railroad "wash the windows of its buildings" as the first step in a rehabilitation program highlighted a meeting of the railroad's stockholders today.

Harold B. Biehn, stone quarry operator of Washington Court House, O., made the suggestion.

"I'll bet the windows in B. & O. stations aren't washed once a year," Beihn said. "How can your employés and the public have any confidence in an organization that doesn't even wash the windows of its buildings?"

The stockholders reëlected 12 directors and adopted a resolution that stockholders should try to have government agencies reduce railroad taxes.

TREASURY PLANS EARLY OFFERING OF 500 MILLIONS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 [Special].—The treasury may be expected to borrow $500,000,000 of "new money" at an early date, Secretary Morgenthau said at his press conference today.

"I certainly will carry out the program before the first of the year," he said. "If the market continues the way it is I would say that it was fairly imminent. That doesn't mean tomorrow. Probably after the Thanksgiving holiday."

The treasury's weekly sale of $100,000,000 of 91 day bills brought an average price of $99.995 per $100 unit, equivalent to borrowing at a .018 per cent interest rate. Last week's rate was equivalent to .020 per cent.

Resume Hearings to Bar Truck Use at Week-End

The Illinois commerce commission today will resume hearings at Springfield on a petition of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen asking that motor trucks be ruled off the highways on week-ends and holidays.

TREASURY MAY GRANT TAX ADVANTAGES TO FIRMS AIDING DEFENSE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 (AP).—Treasury officials said today they were considering an extension of their policy to encourage construction of new airplane and other types of factories connected with national defense by granting more liberal depreciation allowances.

In applying the 10 per cent limitation on profits made on naval contracts the present policy enables an armament manufacturer to charge off as expenses in relatively few years the cost of building a factory. Officials said this was done on the theory that in a few years the plant may have outlived its usefulness.

In the years in which larger depreciation allowances are permitted, profits, as measured for tax purposes, are decreased by offsetting large amounts of depreciation against income. However, after all of the value of a new factory has been charged off, taxes might be higher for lack of such offsetting bookkeeping expenses.

The question of extending the practice has been brought to the attention of the treasury primarily by airplane manufacturers and the army and navy. The question has particular importance now because of the plans of some airplane manufacturers to build new factories to meet foreign orders.

Cuneo Press Stockholders Vote Two-for-One Splitup

The number of outstanding shares will be increased from 178,623 to 357,246. Stockholders also approved listing the shares on the New York Stock exchange.

SWIFT ACCUSES LABOR BOARD OF RULING BY WRIT

The National Labor Relations board was accused of attempting to govern by injunction yesterday in a brief filed in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals by attorneys for Swift & Co. The brief attacks a NLRB order in connection with the operation of Swift's East St. Louis, Ill., plant.

A hearing was held before the labor board several months ago in response to complaints filed by the Packinghouse Workers' Organizing committee [C.I.O.]. The company was ordered to cease interfering with the formation of labor organizations.

The NLRB has asked the Court of Appeals to enforce the order. The Swift brief contends that terms of the order have been complied with. It adds that certain findings were not justified by the complaint. Attempts to enforce these would be attempts to govern by injunction, it was said. Arguments will be heard Dec. 6.

STEEL OUTPUT ESTIMATED AT NEW HIGH MARK

HORSE AND BUGGY DAYS RETURN TO TAXICABS IN BROUGHAM DESIGN

The Chicago Yellow Cab company has resurrected a style of 25 years ago in ordering 600 new taxicabs to replace part of its fleet of 1,500. Benjamin Samuels, president, announced the purchase yesterday.

Benjamin Samuels.

A "brougham-type" top over the back seat can be lowered in warm weather, much as the top on the barouche of horse and buggy days was lowered. This part of the top will be of one-piece metal which slides out of sight behind the seat. The center portion of the top will be of glass, permitting a view of the skyscrapers for out of town visitors.

Samuels said the company hoped to get delivery on half of the order during January and February, when winter weather usually boosts business.

He added that the entire present fleet will be replaced in 1940 "if the market gives us a chance to get these cabs without a boost in price."

RFC Prepares to Expand Its Loan Activities

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 (AP).—Emil Schram, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, said tonight that "all banks have been asked to forward to the nearest RFC office any loan applications which they themselves are unwilling to approve."

Schram said that the corporation, wishing to make its "facilities available in every nook and corner of the country," had arranged for the Federal Housing administration and the Home Loan Bank board local offices "either to receive RFC applications or to refer the applicants to the appropriate RFC office."

No Alternative, He Says.

Schram declared that "there is no desire on the part of government to impose its services on the public. Yet, when in spite of every effort to encourage private lenders to meet the demands of sound business these lenders are unable or unwilling to do the job, there is no alternative."

"The RFC has had a far reaching effect upon the economic and social life of the nation," Schram asserted. This end has been achieved in part, he said, "by fostering the assurance that if private capital fails to perform its normal credit function the RFC is omnipresent, ready and able to lend a helping hand."

Asserts RFC Pays Its Way.

The corporation, he said, had collected more than three-fourths of its disbursed loans and has "paid its own way without appropriation, including its operating expenses and interest on the money it has borrowed."

Schram said that the agency had authorized loans aggregating $500,000,000 to 8,700 separate enterprises.

PLAN REFUNDING OF 200 MILLIONS IN UTILITY BONDS

New York, Nov. 20 [Special]. — Officials of the American Power and Light company and various subsidiaries were reported today to be studying a refunding plan which might mean the refinancing of more than $200,000,000 of bonds.

Altho the financing is not expected to be done immediately, preparations are being made so that the program may be initiated without delay if the present improvement in the bond market continues.

American Power and Light units whose refunding prospects are being investigated are Kansas Gas and Electric, Florida Power and Light, Texas Electric Service, and Texas Power and Light. These companies have more than $200,000,000 of 4½ and 5 per cent bonds outstanding.

ACCUSE TRUSTS OF SELLING OUT STOCKHOLDERS

SEC Tells Congress of Its Findings.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission charged today that many managers of investment trusts "sold their investors down the river" after the market crash of 1929.

In submitting to congress the fourth chapter of a report on investment trusts, the commission said that after the crash many managers were so anxious to get rid of their responsibilities that they permitted or encouraged others to get control of the trusts without looking to the interests of investors.

After 1929, the report said, "the managers of investment companies were burdened with the responsibilities of management, but the emoluments of such management had substantially diminished."

Reports Era of Transfers.

"An era of transfers of control and acquisition and amalgamation ensued," the report continued. "From 1929 to 1935, exchange offers of securities of closed-end management investment companies either in connection with a merger, consolidation, or dissolution of another such company or as a preliminary thereto, totaled $830,756,000."

The commission, which has been reported planning to ask congress for power to regulate mergers or ownership changes of investment trusts, charged that in some cases there was collusion between the old management and the new.

"Apparently for a consideration," it said, "some of these managers were induced to forego their fiduciary duties to their stockholders and either to coöperate actively with the acquirer in the effectuation of his objectives or at least to refrain from opposing those activities of the new management which would result in loss to the stockholders.

Policies Discontinued.

"In practically no instance of disposition of control did the retiring managements insist on the maintenance of the existing investment policies of their companies or retain a membership on the directorates.

"Usually, only a cursory investigation of the integrity, responsibility, and ability of the new management was made by retiring managements who had been well compensated for their transfer of control."

Stocks, Bonds

New York Bonds.

New York, Nov. 20 (AP). — Bonds showed independent firmness today in the face of a listless stock market. Indications that investment money was seeking employment appeared in another good rise in United States government issues and a number of low yield corporate bonds. Foreign bonds were mixed.

There was sizable volume in only a few of the federals, but closing gains ranged to 25/32ds of a point. As in earlier stages of the October-November upturn, it appeared that buyers found it necessary to step up bids progressively to bring out desired offerings.

Some rails finished a point or more ahead, and many more improved fractionally. Included were Rock Island general 4s of '88, Erie 5s of '75, New York Central 5s, and Missouri Pacific 5s of '77.

Chicago Stocks.

Commonwealth Edison rose ⅛ point on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday on sales of 3,000 shares. It closed at 31¼. Aetna Ball Bearing reached a new 1939 high at 13¾, but receded to finish at 13½ for a net gain of 1⅜. Marshall Field added ⅜ and Chicago corporation ⅛. Trading was light.

Bank Stocks.

The bid price of Harris Trust and Savings stock rose 4 points in steady bank stock trading yesterday, closing at 296 bid. First National gained a point to 231. Others were unchanged.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP).—Despite a fair amount of second hand offerings, demand for cotton goods was sluggish in Worth street textile markets today. Fair inquiry developed for heavy sheetings but mills were well sold up on most of the desired items. Prices remained nominally unchanged. Buying of lining cloths and acetate wash goods held up in the rayon division. A few offerings of acetate and rayon satins were reported at small concessions but these were confined to small lots of second hands. The silk trade remained hampered by high prices for the raw material.

Good demand appeared for overcoatings in woolen goods trade and business picked up in some types of women's wear.

MOTOR CONTRACT AWARDED.

The navy awarded a $20,400 contract today for ambulances to the Henney Motor company, Freeport, Ill., it was reported recently.

Foreign nations, particularly [illegible] trals, were reported yesterday to have purchased large amounts of American copper in the last few days. Prices ranged up to 13½ cents a pound delivered at New York, or 1 cent higher than the price quoted to domestic customers.

Biggest buyers were Russia, Hungary, Italy, and the Scandinavian nations. Russia's purchases, reported last week at 2,000 to 3,000 tons, were said to have exceeded [illegible] tons. Hungary was reported to have bought 5,000 tons and was [illegible] for more.

New York copper futures, however, took the news in stride and closed .03 cent a pound higher to .01 cent lower. Sales of copper to domestic consumers this month to date totaled 37,632 tons, compared with [illegible] tons in the corresponding October period.

Tin futures advanced ¼ to ¾ cent a pound. Cocoa and wool tops were the only other staples recording gains. Slightly lower were sugar, coffee, hides, and zinc. Silk and rubber finished irregular.

LOOP BANK MAY VOTE REDUCED INTEREST TODAY

A reduction in interest rates on savings accounts in the five leading downtown banks will probably be voted at bank directors' meetings today or within the next three weeks, inquiry disclosed yesterday. Executive heads of the five banks agreed last week to recommend to their directors a slash in rates from 1½ to 1¼ per cent, effective Jan. 1.

Directors of the City National Bank and Trust company and of the Northern Trust company are scheduled to meet today to discuss or adopt the proposal. A meeting of First National Bank of Chicago directors is set for later this week. Board members of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company will meet Dec. 8 and those of the Harris Trust and Savings bank on Dec. 13.

Jan. 1 is the next semi-annual interest date. Most of the banks are required to give their depositors about thirty days' notice of a cut in savings deposit interest rates.

GM AND AVIATION.

What is the connection between the Allison Engineering company and General Motors? What interests does GM have in the aviation industry? —B. F.

Answer: General Motors corporation acquired the Allison Engineering company of Indianapolis, Ind., in 1929. This subsidiary is engaged primarily in the manufacture and development of liquid-cooled engines for airplanes. Emphasis has been placed by the company on engineering research. Allison also produces bearings for aircraft and for Diesel engines and machine tools.

General Motors' aviation affiliations include a 24 per cent stock ownership in the Bendix Aviation corporation and a 29 per cent equity in North American Aviation, Inc. Thru Bendix, General Motors has a stake in the manufacture of airplane parts and instruments, and thru North American Aviation, in the production of aircraft, intended mainly for military use.

TRUCK TRAILERS.

What is the business of the Fruehauf Trailer company? Where are its plants? Please give me a report on the company.—K. D.

Answer: The Fruehauf Trailer company is a leading manufacturer of automobile truck trailers with capacities from 2 to 50 tons. Motive power for the trailers is supplied by tractor trucks made by various motor companies. Fruehauf does not manufacture the tractors.

The main plant of the company is at Detroit, but assembly lines are operated also at Los Angeles, Kansas City, Mo., and Toronto, Ont.

The company has outstanding 400,000 shares of $1 par common stock and $1,340,000 in 4½ per cent debenture notes due 1947. Cash dividends have been paid on the stock each year since 1929, except in 1933. In 1938, 25 cents a share was paid, and in 1937 $1 a share on the present stock [after a two-for-one splitup] and 10 cents on the old stock. This year three dividends of 25 cents each were disbursed, the last on Oct. 25.

Operations were profitable in each of the last 11 years, but net income in 1932 and 1933 was small. Net profit reached a peak of $875,326, or $5.32 a share in 1936. In 1937 net income slipped to $514,611, or $1.29 a share and in 1938 to $264,619, or 66 cents a share.

In the first half of 1939 net income spurted to $702,153, or $1.76 a share. This was more than double the entire profit of 1938 and far ahead of 1937 net income. Net loss in the first half of 1938 was $111,614.

The expansion of the company's business this year is seen in the estimated sales for the first 8 months this year, which rose 140 per cent to about $8,750,000 over those of the corresponding period of 1938. Sales in the peak year [1936] were $9,705,799.

ASSURES REGARD FOR CONSUMERS IN PRICING COAL

Federal Bureau Replies to Protests.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20 (AP).—Representative Bolles [R., Wis.] was advised by the bituminous coal division today that prices established by the division under the 1937 coal act would have "due regard for the interest of the consuming public."

The coal division letter, over the signature of H. A. Gray, director, was in reply to a protest by Bolles that a proposed 50 cent per ton mine price advantage for coal shipped on the Great Lakes would be injurious to coöperatives and dealers who bring their coal into Wisconsin via rail routes.

Gray answered that the matter still was the subject of hearings and that no final decision would be made until a mass of evidence had been studied. Gray also called attention to the consumers' counsel division of the interior department as an agency "available to assist consumers in connection with such matters."

Consumer Groups Protest.

As a result of protests by the Racine consumers' coöperative the Whitewater Consumers' Coöperative association and the Appleton Coöperative association, Bolles wrote both to the coal commission and to the White House.

Aids of the Wisconsin congressman said today that no reply had been received from Stephen Early, presidential secretary. Bolles had asked Early to lay the matter before President Roosevelt. A copy of the letter to Early in Bolles' files was dated Nov. 9.

In his protest to the division, which is the successor to the old bituminous coal commission, the congressman declared:

"I have two ports, Racine and Kenosha, and if you will make an investigation, you will find that the coal shipped under the lower price at the mines granted to lake shippers is not an advantage to the consumer, since the consumer in most cases pays as much as the rail shipments. The injustice is therefore not only to the consumer but the dealer in coal who is obliged to use the all-rail shipment facilities in delivering coal to the consumer."

Efforts of the Carter Coal company of New York to obtain confidential sales data from its bituminous coal competitors failed today when examiners conducting the final price fixing hearing denied the company's motion for the information.

Split Over Coal Sales Data.

The Carter company filed a motion two weeks ago demanding that the examiners require the bituminous coal division of the interior department to make public the confidential sales data filed with the division by coal producers in the eastern bituminous field. It asked that it be done before the division handed down its decision on final prices.

Some of the country's largest coal companies in Pennsylvania and West Virginia protested against the motion saying it was just "a fishing expedition" by the Carter company to obtain the confidential information concerning their production and sales. Coal division officials estimated that it would require 55 weeks of its statistical division working 24 hours a day to prepare the data.

VOTE DIVIDEND IN LIQUIDATION OF RAIL CONCERN

New York, Nov. 20 (AP).—E. Asbury Davis, receiver for the Chesapeake corporation, announced today a distribution on Nov. 30 of common stock of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway in the amount of 6/10 of a share for each share of Chesapeake corporation held.

By the terms of the distribution, which is in line with program for liquidating the Chesapeake corporation, about 1,067,780 shares of C. and O. common stock will be apportioned among holders of the 1,799,745 outstanding shares of Chesapeake corporation.

The Alleghany corporation, as owner of 71 per cent of Chesapeake corporation, would receive approximately 766,800 shares of C. and O.

LOAN OFFICIAL PROVES VALUE OF ADVERTISING

John F. Scott of St. Paul, addressing the annual meeting of the Council of Savings and Loan associations last night at the Knickerbocker hotel asserted that "at least 50 per cent of any association's advertising should be done thru newspapers. You'll find that the advertising dollar will be the best dollar you've ever spent."

Scott, in emphasizing the value of advertising, pointed to the success of the Minnesota Federal Savings and Loan association, of which he is president. "In 1936," he said, "our assets totaled $4,000,000. Now they exceed $16,000,000. A large share of that increase can be traced to advertising."

The meeting was attended by members of 50 associations in the Chicago area.

HELP WANTED—MEN.

Salesmen.

Do Not Misunderstand—

You cannot make money here unless you earn it, and some men who apply to us fail to fulfill the requirements. But we have found, also that many men who never previously even thought they could do work of this kind have found it to be just the opportunity they sought for years and are now making more money than they ever previously dreamed of making. We have men making up to $500 a month or more—others $400-$300-$250.

This is a genuine opportunity. It costs nothing to try. The training preliminary practice and guidance available are free. If you can do the job you can make real money and have the assurance of its permanency together with splendid future possibilities.

In Chicago our men are making more cash money than at any previous time. [Percentage]. The coming year will be of unlimited possibilities to those who get at this elec. unit business successfully now.

If you are of good reputation, active, alert, willing to learn and to work hard every day to make a genuine success in return for the privilege of a genuine opportunity in a permanent connection with good people who will deeply interest themselves in helping you to get started and to get along—make your application Tuesday morning, Nov. 21, 10:30 to 11 a. m.—LA SALLE HOTEL.

We have tried to state the facts and requirements clearly. This is a straightforward offer of sincere intent to worthy men who are in need of good substantial opportunity. Please do not apply for these openings unless you feel you can meet the requirements. Applicants will be personally interviewed. See MR. LARSEN.

IS IT YOU?

Somewhere in or near Chicago is a man who will meet our requirements. He must be on the road up, either married or aiming to make this step as soon as possible. This is a new field of opportunity in sales work. Calls for men with ambition and determination for high earnings. Age 28-45. Any selling experience will be an asset. We will train you in our progressive educational enterprise by showing you actual results in the field. Owing to recent promotions we are seeking two men to fill managerial positions of executives that have recently been transferred. Earnings on substantial percentage to start. We work on permanent lead contact system. No canvassing. Apply Tuesday, Personnel Director, 608 S. Dearborn-st., Room 807, 11 to 12 and 2 to 4 p. m.

Residents of Illinois have benefited by this new "SPECIAL" Loan Plan.

As little as $2.00 to $2.26 a week repays in full, including all charges, a $150 loan over 20 months at America's largest loan company. No salary assignments.

$2.00 a week on the average is all you need to set aside for every $150 borrowed on Personal's new amazing "Special" loan plan of only 1⅛% per month on the actual balance owed. This plan is for persons with a steady income of salary sufficient to meet payments promptly without undue credit strain and a good credit record. You don't need co-makers, life insurance, or bankable securities.

For persons without established credit and employment ratings and who wish to carry a loan larger than 8% to 12% of annual salary or income, Personal offers its "Regular" loan plan. On this plan an average of $2.26 set aside per week takes care of everything on a $150 loan—the charge is based on 3% monthly on unpaid balances of $100 and less and 2% monthly on unpaid balances over $100.

Loans up to $300 on either plan on your personal note or with furniture or auto. Co-maker loans are also available on "Regular" plan. Seize this opportunity to save on loan costs. Come in or telephone today
